New Ideology Of Imperialism Renewing The Moral Imperative

Frank Furedi

New Ideology Of Imperialism Renewing The Moral Imperative:

The New Ideology of Imperialism Frank Furedi, 1994 During the nineteenth century vast areas of the underdeveloped world were invaded and colonised under the justification of Anti Slavery and the Civilising Mission In this powerful analysis Furedi demonstrates how in the late twentieth century the major nations of the West are again intervening in the Third World this time legitimising their actions on new moral grounds Furedi s multidisciplinary study examines the language nature and origins of the new moral justification for such massive intervention Furedi argues that in the wake of the collapse of Soviet communism the West now presents the Third World as the major threat to international stability offering Western democracy and financial systems as the solution thus providing a new moral imperative for rebuilding a viable imperialist ideology Furedi examines this new anti Third World view and concludes that we are experiencing the rehabilitation of the imperialist ideas that are depriving post colonial societies of their own moral authority

Imperialism, Sovereignty and the Making of International Law Antony Anghie, 2007-04-26 Examines the relationship between imperialism and international law

Troubadours, Trumpeters, Troubled Makers Gregory B. Lee, 1996 Whether examining the globalized consumption of satellite broadcast pop music or the heroic efforts of little known poets on the margins of the Chinese diaspora he finds a questioning and contesting of both the Orientalist construction of a mythic monolithic China invented by the West and the Chinese obsession with ideas of authenticity and purity of nationhood

Decolonizing International Relations Branwen Gruffydd Jones, 2006-09-20 The discipline of International Relations IR is concerned with the powerful states and actors in the global political economy and dominated by North American and European scholars This book exposes the ways in which IR has consistently ignored questions of colonialism imperialism race slavery and dispossession in the non European world

The Good Project Monika Krause, 2024-05-31 NGOs set out to save lives relieve suffering and service basic human needs They are committed to serving people across national borders and without regard to race ethnicity gender or religion and they offer crucial help during earthquakes tsunamis wars and pandemics But with so many ailing areas in need of assistance how do these organizations decide where to go and who gets the aid In The Good Project Monika Krause dives into the intricacies of the decision making process at NGOs and uncovers a basic truth It may be the case that relief agencies try to help people but in practical terms the main focus of their work is to produce projects Agencies sell projects to key institutional donors and in the process the project and its beneficiaries become commodities In an effort to guarantee a successful project organizations are incentivized to help those who are easy to help while those who are hardest to help often receive no assistance at all The poorest of the world are made to compete against each other to become projects and in exchange they offer legitimacy to aid agencies and donor governments Sure to be controversial The Good Project offers a provocative new perspective on how NGOs succeed and fail on a local and global level

The War Against the Past Frank Furedi, 2024-08-20 A war is being waged against the Past Whether it s toppling statues decolonising the curriculum or erasing terms from our vocabulary a cultural crusade is underway designed to render the past toxic It is condemned as enemy territory and has become the target of venomous hate What is at stake in provoking such a strong sense of societal shame towards Western history In this book Frank Furedi mounts a fierce defence of the past and calls for a fight back against the delegitimization of its ideals and accomplishments Casting the past as a story of shame has become a taken for granted outlook permeating the educational and cultural life of western society from the top down Its advocates may see it as a cultural imperative but a society that loses touch with its past will face a permanent crisis of identity Squandering the wisdom provided by our historical inheritance means betraying humanity's positive achievements Challenging this great betrayal Furedi argues is one of the most important battles of our time The Postwar Rapprochement of Malaya and Japan 1945-61 J. Tomaru, 2000-06-05 The author analyses the development of postwar Malayo Japanese rapprochement from the resumption of unofficial economic relations to establishment of formal diplomatic relations which happened along with the return of British administration in Malaya and Malayan decolonisation The focus is placed on the role of Britain as the suzerain of Malaya in facilitating Japanese return to Malaya The motivations behind the keen promotion of rapprochement by Malayan and Japanese leaders through the exchange of Prime Ministerial visits are also closely discussed Volunteer Tourism Jim Butcher, Peter Smith, 2015-06-05 Just a generation ago the notion that holidays should be invested with ethical and political significance would have sounded odd Today it is part of the lifestyle political landscape Volunteer tourism is indicative of the growth of lifestyle strategies intended to exhibit care and responsibility towards others less fortunate strategies aligned closely with developing one's ethical identity and sense of global responsibility It sits alongside telethons pay per click Fair Trade and ethical consumption generally as a way to make a difference Volunteer tourism involves a personal mission to address the political question of development It draws upon the private virtues of care and responsibility and disavows political narratives beyond this Critics argue that this leaves the volunteers as unwitting carriers of damaging neoliberal or postcolonial assumptions whilst advocates see it as offering creative and practical ways to build a new ethical politics By contrast this volume analyses volunteer tourism as indicative of a retreat from public politics into the realm of private experience and as an expression of diminished political and moral agency This thought provoking book draws on development political and sociological theory and is essential reading for students researchers and academics interested in the phenomenon of volunteer tourism and the politics of lifestyle that it represents Routledge Handbook of International Statebuilding David Chandler, Timothy D. Sisk, 2013-09-02 This new Handbook offers a combination of theoretical thematic and empirical analyses of the statebuilding regime written by leading international scholars Over the past decade international statebuilding has become one of the most important and least understood areas of international policy making Today there are around one billion people living in some 50-60 conflict affected fragile states vulnerable to political violence and civil war The international community grapples with the core challenges and dilemmas of using outside force aid and persuasion to build states in the wake of conflict and to prevent such countries from lapsing into devastating violence The Routledge Handbook of International Statebuilding is a comprehensive resource for this emerging area in International Relations The volume is designed to guide the reader through the background and development of international statebuilding as a policy area as well as exploring in depth significant issues such as security development democracy and human rights Divided into three main parts this Handbook provides a single source overview of the key topics in international statebuilding Part One Concepts and Approaches Part Two Security Development and Democracy Part Three Policy Implementation This Handbook will be essential reading for students of statebuilding humanitarian intervention peacebuilding development war and conflict studies and IR Security Studies in general International News in the 21st Century Chris Paterson, Annabelle Sreberny, 2004 In the aftermath of September 11 the nature of international news has resumed a central place in media debates and political analysis In the first collection of its kind influential journalists and scholars probe the future of international news Topics include the conglomerates ethnocentric imbalances in news reporting the rise of non Anglo news channels approaches for reconstructing the international news agenda the impacts of new technologies of production and diffusion international news rhetoric and audiences imagination of the global and their perceptions of international news coverage In a dialogue that is both descriptive and prescriptive this book begins an encounter between media practitioners activists and academics constituencies that have tended to talk past each other but are now beginning to find some shared concerns
