The Domestic Interior and the Self in Contemporary Photography Jane Simon, 2023-09-18 By carefully conceptualising the domestic in relation to the self and the photographic this book offers a unique contribution to both photography theory and criticism and life narrative studies Jane Simon brings together two critical practices into a new conversation arguing that artists who harness domestic photography can advance a more expansive understanding of the autobiographical Exploring the idea that self representation need not equate to self portraiture or involve the human form artists from around the globe are examined including Rinko Kawauchi Catherine Opie Dayanita Singh Moyra Davey and Elina Brotherus who maintain a personal gaze at domestic detail By treating the representation of interiors domestic objects and the very practice of photographic seeing and framing as autobiographical gestures this book reframes the relationship between interiors and exteriors public and private and insists on the importance of domestic interiors to understandings of the self and photography The book will be of interest to scholars working in photographic history and theory art history and visual studies

Home Interiors, 1916 Old Women and Art in the Early Modern Italian Domestic Interior Erin J.

Campbell, 2016-03-09 Though portraits of old women mediate cultural preoccupations just as effectively as those of younger women the scant published research on images of older women belies their significance within early modern Italy This study examines the remarkable flowering largely overlooked in portraiture scholarship to date of portraits of old women in Northern Italy and especially Bologna during the second half of the sixteenth century when as a result of religious reform the lives of women and the family came under increasing scrutiny Old Women and Art in the Early Modern Italian Domestic Interior draws on a wide range of primary visual sources including portraits religious images architectural views prints and drawings as well as extant palazzi and case furnishings and domestic objects created by the leading artists in Bologna including Lavinia Fontana Bartolomeo Passerotti Denys Calvaert and the Carracci The study also draws on an array of historical sources including sixteenth century theories of portraiture prescriptive writings on women and the family philosophical and practical treatises on the home economy sumptuary legislation books of secrets prescriptive writings on old age and household inventories to provide new historical perspectives on the domestic life of the propertied classes in Bologna during the period Author Erin Campbell contends that these images of unidentified women are not only crucial to our understanding of the cultural operations of art within the early modern world but also by working from the margins to revise the center provide an opportunity to present new conceptual frameworks and question our assumptions about old age portraiture and the domestic interior The Early Modern Italian Domestic Interior, 1400-1700 Erin J. Campbell, Stephanie R. Miller, Elizabeth Carroll Consavari, 2016-03-23 Emphasizing on the one hand the reconstruction of the material culture of specific residences and on the other the way in which particular domestic objects reflect shape and mediate family values and relationships within the home this volume offers a distinct contribution to research on the early modern Italian domestic interior Though the essays mainly take an art historical approach the book is interdisciplinary in that it considers the social implications of domestic objects for family members of different genders age and rank as well as for visitors to the home By adopting a broad chronological framework that encompasses both Renaissance and Baroque Italy and by expanding the regional scope beyond Florence and Venice to include domestic interiors from less studied centers such as Urbino Ferrara and Bologna this collection offers genuinely new perspectives on the home in early modern Italy Designing the French Interior Anca I. Lasc, Georgina Downey, Mark Taylor, 2015-10-22 Designing the French Interior traces France's central role in the development of the modern domestic interior from the pre revolutionary period to the 1970s and addresses the importance of various media including drawings prints pattern books illustrated magazines department store catalogs photographs guidebooks and films in representing and promoting French interior design to a wider audience Contributors to this original volume identify and historicize the singularity of the modern French domestic interior as a generator of reproducible images a site for display of both highly crafted and mass produced objects and the direct result of widely circulated imagery in its own right This important volume enables an invaluable new understanding of the relationship between architecture interior spaces material cultures mass media and modernity Encyclopedia of Interior Design Joanna Banham, 1997-05 First published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Houses and Homes Barbara Howe, 1997 This volume in the Nearby History series helps the reader document the history of a home The reader will learn to examine written records oral testimonies visual sources and the house's surroundings The author covers American housing patterns the individual characteristics of houses in different regions construction techniques and materials household technology and family life styles Houses and Homes is Volume 2 in The Nearby History Series Interiors in the Era of Covid-19 Penny Sparke, Ersi Ioannidou, Pat Kirkham, Stephen Knott, Jana Scholze, 2023-01-26 The Covid 19 lockdowns caused people worldwide to be confined to their homes for longer and on a greater scale than ever before. This forced many unprecedented changes to the way we treat domestic space as relationships shifted between the public and the private worlds and homes were rapidly adapted to accommodate the additional roles of schools, offices, gyms, restaurants, making spaces and more. Above all, our understanding of the home as a site to support and enhance the well-being of its inhabitants changed in a variety of novel ways. Interiors in the Era of Covid is a collection of essays which explore the complex ways in which our inside spaces, contemporary and historical, have responded to Covid 19 and other human crises. With case studies ranging from US and Europe to Japan, China, Colombia, and Bangladesh, this is a truly global work which examines wide-ranging subjects from home working and home technologies to the impact of lockdown on people's identities, gender roles in the home, and the realities of domestic living with Covid in refugee camps. Exploring the roles played by designers, both amateur and professional, in accommodating changing requirements and anticipating future ones, whether Covid or beyond, this book is a must-read for students and researchers in interior design, architecture, architectural and design history, and anyone interested in the home and the relationships between health and design. Cultural Ideals of Home

