The Cellular Biomineralization Pathways of Marine Organisms Andrew Stanley Mount, Alfred Portius Wheeler, Vera Bin San Chan, 2022-01-05 Cumulated Index Medicus ,1980 Journal of the National Cancer Institute ,1991 Modern Trends in Human Leukemia VII Rolf Neth, Robert C. Gallo, Melvyn F. Greaves, Hartmut Kabisch, 2012-12-06 Organized on behalf of the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Hematologie und Onkologie Hamburg June 27-28 1986 Molecular Biology of Hematopoiesis 5 Nader G. Abraham, Shigetaka Asano, G. Brittinger, G.J.M. Maestroni, R.K. Shadduck, 2012-12-06 This volume of Molecular Biology of Hematopoiesis is dedicated to John W. Adamson M.D., Tadimitsu Kishimoto M.D., Robert C. Gallo M.D., Arthur W. Nienhuis M.D. and Franco Mandelli M.D. for their contributions in developing an overall view of the state of the art knowledge in the field of hematopoiesis. Richard Champlin among other renowned clinicians presented updated information on stem cells and T cell depletion for bone marrow transplant. A clinical update on thrombopoietin was presented by Pamela Hunt of Amgen and by Kenneth Kaushansky. Arthur Nienhuis and Katherine Turner's contributions to our current knowledge and advances in the fields of growth factors and gene transfer were also recognized during the 9th Symposium on Molecular Biology of Hematopoiesis in Genoa. The chapters cover such diverse areas as preclinical and clinical updates on growth factors and positive and negative regulatory molecules. Advances in Leukemia Mechanism and Treatment by Interferon was presented by Professor Sante Tura. Readers will find presentation of exciting advances that have occurred in the area of hematopoiesis. The elucidation of gene structures of key growth factor proteins such as IL-12 and IL-2 will lead to new insights and new approaches in understanding the regulation of hematopoiesis as well as application of new growth factors.

Hematopoiesis Leonard I. Zon, 2001-04-12 Hematopoiesis or the process of blood formation has been extensively studied at both basic and clinical levels. Human diseases such as thalassemia, immunodeficiency and leukemia represent defects in this process. Approaches to treat these disorders have required a basic understanding of the biology of blood cells. For instance, hemopoietic stem cell replacement or bone marrow transplantation has been used to ameliorate disease. This volume focuses on hematopoiesis at a cellular and molecular level and establishes the basis for clinical manipulation of hemopoietic cells for therapeutic benefit. In Part I the cellular characteristics of progenitors and stem cells are explored. Emphasis is placed on purification of stem cells and both in vitro and in vivo assays. The regulation of normal and leukemia stem cells is illustrated. An excellent discussion of potential use of these cells for gene therapy concludes this section. Hemopoiesis is easily studied during embryogenesis. Part II develops the concept of the waves of hemopoiesis during development. Comparative hematology is making a major comeback as a field in the 1990s. One hope is that general principles of hematopoiesis will be established by studying many models and systems. Part III delves into critical factors that regulate hematopoiesis including both intracellular and extracellular signals. Part IV and V describe lineage programs for myeloid and lymphoid lineages. These chapters are meant to be illustrative of the different cell fates but are not exhaustive.

Part VI examines the genetics of hematopoiesis particularly in animal models The hematopoietic system is in constant contact with stromal cells and endothelial cells during development and in the adult Evidence suggests that endothelial cells and blood cells may arise from a common progenitor the hemangioblast Part VII and VIII discuss the stromal and endothelial cells with the emphasis on their interaction with hematopoietic cells Acute leukemias: Molecular characterization, leukemiainitiating cells, and influence of the microenvironment
