

TO THE PASSENGERS on the bus Cochetería de la México travelling between the capital and San Luis Potosí in four hours, more or less, once out of the ever-spreading suburbs that ring the city of México there is little to break the monotonous gradient of the high plains. For most of the journey, the bus traverses a dry upland country, only gradually firmer, that runs in scarcely perceptible undulations toward distant mountains the color of twilight. Occasionally some cattle are grazing single file along the dried-up bed of an arroyo. Once or twice a countryman is hurrying his donkeys across the highway with the help of a stout rope and a handle of twigs that serves as a switch. Now and then the passengers who have not dozed off in their reclining seats, or lost themselves in a newspaper or book, may notice a kind of interruption in the continuous vacancy of the countryside, a house perhaps so unimpaired by the vastness of the surrounding country that it does its best to conceal itself. Low, built of mud bricks, roofed with thatch or the broad curved leaves of the agave cactus, and enclosed by a mud wall or a living fence of cactus cactus, its camouflage is perfect.

In such a rancherías, set well back from the main road and reached only by a straggling dirt track over which the Señor Tío hesitated to risk his expensive car, Julia lived where she had grown up with her sister, Lucía Florencia, the wife of the Señor Tío.

Inside the house there is a ferment of activity like that inside an ant hill. Evening has fallen, and the men are home from the fields. In the darkening patio with its floor of packed earth, crowded with flowering plants bedded out and in literary forms the history of narrative forms the history of the book the history of media and the history of higher education in the United States The Novel of the Spanish Civil War (1936-1975) Gareth Thomas, 1990-05-25 This is a major English study of the novels of the Spanish Civil War The book is based on an analysis of some eighty Spanish novels written in Spain and abroad in exile during the Franco period 1936 1975 in which the Civil War is the major theme The Sons of El Rey Alex Espinoza, 2025-06-10 A masterful mesmerizing and unflinching Patricia Engel New York Times bestselling author story about a family of luchadores contending with forbidden love and secrets in Mexico City Los Angeles and beyond Ernesto Vega has lived many lives from pig farmer to construction worker to famed luchador El Rey Coyote yet he has always worn a mask He was discovered by a local lucha libre trainer at a time when luchadores Mexican wrestlers donning flamboyant masks and capes were treated as daredevils or rock stars Ernesto found fame rapidly gaining name recognition across Mexico but at great expense nearly costing him his marriage to his wife Elena Years later in East Los Angeles his son Freddy Vega is struggling to save his father's gym while Freddy's own son Julian is searching for professional and romantic fulfillment as a Mexican American gay man refusing to be defined by stereotypes With alternating perspectives Ernesto and Elena take us from the ranches of Michoacán to the makeshift colonias of Mexico City Freddy describes his life in the suburban streets of 1980s Los Angeles and the community their family built as Julian descends deep into our present day culture of hook up apps lucha burlesque shows and the dark underbelly of West Hollywood The Sons of El Rey is an epic and transporting novel Alejandro Varela National Book Award finalist and author of The Town of Babylon of a family wading against time and legacy yet always choosing the fight A History of the Spanish Novel J. A. G. Ardila, 2015 A History of the Spanish Novel is the only volume in English that offers comprehensive coverage of the history of the Spanish novel from the sixteenth century to the present day with chapters written by some of the world leading experts in the field Opera for Everyone Megan Steigerwald Ille, 2024-04-15 Opera for Everyone The Industry's Experiments with American Opera in the Digital Age draws on seven years of multi-sited ethnography to examine the acclaimed experimental productions of Los Angeles based opera company The Industry Steigerwald Ille understands The Industry's productions as part of an emerging wave of U.S. operas that integrate new media and interactive performance through means such as site specificity and simulcast video and then traces the company's path from Crescent City 2012 the company's first production to Sweet Land 2020 the company's final production before switching to a new production model Steigerwald Ille argues that by moving opera outside of the opera house The Industry's productions expose the economic and aesthetic structures key to the circulation of operatic performance at the same time that they deploy opera as a tool for digital listening community engagement popular entertainment and commentary on systemic racism and settler colonialism Through ethnographic work with The Industry's creators and performers and close examination of the company's first decade of work this book reveals how The Industry paradoxically provides both a roadmap and boundary line for experimental and traditional companies trying to find new ways