Maya Hieroglyphic Writing John Eric Sidney Thompson,1978 Introduction to the Study of the Maya Hieroglyphs (Classic Reprint) Sylvanus Griswold Morley,2015-07-26 Excerpt from Introduction to the Study of the Maya Hieroglyphs Sir I have the honor to submit the accompanying manuscript of a memoir bearing the title An Introduction to the Study of the Maya Hieroglyphs by Sylvanus Griswold Morley and to recommend its publication as a bulletin of the Bureau of American Ethnology The hieroglyphic writing developed by the Maya of Central America and southern Mexico was probably the foremost intellectual achievement of pre Columbian times in the New World and as such it deserves equal attention with other graphic systems of antiquity The earliest inscriptions now extant probably date from about the beginning of the Christian era but such is the complexity of the glyphs and subject matter even at this early period that in order to estimate the age of the system it is necessary to postulate a far greater antiquity for its origin Indeed all that can be accepted safely in this direction is that many centuries must have elapsed before the Maya hieroglyphic writing could have been developed to the highly complex stage where we first encounter it The first student to make any progress in deciphering the Maya inscriptions was Prof Ernst Forstemann of the Royal Library at Dresden About 1880 Professor Forstemann published a facsimile reproduction of the Dresden codex and for the next twenty years devoted the greater part of his time to the elucidation of this manuscript He it was who first discovered and worked out the ingenious vigesimal system of numeration used by the Maya and who first pointed out how this system was utilized to record astronomical and chronological facts In short his pioneer work made possible all subsequent progress in deciphering Maya texts Curiously enough about the same time or a little later in 1891 another student of the same subject Mr J T Goodman of Alameda California working independently and without knowledge of Professor Forstemann s researches also succeeded in deciphering the chronological parts of the Maya texts and in determining the values of the head variant numerals About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Maya Hieroglyphic Writing John Eric Thompson,1966 MAYA HIEROGLYPHIC WRITING. An Introduction to the Study of the Maya Hieroglyphics Sylvanus Griswold Morley,1915 The New Catalog of Maya Hieroglyphs, Volume Two Gabrielle Vail,Martha J. Macri,2012-11-12 This long awaited resource complements its companion volume on Classic Period monumental inscriptions Authors Martha J Macri and Gabrielle Vail provide a comprehensive listing of graphemes found in the Dresden Madrid and Paris codices 40 percent of which are unique to these painted manuscripts and discuss current and past interpretations of these graphemes The New Catalog uses an original coding system developed for the Maya Hieroglyphic Database Project The new three digit codes group the graphemes according to their visual rather than functional characteristics to allow readers to see distinctions between similar signs Each entry contains the grapheme s New Catalog code an image the corresponding Thompson number proposed syllabic and logographic values calendrical significance and bibliographical citations Appendices and an index of signs from both volumes contain images of all graphemes and variants ordered by code allowing readers to search for graphemes by visual form or by their proposed logographic and phonetic values Together the two volumes of the New Catalog represent the most significant updating of the sign lists for the Maya script proposed in half a century They provide a cutting edge reference tool critical to the research of Mesoamericanists in the fields of archaeology art history ethnohistory and linguistics and a valuable resource to scholars specializing in comparative studies of writing systems and related disciplines Translating Maya Hieroglyphs Scott A.J. Johnson,2013-06-24 Maya hieroglyphic writing may seem impossibly opaque to beginning students but scholar Scott A J Johnson presents it as a regular and comprehensible system in this engaging easy to follow textbook The only comprehensive introduction designed specifically for those new to the study Translating Maya Hieroglyphs uses a hands on approach to teach learners the current state of Maya epigraphy Johnson shows readers step by step how to translate ancient Maya glyphs He begins by describing how to break down a Mayan text into individual glyphs in the correct reading order and then explains the different types of glyphs and how they function in the script Finally he shows how to systematically convert a Mayan inscription into modern English Not simply a reference volume Translating Maya Hieroglyphs is pedagogically arranged so that it functions as an introductory foreign language textbook Chapters cover key topics including spelling dates and numbers basic grammar and verbs Formal linguistic information is accessibly explained while worksheets and exercises complement and reinforce the material covered in the text Glyph blocks and phrases drawn from actual monuments illustrate the variety and scribal virtuosity of Maya writing The Maya writing system has not been fully deciphered Throughout the text Johnson outlines and explains the outstanding disputes among Mayanists At the end of each chapter he offers sources for further reading Helpful appendices provide quick reference to vocabulary glyph meanings and calendrical data for students undertaking a translation The study of Maya glyphs has long been an arcane subject known only to a few specialists This book will change that Taking advantage of the great strides scholars have made in deciphering hieroglyphs in the past four decades Translating Maya Hieroglyphs brings this knowledge to a broader audience including archaeologists and budding epigraphers

