Innovation Communities Klaus Fichter, Severin Beucker, 2012-01-03 Self organising networks have become the dominant innovators of complex technologies and radical innovation The growing need for co operation to ensure innovation success calls for a broader understanding of what makes innovation projects successful and requires new concepts The book introduces the new concept of innovation communities defining them as informal networks of like minded individuals who act as innovation promoters or champions These key figures come from various companies and organisations and will team up in a project related fashion jointly promoting a certain innovation product or idea either on one or across different levels of an innovation system The publication presents findings from surveys that demonstrate that networks of champions are a success factor in radical innovation Five case studies of noteworthy innovation projects illustrate why the collaboration of champions can make innovation projects more successful Furthermore the book presents hands on methods and includes best practice cases and guidelines on how to develop innovation communities This publication comprises empirical findings and practical experiences that are valuable for the following groups in particular Entrepreneurs Innovation R Innovation and strategy consultants Innovation and start up intermediaries Innovation researchers Government officials and politicians responsible for R D and innovation programmes and funding

A Network Approach in Strategic Management: Emerging Trends and Research Concepts Beata Barczak, Tomasz Kafel, Pierpaolo Magliocca, 2021 PURPOSE The analysis of the literature shows that the attempts to conceptualize the strategic aspects of the network bring a significant impact on the development of research on organizational networks This article aims to analyze the new trends in strategic management and in particular on the possibility of exploring the network approach in strategic management through the existing literature and the presentation of the new contributions of the following articles published in the current issue METHODOLOGY The article is descriptive in character thus it is based on a literature review and its constructive critics A narrative literature review was used to present the main assumptions and features of the network approach in strategic management along with an indication of emerging trends and new directions Also the identification of theoretical foundations for understanding the processes of strategic change in inter organizational networks and the proposition of the way to understand network strategy were presented FINDINGS The research included in this issue shows that from a network perspective business strategy plays an important role in guiding the development of individual relationships and networks Exploring the network approach in strategic management allows one to adopt the category of network strategy which can be described through the coexistence of cooperation and competition IMPLICATIONS FOR THEORY AND PRACTICE Considerations lead to the conclusion that the business strategy must be expressed in terms of potential changes in the network in which the company operates taking into account its current and selected position in the network Despite the fact that the current state of research on organizational networks in the theory of strategic management shows that this approach is already quite well established on the basis of the analysis of research results concerning the conceptualization of strategic aspects of the network the existing problems and limitations were identified ORIGINALITY AND VALUE The main problems related to the exploration of the network approach and the resulting consequences for the definition of the network strategy were indicated Also the combination of an organizational and economic approach with the logic of competitive advantage and relational annuity The demonstration that the network perspective in strategic management allows for a more complete understanding of the strategic behavior of modern enterprises

New Concepts for New Challenges Josué M. González, Linda Darling-Hammond, 1997 This book discusses the challenges to developing a teaching force that is competent to work with immigrant students arguing that professional development should be re thought and teacher educators should move far beyond traditional inservice and teacher training A framework is developed for considering what teachers of immigrant youth need to understand about their students what kinds of professional development experiences are likely to facilitate those understandings and what kinds of teacher education programs and school settings are able to support their ongoing learning It is argued that professional development should occur during preservice education during induction when teachers are adjusting to being part of the school staff and throughout teachers careers Promising new structures and practices for professional development are described focusing on those that promote community collegiality and collaboration Innovative approaches to preservice and inservice professional development in California Maryland Minnesota and New York are profiled Contains 55 references MSE
