Kavanagh, 2015-11-16 The literature and art of the French Enlightenment is everywhere marked by an intense awareness of the moment The parallel projects of living in representing and learning from the moment run through the Enlightenment s endeavors as tokens of an ambition and a heritage imposing its only and ultimately impossible cohesion In this illuminating study Thomas M Kavanagh argues that Enlightenment culture and its tensions contradictions and achievements flow from a subversive attention to the present as present freed from the weight of past and future Examining a wide sweep of literary and artistic culture Kavanagh argues against the traditional view of the Age of Reason as one of coherent recognizable ideology expressed in a structured narrative form In literature he analyzes the moment at work in the inebriating lightness of Marivaux s repartee the new found freedom of Lahontan s and Rousseau s ideals of a consciousness limited to the present Diderot s championing of Epicurean epistemology Graffigny s portrayal of abrupt cultural displacement and Casanova s penchant for chance s redefining moment The moment in art theory and practice is explored in such forms as de Piles s defense of color Du Bos s foregrounding of perception Watteau s indulgence in a corporeal present Chardin s dismantling of mimesis and Boucher s and Fragonard s thematics of desire

Cultivated Power Elizabeth Hyde,2005-03-07 Cultivated Power explores the collection cultivation and display of flowers in early modern France at the historical moment when flowering plants many of which were becoming known in Europe for the first time piqued the curiosity of European gardeners and botanists merchants and ministers dukes and kings Elizabeth Hyde reveals how flowers became uniquely capable of revealing the curiosity reason and taste of those elite men who engaged in their cultivation The cultural and increasingly political value of such qualities was not lost on royal panegyrists who seized upon the new meanings of flowers in celebrating the glory of Louis XIV Using previously unexplored archival sources Hyde recovers the extent of floral plantations in the gardens of Versailles and the sophisticated system of nurseries created to fulfill the demands of the king s gardeners She further examines how the successful cultivation of those flowers made it possible for Louis XIV to demonstrate that his reign was a golden era surpassing even that of antiquity Cultivated Power expands our knowledge of flowers in European history beyond the Dutch tulip mania and restores our understanding of the importance of flowers in the French classical garden The book also develops a fuller perspective on the roles of gender rank and material goods in the age of the baroque Using flowers to analyze the movement of culture in early modern society Cultivated Power ultimately highlights the influence of curious florists on the taste of the king and the extension of the cultural into the realm of the political

God and Enchantment of Place David Brown,2004-10-14 David Brown argues for the importance of experience of God as mediated through place in all its variety He explores the various ways in which such experiences once formed an essential element in making religion integral to human life and argues for their reinstatement at the centre of theological discussions about the existence of God

In effect the discussion continues the theme of Brown's two much praised earlier volumes Tradition and Imagination and Discipleship and Imagination in its advocacy of the need for Christian theology to take much more seriously its relationship with the various wider cultures in which it has been set. In its challenge to conventional philosophy of religion the book will be of interest to theologians and philosophers and also to historians of art and culture generally. The Mottled Screen Mieke Bal, 1997. In The Mottled Screen the author challenges the view that literary texts cannot be examined by words alone, arguing that images also play a role in the interpretation process. Dialogues between Media Paul Ferstl, 2021-01-18. Comparative Literature is changing fast with methodologies, topics and research interests emerging and re-emerging. The fifth volume of ICLA 2016 proceedings Dialogues between Media focuses on the current interest in inter-arts studies as well as papers on comics studies, further testimony to the fact that comics have truly arrived in mainstream academic discourse. Adaptation is a key term for the studies presented in this volume; various articles discuss the adaptation of literary source texts in different target media: cinematic versions, comics adaptations, TV series, theatre and opera. Essays on the interplay of media beyond adaptation further show many of the strands that are woven into dialogues between media and thus the expanding range of comparative literature. Aesthetic Value Alan Goldman, 2018-02-20. This book focuses on the question of aesthetic value, using many practical examples from painting, music and literature. Alan Goldman argues for a non-realist view of aesthetic value, showing that the personal element can never be factored out of evaluative aesthetic judgments.

Semiotics of Programming Kumiko Tanaka-Ishii, 2010-03-22. Considers what computers can and cannot do, analysing how computer sign systems compare to humans through a concept of reflexivity. Chopin's Move Jean Echenoz, 2004. With his trademark comically wry phrasing and a sure eye for quirky detail, Echenoz has produced his oddest and most enjoyable novel to date. Chopin's Move interweaves the fates of Chopin, entomologist and recalcitrant secret agent Oswald, a young foreign affairs employee who vanishes en route to his new home, Suzy who gets enmeshed in a tangle of deceit and counterdeceit, the mysterious Colonel Seck whose motivations are never quite what they seem, and a typically Echenozian supporting cast of neurotic bodyguards, disquieting functionaries and crafty double agents. As the plot thickens, the characters become embroiled in layer upon layer of deception and double dealing, leading them further into a world in which nothing can be taken at face value and in which reality hinges on apparently harmless coincidence. New Approaches to

Transcodification Massimo Fusillo, Dorian Legge, Mirko Lino, Mattia Petricola, Gianluigi Rossini, 2025-08-04. This collection aims to renew our perspective on adaptation and intermedial processes by thinking of them in terms of codes rather than media. As a result, the notion of transcodification emerges as a crucial tool in order to study the circulation of semiotic and aesthetic resources across disciplines, knowledge systems and cultures. Defined as the transfer of meaning-making potential from one semiotic domain to another, transcodification both includes and transcends intermediality, thus dramatically expanding the scope and research potential of adaptation and intermedial studies. The essays collected here apply this framework to an incredibly wide variety of objects and issues from the relationship between art and historiography to the visual culture of finance from contemporary approaches to ekphrasis to the hidden labor of screenwriters from modern surveillance to digital comics from fansubbing to the reception of the classical world in the digital age from medieval theater to the role of videogames in the war on terror By fostering dialogue between radically different disciplines the book offers a unique approach to the study of semiotic interrelations across the most diverse aspects of human culture
