Opportunity House Ethnographic Stories Of Mental Retardation:

Opportunity House Michael V. Angrosino, 1998 Michael Angrosino by weaving together a life histories approach to ethnography and a completely new concept of culture is able to present an intimate and complex picture of Opportunity House a highly functional community of mentally retarded adults Opportunity House Michael V. Angrosino, 1997-12-02 Calling on a decade of participant observation at a residence for mentally retarded adults anthropologist Michael V Angrosino's riveting and de mystifying account offers an insider's picture of the lives of the inhabitants of Opportunity House Using the narrative device of a dozen fictional short stories told in the voices of various community members as well as that of the researcher Angrosino weaves a life histories approach to ethnography together with an innovative culture concept to tackle the complexities of representing marginalized subgroups As opposed to traditional clinical or statistical studies which have insufficiently conveyed the subjective and experiential perspectives of retarded people themselves Angrosino presents an intimate and complex picture of a highly functioning community with its cast of entrepreneurs bullies victims and do gooders This wonderfully readable and captivating account is therefore an important resource for those interested in mental illness and disability as well as a model for those experimenting with forms of ethnographic writing Opportunity House Michael V. Angrosino, 1998 Michael Angrosino by weaving together a life histories approach to ethnography and a completely new concept of culture is able to present an intimate and complex picture of Opportunity House a highly functional community of mentally retarded adults The Ethnographic I Carolyn Ellis, 2004-01-13 A methodological textbook on autoethnography should be easily distinguishable from the standard methods text Carolyn Ellis the leading proponent of these methods does not disappoint She weaves both methodological advice and her own personal stories into an intriguing narrative about a fictional graduate course she instructs In it you learn about her students and their projects and understand the wide array of topics and strategies that fall under the label autoethnography Through Ellis's interactions with her students you are given useful strategies for conducting a study including the need for introspection the struggles of the budding ethnographic writer the practical problems in explaining results of this method to outsiders and the moral and ethical issues that get raised in this intimate form of research Anyone who has taken or taught a course on ethnography will recognize these issues and appreciate Ellis's humanistic personal and literary approach toward incorporating them into her work A methods text or a novel The Ethnographic I answers yes to both Mental Retardation, 1999 Doing Ethnographic and Observational Research Michael Angrosino, 2007-12-30 Including coverage of the selection of cases observation and interviewing recording data and takes into account ethical issues Doing Ethnographic and Observational Research introduces the reader to the practice of producing data through ethnographic fieldwork and observational research Fiction and Social Research Anna Banks, Stephen P. Banks, 1998 Fiction and Social Research brings together writers from a variety of disciplines to explore and illustrate the possibilities of new narrative forms in social research At the intersections of fiction ethnography and cultural studies these essays demonstrate narratives that simultaneously enrich fieldwork and enliven research reporting By arranging this volume into four areas of concern this volume demonstrates how fiction can express issues of representation subjectivity critique and postmodern discourse This volume is unique in its accessibility and will prove a valuable tool to the veteran scholar and beginning ethnographer alike Between Gay and Straight Lisa M. Tillmann-Healy, 2001-04-26 It started as a class project a young married small town white woman interviewing a gay acquaintance and his circle of friends From this developed a three year exploration of the complexities of carrying on gay straight friendships This reflexive thoughtful and compellingly written study moves from gay bars to softball leagues to visits with families and friends both gay and straight During its course the author develops a growing understanding of the differences between the two communities the difficulties of developing bonds across groups and the inherent rewards of seeking and being the Other in contemporary society She explores sexuality marriage lifestyles and the meanings of friendship culminating in a boisterous dissertation defense attended by her new community of friends As a study of a gay community a narrative of personal development and change and an exploration of the use of friendship in conducting research that transforms both participants and researcher Tillmann Healy's work will be compelling reading for scholars students and the broader community The Crystallizing Teacher Craig Wood, 2024-05-31 This book advocates for teacher professional development done differently The author introduces a process described as crystallizing conscientiza o which restores agency to teachers Looking beyond incremental improvements in teacher micro skills promoted by neo managerial approaches to professional development the book considers the wider impact of teachers personal professional and political identities on their work This critical reflective practice combines crystallization as method with Freirean principles of conscientiza o asking questions that reveal the impact of whiteness in schools and the role that education performs in replicating whiteness and perpetuating injustice The book will appeal to academics in the diverse fields of sociology of education critical race theory critical whiteness studies curriculum and pedagogy and teachers work as well as providers of initial teacher education programs and pre service teachers Understanding Communication Research Methods Stephen M. Croucher, Daniel Cronn-Mills, 2021-09-28 Using an engaging how to approach that draws from scholarship real life and popular culture this textbook now in its third edition offers students practical reasons why they should care about research methods and offers a practical guide to actually conducting research themselves Examining quantitative qualitative and critical research methods this new edition helps undergraduate students better grasp the theoretical and practical uses of method by clearly illustrating practical applications The book features all the main research traditions within communication including online methods and provides level appropriate applications of the methods through theoretical and practical examples and exercises including sample student papers that demonstrate research methods in action This third edition also includes additional chapters on experimental design and methods of performance as well as brand new case studies throughout This textbook is perfect for students and scholars using critical cultural interpretive qualitative quantitative and positivist research methods as well as students of communication studies more generally It also offers dedicated student resources on the Routledge com book page and instructor resources at https://routledgetextbooks.com/textbooks/instructor_downloads These include links videos outlines and activities recommended readings test questions and more

