New Directions in the Russellian Theory of Time Emiliano Boccardi, L. Nathan Oaklander, Erwin Tegtmeier, 2024-11-28 The main debates in the philosophy of time have centred on whether A theory with events ordered by pastness presentness and futurity or B theory ordered by earlier than or later than are equally fundamental Emiliano Boccardi L. Nathan Oaklander and Erwin Tegtmeier instead uphold the Russellian theory or R theory and consider not only the fundamental differences but also its superiority They argue McTaggart's misinterpretation of Russell has led to a false dichotomy between the A and B theories while exploring the connection between temporal relations temporal facts and time In defence of the R theory they argue how it offers a metaphysical explanation of the nature of time in addition to investigating whether ontological theories of time can be considered from a moral or existential point of view Using an ontological approach this volume clarifies what is mistaken about both theories can only be resolved by adopting a Russellian philosophy reaching beyond the A theory vs B theory debate William Carlos Williams John Malcolm Brinnin, 1963 William Carlos Williams American Writers 24 was first published in 1963 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota

Press editions New Directions in Atomic Physics C.T. Whelan, Reiner M. Dreizler, J.H. Macek, H.R.J. Walters, 2012-12-06

The last few years have seen some remarkable advances in the understanding of atomic phenomena. It is now possible to isolate atomic systems in traps, measure in coincidence the fragments of collision processes routinely produce and study multicharged ions. One can look at bulk matter in such a way that the fundamental atomic character is clearly evident and work has begun to tease out the properties of anti-matter. The papers in this book reflect many aspects of modern Atomic Physics. They correspond to the invited talks at a conference dedicated to the study of New Directions in Atomic Physics which took place in Magdalene College, Cambridge in July of 1998. The meeting was designed as a way of taking stock of what has been achieved and it was hoped as a means of stimulating new research in new areas along new lines. Consequently an effort was made to touch on as many directions as we could in the four days of the meeting. We included some talks which overviewed whole subfields as well as quite a large number of research contributions. There is a unity to Physics and we tried to avoid any artificial division between theory and experiment. We had roughly the same number of talks from those who are primarily concerned with making measurements and from those who spend their lives trying to develop the theory to describe the experiments.
