Media and Symbols National Society for the Study of Education. Committee on Media and Symbols. The Forms of Expression, Communication and Education, Herman Glenn Richey, 1974 Media and Symbols National Society for the Study of Education. Committee on Media and Symbols, 1974 Media and Symbols David R. Olson, 1974 Media and Symbols National Society for the Study of Education, 1974 Media and Symbols: the Forms of Expression, Communication, and Education David R. Olson, 1974 Media Ans Symbols David R. Olson, 1974 The Encyclopaedia of Educational Media Communications & Technology NA NA, 2015-12-25 Media, Knowledge and Power Oliver Boyd-Barrett, Peter Braham, 2013-12-16 First Published in 1986 The readings reflect the current interest in the possible effects that such communications media may have upon children s studies and cognition and upon how children are likely to respond to education and educational media Interaction of Media, Cognition, and Learning Gavriel Salomon, 2012-12-06 The educational use of television film and related media has increased significantly in recent years but our fundamental understanding of how media communicate information and which instructional purposes they best serve has grown very little In this book the author advances an empirically based theory relating media s most basic mode of presentation their symbol systems to common thought processes and to learning Drawing on research in semiotics cognition and cognitive development psycholinguistics and mass communication the author offers a number of propositions concerning the particular kinds of mental processes required by and the specific mental skills enhanced by different symbol systems He then describes a series of controlled experiments and field and cross cultural studies designed to test these propositions Based primarily on the symbol system elements of television and film these studies illustrate under what circumstances and with what types of learners certain kinds of learning and mental skill development occur These findings are incorporated into a general scheme of reciprocal interactions among symbol systems learners cognitions and their mental activities and the implications of these relationships for the design and use of instructional materials are explored Media Research Methods Barrie Gunter, 2000-02-11 Assessing the relative strengths and weaknesses of qualitative and quantitative methods this book examines the methodological perspectives adopted by media researchers in their attempts to understand the nature of media in society The Evolution of American Educational Technology Paul Saettler, 2004-03-01 The primary purpose of this book is to trace the theoretical methodological foundations of American educational technology It must be emphasized that this work is essentially as history of the process of educational technology rather than of products in the form of devices or media Although media have played an important role in educational technology the reader should not lose sight of the central process which characterizes and underlies the true historical meaning and function of educational technology Moreover the assumption is made that all current theory methodology and practice rests upon the heritage of the past Indeed a common problem in the field has been the failure in many instances to take adequate account of past history in planning for the present or the future A related purpose of this book is to provide a selective survey of research in educational technology as it relates to the American public schools Such research reviews are not intended to be comprehensive but were included because of their historical importance and their relevance in understanding the process of educational technology Handbook of Research on Educational Communications and Technology David H. Jonassen, 2004 This edition of this handbook updates and expands its review of the research theory issues and methodology that constitute the field of educational communications and technology Organized into seven sectors it profiles and integrates the following elements of this rapidly changing field Learning From Media 2nd Ed. Richard E. Clark, 2012-06-01 Richard Clark's observation that media are mere vehicles that deliver instruction but do not influence student achievement any more than the truck that delivers our groceries causes changes in our nutrition is as misunderstood today as it was when first published in the Review of Educational Research in 1983 The convincing if little read scientific evidence presented by Clark has divided the field and caused considerable concern especially among the providers of newer media for learning A collection of writings about the media effects debate as it has come to be called was published in 2001 Edited by Clark Learning From Media was the first volume in the series Perspectives in Instructional Technology and Distance Education The series editors are convinced that the writings of Clark and those who take issue with his position are of critical importance to the field of instructional technology Thus a revised second edition of Learning From Media is now being offered The debate about the impact of media on learning remains a fundamental issue as new mediated approaches to teaching and learning are developed and Clark's work should be at the center of the discussion The critical articles on both sides of this debate are contained in Learning From Media 2nd Edition The Role of Language and Symbols in Promotional Strategies and Marketing Schemes Epure, Manuela, Mihăeș, Lorena Clara, 2018-09-28 In the increasingly competitive global market successful and meaningful intercultural advertising plays a key role in reaching out to consumers from diverse language and cultural backgrounds Therefore it is crucial for individuals and businesses to be able to navigate the field of marketing communications to cut through the noise in a consumerist society to persuade their target audience The Role of Language and Symbols in Promotional Strategies and Marketing Schemes provides emerging research exploring the theoretical and practical aspects of the power of words and symbols used in promotional strategies and marketing schemes Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as shock advertising branding and celebrity endorsement this book is ideally designed for marketers managers business professionals academicians researchers and graduate level students seeking current research on the use of language and symbols in marketing tactics The Development and Education of the Mind Howard Gardner, 2006-06-28 Leading American psychologist and educator Howard Gardner has assembled his most important writings about education Spanning over thirty years this collection reveals the thinking the concepts and the empirical research that have made Gardner one of the most respected and cited educational authorities of our time Trained originally as a psychologist at Harvard University Howard Gardner begins with personal sketches and tributes to his major teachers and mentors He then presents the work for which he is best known the theory of multiple intelligences including a summary of the original theory and accounts of how it has been updated over the years Other seminal papers featured include education in the arts the nature of understanding powerful ways in which to assess learning broad statements about the educational enterprise how education is likely to evolve in the globalised world of the twenty first century

History and Modern Media John Mraz, 2021-04-15 In History and Modern Media John Mraz largely focuses on Mexican photography and his innovative methodology that examines historical photographs by employing the concepts of genre and function He developed this method in extensive work on photojournalism it is tested here through examining two genres Indianist imagery as an expression of imperial neo colonizing and decolonizing photography and progressive photography as embodied in worker and laborist imagery as well as feminist and decolonizing visuality The book interweaves an autobiographical narrative with concrete research Mraz describes the resistance he encountered in US academia to this new way of showing and describing the past in films and photographs as well as some illuminating experiences as a visiting professor at several US universities More importantly he reflects on what it has meant to move to Mexico and become a Mexican Mexico is home to a thriving school of photohistorians perhaps unequaled in the world Some were trained in art history and a few continue to pursue that discipline However the great majority work from the discipline known as photohistory which focuses on vernacular photographs made outside of artistic intentions A central premise of the book is that knowing the cultures of the past and of the other is crucial in societies dominated by short term and parochial thinking and that today s hyper audiovisuality requires historians to use modern media to offer their knowledge as alternatives to the perpetual present in which we live
