

Measuring the Church Growth Movement

J. Robertson McQuilkin

The Church Growth Movement is at the center of today's controversy in missions studies. Measuring the Church Growth Movement is one of the first volumes to be written examining the movement in the light of biblical teaching.

J. Robertson McQuilkin carefully takes apart the movement, presenting its most basic presuppositions, and evaluating each thoroughly and biblically. He examines five presuppositions that concern (1) number—Is numerical church growth a most crucial task in missions? (2) selectivity—Is it right for the church to concentrate on the responsive elements of society? (3) conversion—Are people-movement conversions valid? (4) science—Are anthropological studies legitimate for evangelism? and (5) prophecy—Will large church growth result from using Church Growth principles and techniques?

McQuilkin's careful scholarship and the readability of this volume are sure to gain a wide acceptance for Measuring the Church Growth Movement.

Whether or not you agree with the Church Growth Movement, you must consider the arguments presented in this book.

J. ROBERTSON MCQUILKIN (B.A., Columbia College; M.Div., Fuller Theological Seminary) is the president of Columbia Bible College and Columbia Graduate School of Bible and Missions. He is one of the contributors to the book Church/Missions Tensions Today, edited by C. Peter Wagner. He served as a missionary to Japan with The Evangelical Alliance Mission.

The Book of Church Growth Thom S. Rainer, 1998-09-01 The Church Growth Movement has divided devout Christians Even though Rainer is an advocate his aim here is to present an objective view of the movement its history the theology associated with it and the principles which seem to separate churches that grow from those that don't Strategy Coordinator R. Bruce Carlton, 2011 In 1976 the Southern Baptist Convention adopted its Bold New Thrusts in Foreign Missions with the overarching goal of sharing the gospel with every person in the world by the year 2000 The formation of Cooperative Services International CSI in 1985 and the assigning of the first non residential missionary NRM in 1987 demonstrated the Foreign Mission Board's now International Mission Board commitment to take the gospel message to countries that restricted traditional missionary presence and to people groups identified as having little or no access to the gospel Carlton traces the historical development along with an analysis of the key components of the paradigm and its significant impact on Southern Baptists missiology Dr Carlton has produced an outstanding one of a kind work addressing the influence of the non residential missionary strategy coordinator's role in Southern Baptist missions This well written scholarly text examines the twentieth century global missiological currents that influenced the leadership of the International Mission Board resulting in a new paradigm to assist in taking the gospel to the nations Dr Carlton writes as both a missiologist and a missionary This work reveals the keen eye of a scholar but also the heart of a practitioner who desires to see the multiplication of disciples leaders and churches across the globe This text is a must read for anyone longing to know more about the recent history of the International Mission Board and the theology and missiology behind the SC role and church planting movements J D Payne National Missionary North American Mission Board and Assistant Professor of Church

Planting and Evangelism The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary I have enjoyed friendship and partnership in the gospel with Bruce Carlton in different capacities When I served as the Strategy Coordinator for a South Asian city Bruce was my supervisor He helped me understand what I was trying to do and how I should be doing it Since my return to pastoral ministry in America Bruce has been a missiological dialogue partner In both capacities Bruce has been a flame stoker fanning the flames of commitment to make disciples of all nations I m glad that Bruce has taken on the task of explaining and evaluating the development of the Nonresidential Missionary NRM and Strategy Coordinator SC paradigms He writes from three important perspectives Bruce writes as an insider In Cambodia Bruce was a practitioner of what has developed into the SC approach His work was at the wellspring of hundreds of reproducing churches After leaving Cambodia Bruce taught and mentored many men and women in methodologies for planting reproducing churches Bruce has lived through the development of these paradigms as an effective practitioner Bruce writes as an insightful researcher He asks important questions about the NRM SC and Church Planting Movement paradigms and searches for honest answers Finally Bruce writes as a respector of the relational character of missions On the front lines of gospel advance the Spirit mediates the word through people Grand strategies and paradigms also develop within relational contexts From these three perspectives Bruce helps us understand why the paradigms have developed as they have and equips us to ask key questions as we look forward