Visualizing Knowledge and Creating Meaning in Ancient Writing Systems Shai Gordin, 2013-12-31 Ancient writing systems employ logographic and logophonetic principles playing on the relationship between writing script and scribal learning The workshop proceedings published in this volume explore the way these relationships encode knowledge and meaning reflected in the social historical and cultural mentality of the early peoples of East Asia China and Japan Anatolia the Aegean Egypt and Mesoamerica The meeting was organized in the FU Berlin on the fall of 2010 by the editor and Dr Renata Landgrafova now Charles University Prague in the frame of the DFG research training group 1458 Notational Iconicity Schriftbildlichkeit headed by Prof Eva Cancik Kirschbaum and Prof Sybille Kramer The premise of our meeting was that script and the organization of texts can reveal how knowledge is transformed and transmitted among different social groups across time and space and eventually standardized as written tradition Its multidisciplinary approach follows recent trends in the attempt to arouse debate between scholars of disparate systems of writing be it Cuneiform Hieroglyphic or Linear in nature and to discuss their elements independent of origin or cultural context A broad perspective on ancient writing and its visual elements was established with the contributions delving into the aspects of generating knowledge and meaning J Janak M Weeden categorizing knowledge E Boot T W Kwan H Tomas diffusion and transformation of knowledge Sh Gordin R Landgrafova and rationalizing knowledge E Birk Ancient Maya Politics Simon Martin, 2020-06-18 The Classic Maya have long presented scholars with vexing problems One of the longest running and most contested of these and the source of deeply polarized interpretations has been their political organization Using recently deciphered inscriptions and fresh archaeological finds Simon Martin argues that this particular debate can be laid to rest He offers a comprehensive re analysis of the issue in an effort to answer a simple question how did a multitude of small kingdoms survive for some six hundred years without being subsumed within larger states or empires Using previously unexploited comparative and theoretical approaches Martin suggests mechanisms that maintained a dynamic equilibrium within a system best understood not as an array of individual polities but an interactive whole With its rebirth as text backed historical archaeology Maya studies has entered a new phase one capable of building a political anthropology as robust as any other we have for the ancient world

Emblem and State in the Classic Maya Lowlands Joyce Marcus,1976 Joyce Marcus reconstructs Classic Maya political organization through the use of evidence derived from epigraphy settlement pattern surveys and locational analysis This study describes the development of a four tiered settlement hierarchy and its subsequent collapse

Maya Archaeology and Ethnohistory Norman Hammond,Gordon R. Willey,2014-04-15 Embracing a wide range of research this book offers various views on the intellectual history of Maya archaeology and ethnohistory and the processes operating in the rise and fall of Maya civilization The fourteen studies were selected from those presented at the Second Cambridge Symposium on Recent Research in Mesoamerican Archaeology and are presented in three major sections The first of these deals with the application of theory both anthropological and historical to the great civilization of the Classic Maya which flourished in the Yucatan Guatemala and Belize during the first millennium A D The structural remains of the Classic Period have impressed travelers and archaeologists for over a century and aspects of the development and decline of this strange and brilliant tropical forest culture are examined here in the light of archaeological research The second section presents the results of field research ranging from the Highlands of Mexico east to Honduras and north into the Lowland heart of Maya civilization and iconographic study of excavated material The third section covers the ethnohistoric approach to archaeology the conjunction of material and documentary evidence Early European documents are used to illuminate historic Maya culture This section includes transcriptions of previously unpublished archival material Although not formally linked beyond their common field of inquiry the essays here offer a conspectus of late twentieth century Maya research and a series of case histories of the work of some of the leading scholars in the field
