The Curious History of Love Jean-Claude Kaufmann,2011-12-12 The one emotion that matters most to many people is the one about which social thinkers rarely speak love For many people love is the thing that matters most in their lives they are searching for love hoping to find in love a kind of happiness that they cannot find in their work or by surrounding themselves with material goods But where does this peculiar and powerful blending together of love and happiness come from and why do we find it such a compelling idea today In this short book Jean Claude Kaufmann offers a fresh account of the history of a feeling unlike any other The modern idea of love as passion was born in the 12th century but it was marginalized by the rise of a kind of instrumental calculating reason that became increasingly central to modern societies As calculating reason began to encroach on the personal domain many individuals sought to escape from it searching for happiness elsewhere As our societies become dominated by calculating reason and selfish individualism we search elsewhere for the kind of happy love that will heal all our wounds This is why we experience so many changes of heart in our personal lives at times we are coldly calculating and then a few moments later we sacrifice ourselves to love without a second thought Written by one of France's leading sociologists this highly readable book sheds new light on love and happiness and will resonate with many readers Marilyn's Meditations

The Seduction of Pessimism in the Novel Tom Ribitzky, 2024-10-18 The Seduction of Pessimism in the Novel Eros Failure and the Quarrel with Philosophy explores the novel as a response to the Platonic myth that narrates the rift at the core of our being Eros is supposedly the consolation for this rift but the history of the novel documents its expression as one of frustrated desires neuroses anxieties and cosmic doom As if repeating the trauma from that original split in Plato a split that also divides philosophy from literature the novel treats eros as a site of loss and grief from the medieval romances to Goethe Bront Proust Mann Woolf Lawrence and Nabokov The pessimism that emerges from this eros tells us something fundamental about who we are something that only the novel can say At a time when both education and leisure are increasingly ignoring the novel's imperative to sit with ambiguity complexity and contingency and as we are hurtling toward a bleak future of climate catastrophe and political instability the novel is one of the last bastions of humanity even as it is quickly being eroded

Sexuality, Gender & Education Joseph Tham, L.C., 2018-03-15 The debates on gender and sexuality are widespread today Many claim that a cultural war is being waged between conservatives who uphold the time honored values of family and sexuality and liberals who promote an agenda to redefine these traditional roles Since the public is often uninformed about the science and philosophical currents undergirding the questions of gender and sexuality the Pontifical Athenaeum Regina Apostolorum organized an academic symposium in Rome to shed light on the debate This book gathers the insights of that symposium which integrated the disciplines of medicine neuroscience psychology psychiatry history philosophy moral theology biblical studies law bioethics and pedagogy This work is aimed at Catholics and all those who seek a more profound understanding of one of today's most important topics In the personalist approach of bioethics the natural law tradition distinguishes the person from his or her acts In the case of same sex attractions the Church teaches clearly that the inclination is not in itself sinful and that persons with such attractions are deserving of respect and compassion in accord with their full human dignity Nonetheless same sex acts are not natural or ordered The Church strives to build bridges with the LGBT community by fostering a relationship of compassion sensitivity and mutual respect However real bridges also require honesty and openness to the truths that pertain to human sexuality procreation the family and the education of future generation