to approach operatic performance in the twenty first century United States Gender and Nation in the Spanish Modernist Novel Roberta Johnson, 2003 Offering a fresh revisionist analysis of Spanish fiction from 1900 to 1940 this study examines the work of both men and women writers and how they practiced differing forms of modernism As Roberta Johnson notes Spanish male novelists emphasized technical and verbal innovation in representing the contents of an individual consciousness and thus were more modernist in the usual understanding of the term Female writers on the other hand were less aesthetically innovative but engaged in a social modernism that focused on domestic issues gender roles and relations between the sexes Compared to the more conventional even reactionary ways their male counterparts treated such matters Spanish women s fiction in the first half of the twentieth century was often revolutionary The book begins by tracing the history of public discourse on gender from the 1890s through the 1930s a discourse that included the rise of feminism Each chapter then analyzes works by female and male novelists that address key issues related to gender and nationalism the concept of intrahistoria or an essential Spanish soul modernist uses of figures from the Spanish literary tradition notably Don Quixote and Don Juan biological theories of gender prevalent in the 1920s and 1930s and the growth of an organized feminist movement that coincided with the burgeoning Republican movement This is the first book dealing with this period of Spanish literature to consider women novelists such as Maria Martinez Sierra Carmen de Burgos and Concha Espina alongside canonical male novelists including Miguel de Unamuno Ramon del Valle Inclan and Pio Baroja With its contrasting conceptions of modernism Johnson s work provides a compelling new model for bridging the gender divide in the study of Spanish fiction Short Fiction By Hispanic Writers of the United States Nicol's Kanellos, 1993-01-01 Short Fiction by Hispanic Writers of the United States includes representative works by the most celebrated Cuban American Mexican American and Puerto Rican writers of short fiction in the country The texts cover a full range of expression themes and styles of US Hispanics and are introduced by informative entries which place the authors in their cultural and historic frameworks In these pages the reader will not find picturesque folksy or touristy renditions of Hispanic culture Instead Short Fiction by Hispanic Writers of the United States brings together works that are clear incisive and authentic representations of Hispanic life in the United States The selections are as diverse as Hispanic culture itself and as varied as the personalities of their authors Here are Max Mart nez s outrageous challenge of racial and social structures Roberta Fern ndez s construction of Hispanic women s aesthetics Roberto Fern ndez s subversion of the English language Nicholasa Mohr s humorous attack on patriarchy and Judith Ortiz Cofer s poetic evocation of childhood and biculturalism This collection engages in aesthetic and cultural experience that will result in a re defined canon and a new identity for the country as whole They are re focusing our perception of ourselves as a people and a culture The pressure and the commitment to do so of course make for excellence and innovation in literary expression It also makes for enjoyable reading Short Fiction by Hispanic Writers of the United States is recommended for the general fiction reader and for use in high school and college literature classes in search of a multicultural perspective The Novel Histories of Galdos Diane Faye Urey, 2014-07-14 Benito Perez Galdos 1843 1920 occupies a position in Spanish literature surpassed only by Cervantes and like him made a major contribution to the European novel that is now becoming widely recognized In a semiological approach to the second period of Episodios Nacionales Diane Urey demonstrates the relevance of these twenty six novels the least studied of Galdos s works to fundamental issues such as the relationship between history and fiction and between mimesis and creation Her findings of ambiguity irony and allegory in this writer s highly self conscious historical novels will revise our views of Galdos s place in European letters while offering new insights into a general theory of historical fiction Diane Urey offers an alternative to referential or ideological interpretations of the Episodios by stressing the indeterminate textuality of historical incidents and the fictionality of historical discourse Drawing on Derrida De Man Foucault and Hayden White she applies a wide range of narrative theory to these texts and concludes that novel and history are interchangeable modes of discourse because they rely necessarily on the same narrative strategies Originally published in 1989 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Passion and Craft Bonnie Lyons, Bill Oliver, 1998 Collection of interviews with 12 contemporary fiction writers Galdos and the Art of the European Novel Stephen Gilman, 2014-07-14 Benito Perez Galdos 1843 1920 was one of Spain s outstanding novelists and the author of two vast cycles of novels and a number of