Sharing Literature With Children:

For Reading Out Loud! Margaret Mary Kimmel, Elizabeth Segel, Betsy Byars, 1983 For Reading Out Loud shows how to enrich children's lives and improve their reading skills through this inexpensive enjoyable activity. The authors explain why it is important to read aloud all through the childhood years and suggest how to find or make the time to do it at home and in the classroom. They discuss effective ways of reading and recommend what to read describing in detail more than 140 books that have time tested appeal to children. Sharing the Journey: Literature for Young Children David Yellin, 2017-05-12

This wonderful resource from two authors with an infectious enthusiasm for children's literature will help readers select and share quality books for and with young children. Specifically focused on infants through the third grade Sharing the Journey contains descriptive book annotations, instructive commentary and creative teaching activities tailored for those important years. Extensive book lists throughout will help readers build a library of quality children's literature. Books representing other cultures are included to help celebrate diversity as well as cultural connection. Genre chapters include poetry, fantasy and realistic and historical fiction. A chapter on informational books demonstrates how young children can be introduced to and learn to enjoy nonfiction. Sharing Books, Talking Science Valerie Bang-Jensen, Mark Lubkowitz, 2017

Science is everywhere in everything we do see and read. Books all books offer possibilities for talk about science in the illustrations and text once you know how to look for them. Children's literature is a natural avenue to explore the seven crosscutting concepts described in the Next Generation Science Standards and with guidance from Valerie Bang-Jensen and Mark Lubkowitz you will learn to develop the mindset necessary to think like a scientist and then help your students think talk and read like scientists. Sharing Books Talking Science is an engaging and user friendly guide that provides practical real world understandings of complex scientific concepts using children's literature. By demonstrating how to work in a very familiar and comfortable teaching context read aloud to address what may be less familiar and comfortable content scientific concepts Valerie and Mark empower teachers to use just about any book in their classroom to help deepen students understanding of the world. Valerie and Mark supply you with everything you need to know to get to the heart of each concept including a primer, questions and strategies to spot a concept and ways to prompt students to see and talk about it. Each chapter offers a list of suggested titles many of which you probably already have to help you get started right away as well as topic spotlight sections that help you connect the concepts to familiar topics such as eating seasons bridges size and water. With Sharing Books Talking Science you will have the tools and confidence to explore scientific concepts with your students. Learn how to talk science with any book so that you can infuse your curriculum with scientific thinking even when you aren't teaching science.