E Coye Still III PhD R Bruce Carlton served in Asia from 1986 to 2007 as a church planter Strategy Coordinator and trainer in areas and among peoples with little or no access to the gospel He is the author of Acts 29 Practical Training for Facilitating Church Planting Movements Among the Neglected Harvest Fields a manual for training Strategy Coordinators that has been translated into seventeen different languages Presently Carlton serves as the Associate Professor of Missions at Boyce College a school of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville Kentucky USA Church Growth and the Whole Gospel C. Peter Wagner,1998-12-15 Has the church growth movement failed to stress the social dimensions of the Christian faith Dr Peter Wagner a leading exponent of church growth argues that Christians can evangelize and churches can grow strongly while at the same time participating in the global struggle on behalf of the poor and oppressed for justice and peace for brotherhood and liberation and for the alleviation of human suffering Essays on Apostolic Themes Paul Elbert,2007-02-01 This collection of studies prepared in honor of one of the church s distinguished teachers and pastoral servants Dr Howard M Ervin attempts to address some of the pressing theological issues of our day Important matters of biblical interpretation in the evangelical and charismatic scenes are treated by three of the contributors including one by the honoree himself The role of the Holy Spirit in interpretation is critiqued by professor Horner while professors F F Bruce and J D G Dunn offer some penetrating insights into the work of the Spirit in Paul s churches and into the nature of the New Testament believer as understood by the great apostle Professor Rea gives us his timely observations on the nature of spiritual experience in the lives of Old Testament believers drawing out appropriate lessons for today We trust further that Essays on Apostolic Themes may have something to offer to the discipline of historical theology with five essays ranging from prophetic type phenomena in Irenaeus's church and charismatic motifs in Calvin's thoughts to critical assessments of Lewis Pethrus and Donald Gee who are within their own cultures appraised as being dynamic figures of leadership in the pentecostal tradition. Similarly based on his earlier book of the eighteenth century pioneer of pentecost Dr Strachan presents a stimulating piece on the development of Edward Irving's thought. The early reception in America of the charismatic movement is sagaciously surveyed by Dr Connelly and productive ideas on the mystical presence of Christ in our Lord's supper are advanced by professor Gelpi. Essays concludes with a contribution to the much discussed issues of church growth wherein practical suggestions are tabled based on the potential implied by Luke's text of the book of Acts. Overall the editor and respective authors submit this anniversary volume to their colleague and friend Dr Howard M. Ervin and to its readers everywhere in the hope that these fourteen studies may make a useful international contribution to scholarship and that Essays may be found helpful to preachers, teachers and students of God's word.

Solving the Immigrant Church Crisis Ronald M. Rothenberg, 2016-08. Solving the Immigrant Church Crisis: The Biblical Solution of Parallel Ministry, Acts 6:1-7 addresses the crisis of the immigrant church in which complex cultural and linguistic factors create a reticence on the part of immigrants to transfer financial and decision-making authority to succeeding generations and this results in a culturally irrelevant ministry to those generations, an exodus of believers from the church, a spiritually immature remnant and an inability to reach the lost. The thesis of this book is that parallel ministry based on Acts 6:1-7 is the biblical solution to the crisis in the immigrant church. While there are at least two main aspects of this crisis, a spiritual relational and an ecclesiastical aspect, this book focuses on the ecclesiastical aspect of defining the biblical structure of church government. Specifically, this book is for immigrant churches primarily in the United States and offers them a biblical and practical solution to the problem plaguing them for over two centuries of how to minister effectively to the succeeding generations.

interpretive framework that is theologically located at an intersection of doxology and doctrine In her examination of postmodern faith formation Wendi Sargeant explores the importance of the Christian worshipping community as the most appropriate setting for Christian education Practitioners and students will benefit from the ready to use teaching and learning matrix and all those with interest in the formation of faith in themselves and others will draw much from the way Sargeant situates worship as the basis for enhancing Christian formation and ethos

Servanthood of Song Stanley R. McDaniel, 2024-05-23 Servanthood of Song is a history of American church music from the colonial era to the present Its focus is on the institutional and societal pressures that have shaped church song and have led us directly to where we are today The gulf which separates advocates of traditional and contemporary worship Black and White Protestant and Catholic is not new History repeatedly shows us that ministry to be effective must meet the needs of the entire worshipping community not just one segment age group or class Servanthood of Song provides a historical context for trends in contemporary worship in the United States and suggests that the current polemical divisions between advocates of contemporary and traditional classically oriented church music are both unnecessary and counterproductive It also draws from history to show that to be the powerful component of worship it can be music whatever the genre must be viewed as a ministry with training appropriate to that Servanthood of Song provides a critical resource for anyone considering a career in either musical or pastoral ministries in the American church as well as all who care passionately about vital and authentic worship for the church of today

What God Thinks When We Fail Steven C. Roy, 2011-09-13 What does God think of us when we fail Steve Roy has had to face his own failures But his failures also drove him deep into what God thinks about us and success He found that a biblically grounded view of success and failure challenges our preconceived notions but leads to hopeful renewal that goes beyond what we often ask or think Faith Seeking Action Gregory P. Leffel, 2007-06-01 In Faith Seeking Action author Gregory Leffel links a description of the church as a global movement with a description of contemporary social movements that are actively challenging today's societies such as the environmental global justice and identity movements Not surprisingly Christian communities and communities of social activists share much in common as they each work to enrich their societies It is natural then to ask what missionally concerned Christians may learn from social movements about the public role of their churches the connection of their beliefs to social change and the mobilization of their people It can also be asked how these often divided communities may find ways to collaborate around common actions rooted in such shared values as peace justice life and the integrity of the environment Building on growing interest in the field of missiology and its missional church concept Leffel has created a dialog between the church as a social actor and social movements Along with introducing movement theory to mission studies Leffel introduces a new way of addressing the issues involved in the church's engagement with society a concept he calls missio ecclesiology Of interest to those seeking vital ways to live out their faith in the world missiologists missional church leaders and street level workers alike this work fuels fresh thinking about the church's role in cultural and social change