Collecting and Interpreting Qualitative Materials Norman K. Denzin, 2008 Collecting and Interpreting Qualitative Materials Third Edition is the third volume of the paperback versions of The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research Third Edition This portion of the handbook considers the tasks of collecting analyzing and interpreting empirical materials and comprises the Handbook's Parts IV Methods of Collecting and Analyzing Empirical Materials and V The Art and Practices of Interpretation Evaluation and Presentation Collecting and Interpreting Qualitative Materials Third Edition introduces the researcher to basic methods of gathering analyzing and interpreting qualitative empirical materials Part I moves from interviewing to observing to the use of artifacts documents and records from the past to visual and autoethnographic methods It then takes up analysis methods including computer assisted methodologies as well as strategies for analyzing talk and text Key Feature of the Third Edition Contains a new Reader's Guide prepared by the editors that helps students and researchers navigate through the chapters locating the different methodologies methods techniques issues and theories relevant to their work Presents an abbreviated Glossary of terms that offer students and researchers a ready resource to help decode the language of qualitative research Offers recommended Readings that provide readers with additional sources on specific topic areas linked to their research Intended Audience This text is designed for graduate students taking classes in social research methods and qualitative methods as well as researchers throughout the social sciences and in some fields within the humanities

Ethnographically Speaking Arthur P. Bochner, Carolyn Ellis, 2002 This volume presents explorations in the literary turn in ethnographic work Drawing from a range of disciplines such as sociology philosophy psychology and English the author demonstrates the ways in which ethnography can be effectively expressed

Handbook of the Arts in Qualitative Research, 2022 Revision Carolyn Ellis, 2016-07 This volume collects a dozen of Ellis's autoethnographic stories with a layering of new interpretations reflections and vignettes to her older work