plays In this critical study of Galdos in English Stephen Gilman relates the writer and his work to the nineteenth century novel as a genre and traces his artistic growth during a twenty year period from his initial historical fable La Fontana de Oro to his masterpiece Fortunata y Jacinta Originally published in 1981 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 The Uncomfortable Dead (What's Missing Is Missing) Subcomandante Marcos, Paco Ignacio Taibo, 2025-07-01 A stylized reissue of the acclaimed surreal noir collaboration between Mexico s greatest writer and its most courageous revolutionary Taibo s expertise ensures a smart funny book and Marcos brings a wry sense of humor Publishers Weekly In alternating chapters Zapatista leader Subcomandante Marcos and the consistently excellent Paco Ignacio Taibo II create an uproarious murder mystery with two intersecting storylines The chapters written by the famously masked Marcos originate in the mountains of Chiapas Mexico

There the fictional Subcomandante Marcos assigns Elias Contreras an odd but charming mountain man to travel to Mexico City in search of an elusive and hideous murderer named Morales The second story line penned by Taibo stars his famous series detective Hector Belascoaran Shayne Hector guzzles Coca Cola and smokes cigarettes furiously amidst his philosophical and always charming approach to investigating crimes in this case the search for his own Morales The two stories collide absurdly and dramatically in the urban sprawl of Mexico City The ugly history of the city s political violence rears its head and both detectives find themselves in an unpredictable dance of death with forces at once criminal historical and political Readers expecting political heavy handedness will be disarmed by the humility and playful self mocking that runs throughout the book Tactics of Hope in Latinx Children's and Young Adult Literature Jesus Montañó,Regan Postma-Montañó,2024-06-01 Using Gloria Anzald a s theories of conocimiento as a critical lens the authors examine several literary works including Side by Side Lado a lado They Call Me G ero Land of the Cranes Efr n Divided and Gabi a Girl in Pieces A Companion to Latin American Women Writers Brigida M. Pastor,Lloyd Hughes Davies,2012 This volume offers a critical study of a representative selection of Latin American women writers who have made major contributions to all literary genres and represent a wide range of literary perspectives and styles This volume offers a critical study of a representative selection of Latin American women writers who have made major contributions to all literary genres and represent a wide range of literary perspectives and styles Many of these women have attained the highest literary honours Gabriela Mistral won the Nobel Prize in 1945 Clarice Lispector attracted the critical attention of theorists working mainly outside the Hispanic area others have made such telling contributions to particular strands of literature that their names are immediately evocative of specific currents or styles Elena Poniatowska is associated with testimonial writing Isabel Allende and Laura Esquivel are known for the magical realism of their texts others such as Juana de Ibarbourou and Laura Restrepo remain relatively unknown despite their contributions to erotic poetry and to postcolonial prose fiction respectively The distinctiveness of this volume lies in its attention to writers from widely differing historical and social contexts and to the diverse theoretical approaches adopted by the authors Br gida M Pastor teaches Latin American literature and film at the University of Glasgow Her publications include Fashioning Cuban Feminism and Beyond El discurso de Gertrudis G mez de Avellaneda Identidad Femenina y Otredad and Discursos Caribenhos Historia Literatura e Cinema Lloyd Hughes Davies teaches Spanish American Literature at Swansea University His publications include Isabel Allende La casa de los esp ritus and Projections of Peronism in Argentine Autobiography Biography and Fiction Graphic Novels and Comics as World Literature James Hodapp,2022-04-07 Graphic narratives are one of the world s great art forms but graphic novels and comics from Europe and the United States dominate scholarly conversations about them Building upon the little extant scholarship on graphic narratives from the Global South this collection moves beyond a narrow Western approach to this quickly expanding field By focusing on texts from the Middle East Africa Latin America and Asia these essays expand the study of graphic narratives to a global scale Graphic Novels and Comics as World Literature is also interested in how these texts engage with fit in with or complicate notions of World Literature The larger theoretical framework of World Literature is joined with the postcolonial decolonial Global South and similar approaches that argue explicitly or implicitly for the viability of non Western graphic narratives on their own terms Ultimately this collection explores the ways that the unique formal qualities of graphic narratives from the Global South intersect with issues facing the study of international literatures such as translation commodification circulation Orientalism and many others
