New Eastern Europe And The World Economy:

The New Eastern Europe And The World Economy Jozef M. Van Brabant, 2019-08-21 The unprecedented economic political and social changes that have followed the east European revolutions of late 1989 rank among the epochal events of the twentieth century The end of the cold war has opened up far reaching possibilities for international economic cooperation which may be able to stimulate economic growth in the region and revive interactions with the global economy This collection of essays comes to grips with the problems of repositioning the new Eastern economies in the global arena The contributors address four main themes freeing up foreign economic sectors through trade liberalization currency convertibility and greater access to markets for international capital the disintegration of the trade payment pricing and settlements systems based on the transferable ruble active participation in the key organizations entrusted with international financial monetary and trading regimes and strategies for using international economic assistance to alleviate adjustment costs with ongoing transition policies

Donor Coordination of Economic Assistance to Eastern Europe Gerrit Stratmann, 2000 A major restriction to Western aid efforts has been a lack of coordination This book delves into the determinants of successful cooperation between bi and multilateral donor agencies at the example of Western aid to Eastern Europe in the period from 1990 to 1996 In raising the assumption that networking between international organizations cannot be stimulated by appealing to norm oriented behavior but is contingent upon the existence of common interests the idealist view of international relations is seriously challenged Comparing different assistance sectors energy telecoms mass privatization agriculture statistics central banking environment and education it is shown that donor coordination is a form of collective action initiated by donors in response to sectoral market failure which is perceived as significant because it threatens the non attainment of basic goals or inflicts own projects with high costs or risks

Europe, Eastern, 1995 Industrial Transformation in Eastern Europe in the Light of the East Asian Experience Jeffrey Henderson, Karoly Balaton, Gyorgy Lengyel, 2016-07-27 Since 1989 the postcommunist societies of Eastern Europe have been subject to policy advice and political and economic pressure which assumes that the development of free market economies is the best route to economic growth and prosperity The contributors to this volume take issue with this proposition Though working from different theoretical perspectives with different interests they collectively argue that there are better ways to build dynamic and prosperous industrial economies in Eastern Europe than encouraging the respective societies of the region to ape the contents and swallow the myths of the Anglo American form of capitalism The contributors to this volume are among the leading authorities on economic transformation in Eastern Europe

The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies for 1994 Patt Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 1997-05-31 This text provides a source of citations to North American scholarships relating specifically to the area of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union It indexes fields of scholarship such as the humanities arts technology and life sciences and all kinds of scholarship such as PhDs

New Eastern European Migration to Australia Olga Oleinikova, 2023-01-30 This book identifies and examines new forms and paths of Eastern European migration to Australia since the 2000s and provides updated trends of contemporary migration movements of Ukrainians Hungarians and Czechs to Australia With chapters highlighting the diversities and complexities of these new accelerated waves of Eastern European migration to Asia Pacific this book offers novel insights to enrich our understanding of East European mobility in the 21st century The book will appeal to students scholars and policymakers in the fields of migration sociology political science and international relations

Financial Reforms in Eastern Europe Kanhaya Gupta, Robert Lensink, 2006-08-21 This book presents a model which simulates the effects of financial reforms in transitional economies which is then applied to Poland for a variety of policy simulations The authors develop models for households commercial banks and firms expanding their enquiry into the government sector the central banking sector the external sector and finally the supply side These sub sector models explicitly incorporate institutional features specific to the Polish economy The estimated model is used to simulate the effects of a wide array of financial policies introduced in Poland and these results are then used to assess the effectiveness of the policies analyzed This timely and authoritative study sheds new light on how a country's overall economic system responds when it pursues a big bang approach to marketization