Turning Points in Qualitative Research Yvonna S. Lincoln, Norman K. Denzin, 2004-09-08 This is a book of signposts of key turning points of Gregory Bateson's knots tied in a handkerchief Each article reproduced in this volume edited by leading qualitative methodologists Lincoln and Denzin represents one of these turning points in qualitative research a revolution in the way research is conceptualized and practiced Authority representation legitimation ethics methods presentation even the purpose of qualitative research have all been transformed by these articles and the authors who penned them Bringing together the work of scholars from Haraway to Geertz Mead to Mishler Clifford to Conquergood Laurel Richardson to Miles Richardson the editors are able trace the changes in the discipline over the past five decades A necessary addition to the shelf of all researchers it will also be a key textbook for training the next generation of scholars in the history and trajectory of qualitative research Reflective Interviewing Kathryn Roulston, 2010-02-11 Qualitative researchers have long made use of many different interview forms Yet for novice researchers making the connections between theory and method is not always easy This book provides a theoretically informed guide for researchers learning how to interview in the social sciences In order to undertake quality research using qualitative interviews a researcher must be able to theorize the application of interviews to investigate research problems in social science research As part of this process researchers examine their subject positions in relation to participants and examine their interview interactions systematically to inform research design This book provides a practical approach to interviewing helping researchers to learn about themselves as interviewers in ways that will inform the design conduct analysis and representation of interview data The author takes the reader through the practicalities of designing and conducting an interview study and relates various forms of interview to different underlying epistemological assumptions about how knowledge is produced The book concludes with practical advice and perspectives from experienced researchers who use interviews as a method of data generation This book is written for a multidisciplinary audience of students of qualitative research methods A Methodology of the Heart Ronald J.

Pelias, 2004 Education without ethics without sentiments without heart is simply soulless factual academics and nothing more In his array of authentic essays Ronald J Pelias poetically evokes the spiritual aspects of life in a seemingly dispassionate field the academy A Methodology of the Heart presents a procession of situational compositions confronting matters such as family relationships student teacher communications and general life at the university In his comical yet candid book Pelias depicts the emotional battle for understanding and honesty within the conventional boundaries of higher education It introduces such subjects as autoethnography autobiography personal narratives memoir creative non fiction and performative writing It is absolutely a crucial addition to all book collectors with autoethnographic or communication interests as well as to the general reader attracted to daily life and higher education Performing Femininity Lesa

Lockford, 2004-09-20 A personal revealing and sometimes humorous exploration of female experience Performing Femininity challenges traditional and feminist perspectives on gender roles Using ethnographic method Lesa Lockford transforms herself into an image obsessed weight watcher an exotic dancer and a theatrical performer In several evocative narratives Lockford uses this experimental methodology to rupture the conventional dichotomy of patriarchal versus feminist points of view goading and challenging her audience as she breaches the borders of these typically opposed ideologies She explores how both paradigms constrain women but also how they are simultaneously enacted and subverted in the performances women play in their daily lives Performing Femininity will be a provocative read for the student of feminist thought and for those researchers looking at innovative ways to produce and present their research Torch Singing Stacy Holman

phenomenon than the familiar trope of a woman lamenting her victimhood With an ethnographer's eye she observes the bluesy torch singers asking if they are possibly performing critiques of the very lyrics they sing From this perspective we see the singer giving expression not only to desire but also to an incipient determination to resist and change Holman Jones also reveals points of contact in the opposition between spectators and performers emotion and intellect and love and power Instead of interpreting the expression of love as a woman's violent mistake as willing deception and passive fate Holman Jones allows us to hear an active search for hope

Lives in Context Ardra L. Cole, Gary J. Knowles, 2001-07-30 The reflexive turn in qualitative research has transformed the process of doing life history research No longer are research subjects examined through the lens of the all knowing but supposedly invisible researcher As Ardra Cole and Gary Knowles point out in this fresh introduction to conducting life history research the process is now one of mutuality empathy sensitivity and caring The authors carry the novice researcher through the steps of conducting life history research from conceptualizing the project to the various means of presenting results with an eye toward understanding the complex relationship between participant and researcher and how that shapes the project In addition to examples from their own research Cole and Knowles bring in the work of a dozen novice researchers who explain the challenges they faced in developing their own life history projects in a wide variety of settings Well written interesting and pedagogically sound Lives in Context is the ideal text for teaching life history research to students and an important reference for the bookshelf of all qualitative researchers
