Latin Epic and Didactic Poetry Monica Gale, 2004-12-31 How is it possible for a poet to find his own individual voice when he is writing in a tradition so venerable and so constrained by convention as Roman epic? How do poets working in related genres particularly didactic conceptualize their relationship to the main epic tradition? The eleven essays in this volume by leading scholars in the field of Roman poetry and its post-Classical receptions consider some of the strategies which writers from Lucretius onwards have employed in negotiating their relationship with their literary forebears and staking out a place for their own work within a tradition stretching back to Hesiod and Homer.

Laughing with Medusa Vanda Zajko, Miriam Leonard, 2006-01-12 Laughing with Medusa explores a series of interlinking questions including: Does history's self-positioning as the successor of myth result in the exclusion of alternative narratives of the past? How does feminism exclude itself from certain historical discourses? Why has psychoanalysis placed myth at the centre of its explorations of the modern subject? Why are the Muses feminine? Do the categories of myth and politics intersect or are they mutually exclusive? Does feminism's recourse to myth offer a script of resistance or commit it to an ineffective utopianism? Covering a wide range of subject areas including poetry, philosophy, science, history and psychoanalysis as well as classics, this book engages with these questions from a truly interdisciplinary perspective. It includes a specially commissioned work of fiction, Iphigeneia's Wedding, by the poet Elizabeth Cook.

Lucrezio e il criterio di verità epicureo Chiara Rover, 2025-06-02 Was Lucretius a fundamentalist Epicurean and a mere repeater of his Master's words, or did he emerge as an innovative philosopher in his own right? The relationship between Lucretius and Epicurus remains a complex and unresolved issue in Epicurean scholarship. To what extent was Lucretius aware of intellectual debates following Epicurus and how did he contribute to them? The volume examines these questions through an epistemological lens, focusing on the Canon, the science of the criterion, Epicurus who died around 271 270 BC did not fully witness firsthand the impact of his doctrines on Hellenistic epistemology nor could he defend them against subsequent criticisms tasks left to his successors By systematically examining the doctrine of the criterion of truth in De rerum natura this study shows how Lucretius actively engaged in the defence and evolution of early Epicureanism Despite his fidelity to Epicurus the Poet displayed a remarkable philosophical ability to independently rethink and rework materials from both within the Epicurean tradition and beyond thereby reiterating on a broader scale the non monolithic nature of the Kepos It appeals to scholars interested in Hellenistic and Roman philosophy alike Plutarch on Literature, Graeco-Roman Religion, Jews and Christians Frederick E. Roecklein, 2012-10-05 This book investigates the influence of Epicurean physics on the argument developed in Machiavelli's Discourses on Livy Towards this end the full philosophical history and origins of atomist philosophy are investigated during the first three chapters Plato's critique of the atomist philosophy from his dialogue the Parmenides is a part of that investigation In fact Plato provides a refutation of the atomist philosophy in the Parmenides A significant amount of scholarship has been accomplished that demonstrates the currents of Lucretian atomism in Machiavelli's Florence Evidence is supplied as to Machiavelli's exposure to the Lucretian text and the book then proceeds to investigate the transformational arguments of the Discourses On Livy itself Machiavelli's Discourses are saturated with terminology that is borrowed from physics materia Matter corpo body forma form accidente accident English translators have usually employed some theory as to which tradition of physics Machiavelli is relying upon in order to conduct their translations By borrowing the terminology of

Lucretian physics Machiavelli becomes able to conceive of the people in a political society as something less than human as matter or materia without form In my analysis of Machiavelli s deployment of the concepts from Lucretian physics it is attempted to unveil the brutality that is inherent in Machiavelli s new definitions of the elements of politics and the general hostility of his political science to the Aristotelian concept of the human being as political animal The classical physics of Aristotle which Machiavelli has rejected for a model indicates the forward looking momentum of natural beings For Aristotle nature intends human political society as the arena for human fulfillment In Aristotelian physics nature aims at an end in generation i e at a culmination of the natural being in its proper condition of excellence For human beings this is justice the quality of relationships that makes happiness possible In Machiavelli a new politicized physics is revealed In Machiavelli s model the human beings of formed matter are repeatedly sent through new institutions and methods of government back to their beginnings i e to a condition of isolation destitution injury and pain The last chapter of the book concludes with an examination of the particular institutions and methods that Machiavelli holds out to us for employment if his new vision of a republic is to be realized