Deborah Chambers, 2020-03-18. Spanning the nineteenth to twenty-first centuries, this book investigates how home is imagined, staged, and experienced in western culture. Questions about meanings of home and domestic culture are triggered by dramatic changes in values and ideals about the dwellings we live in and the dwellings we desire or dread. Deborah Chambers explores how home is idealised as a middle-class haven, managed as an investment and signified as a status symbol and expression of personal identity. She addresses a range of public, state, commercial, popular, and expert discourses about home: the heritage industry, design exhibitions, television, social media, home mobilities, and migration, smart technologies, and ecological sustainability. Drawing on cross-disciplinary research including cultural history and cultural geography, the book offers a distinctive media and cultural studies approach supported by original, historically informed case studies on interior and domestic design, exhibitions of model homes, TV home interiors, media home imaginaries, multiscreen homes, corporate visions of homes of tomorrow, and digital smart homes. A comprehensive and engaging study, this book is ideal for students and researchers of cultural studies, cultural history, media and communication studies, as well as sociology, gender studies, cultural geography, and design studies. Domestic Negotiations

Marci R. McMahon, 2013-07-01. This interdisciplinary study explores how US Mexicana and Chicana authors and artists across different historical periods and regions use domestic space to actively claim their own histories. Through negotiation, a concept that accounts for artistic practices outside the duality of resistance, accommodation, and self-fashioning, Marci R. McMahon demonstrates how the very sites of domesticity are used to engage the many political and recurring debates about race, gender, and immigration affecting Mexicanas and Chicanas from the early twentieth century to today. Domestic Negotiations covers a range of archival sources and cultural productions, including the self-fashioning of the chili queens of San Antonio, Texas, Jovita Gonzales's romance novel Caballero the home economics career and cookbooks of Fabiola Cabeza de Baca Sandra Cisneros's purple house controversy and her acclaimed text The House on Mango Street Patssi Valdez's self-fashioning and performance of domestic space in Asco and as a solo artist Diane Rodriguez's performance of domesticity in Hollywood television and direction of domestic roles in theater and Alma Lopez's digital prints of domestic labor in Los Angeles With intimate close readings McMahon shows how Mexicanas and Chicanas shape domestic space to construct identities outside of gendered racialized and xenophobic rhetoric

Historic Textiles and their Role in Houses Open to the Public Margaret Ponsonby, 2016-04-15 Many historic houses that open to the public in England and Wales particularly those owned by the National Trust preserve their contents rather than restore them to a particular period The former owners of these houses often retained objects from various periods and this layering of history produces interiors that look aged and patinated Although the reason for this preservation and lack of fashionable renewable can be attributed to declining economic fortunes in the twentieth century there are many examples of families practising this method of homemaking over a much longer period Taking National Trust properties as its central focus this book examines three interlocking themes to examine the role of historic textiles Firstly it looks at houses with preserved contents together with the reasons for individual families choosing this lifestyle secondly the role of the National Trust as both guardian and interpreter of these houses and their collections and finally and most importantly the influence of textiles to contribute to the appearance of interiors and their physical attributes that carry historical resonances of the past The importance of preserved textiles in establishing the visual character of historic houses is a neglected area and therefore the prominence given to textiles in this project constitutes an original contribution to the study of these houses Drawing upon a range of primary sources including literature produced by the National Trust for their sites and documentary sources for the families and their houses such as diaries letters and household accounts the study takes a broad approach that will be of interest to all those with an interest in material culture heritage collecting studies and cultural history New Domestic Interiors Carles Broto, 2013 Handbook of Research on Museum Management in the Digital Era Bifulco, Francesco, Tregua, Marco, 2022-03-25 While digital tools are not new to museum management more activities are being performed through their use in order to attract visitors enrich the cultural experience vary the experience context and innovate the cultural industry However these tools need to be tested in order to understand the effects they have on both museum offerings and visitors Further perspectives and insights are needed on the implementation of these digital instruments in museums The Handbook of Research on Museum Management in the Digital Era combines theoretical efforts and empirical research to contribute to the debate on museum management in a digital context It further observes tracks and assesses the ongoing changes brought on by digital solutions Covering topics such as organizational change catalysts sustainability of cultural heritage and phygital experience this book is an excellent resource for museum managers museum curators computer specialists students and educators of higher education researchers and academicians International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home, 2012-10-09 Available online via SciVerse ScienceDirect or in print for a limited time only The International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home Seven Volume Set is the first international reference work for housing scholars and professionals that uses studies in economics and finance psychology social policy sociology anthropology geography architecture law and other disciplines to create an international portrait of housing in all its facets from meanings of home at the microscale to impacts on macro economy This comprehensive work is edited by distinguished
