Race and Ethnicity in Multi-ethnic Schools James Ryan,1999 This text explores the representation of race ethnicity in a multiethnic school Employing a critical case study approach it appeals to the wider social context to explain the unequal struggle over the meaning of race and ethnicity in the school In doing so it examines how stereotyping curriculum identity and language practices provide advantages for some and penalize others The book also provides suggestions for how educators might find ways to introduce discourses that make it possible for traditionally marginalized students and members of the community to have their voices heard and to shape meanings that work in their interest Resources in Education,2001-10 China's Mongols at University Zhenzhou Zhao,Wing On Lee,2010-04-09 Minority students in China often receive preferential treatment for access to universities However very little is known about minority student experiences and perceptions on campus after they are accorded what s called meaningful access to university The Mongols emerged as a distinct ethnic group in China starting in the 11th century and in the centuries that followed conquered a large part of the world However in modern times this nomadic people s influence has declined and even their survival in China has been threatened This decline is evidenced by the fact that increasing numbers of Mongols have abandoned their native language and traditional customs especially those who live in cities How do Mongol university students who form the backbone of the Mongol intellectual community identify themselves in a modern Chinese context How do they react as university students to the way in which their culture is recognized and represented Do Mongol students suffer from injustice in the cultural dimension of campus life China s Mongols at University Contesting Cultural Recognition seeks to answer these questions Zhenzhou Zhao addresses these issues by comparing the university discourse on minority culture policy institutional structure and daily life and the Mongol student discourse concerning their experiences perceptions of recognition and dedication to self representation on campus Additionally Gao compares three universities in China Located in Inner Mongolia Autonomous Region Beijing and Hubei Province respectively each of these universities represents one of three types of higher education accessible to minority students in China universities located in ethnic areas standard universities and universities for nationalities China s Mongols at University explores and discusses an intrinsic connection between marketization and globalization and the disadvantages faced by minority groups This book argues that China must move from a policy of preferential tre Social Justice Education in European Multi-ethnic Schools Cinzia Pica-Smith,Rina Manuela Contini,Carmen N. Rethinking Multicultural Education Carol Korn-Bursztyn, Alberto M. Bursztyn Ph.D., 2002-03-30 Korn and Bursztyn and their contributors examine the cultural transitions that children make as they move between the cultures of home and school To better understand these transitions they explore how educators understand their students shifting experiences and examine how educators also negotiate transitions as they too move from home to school each day The narratives or case studies reflect this shifting gaze from child to teacher to parents and take up the various relational configurations that these can form amongst and between each other They turn a critical eye toward instances of classroom practice and school life connecting personal knowledge with school change In some cases the authors draw directly on autobiographical material linking these to a reflective approach to teaching Avoiding the celebratory tone that often attends discussions of multiculturalism the authors address how diversity engages us in continual renegotiation of the personal and social The perspectives of educators and of teacher candidates are presented and the construction of cultural identity and its impact on schools explored In illuminating the complicated nature of cultural transitions and the obligation of schools to create places in which children and families of diverse backgrounds can thrive they highlight how multiculturalism can play a transformative role in the lives of children and schools A must reading for educators and graduate students in education school psychology guidance and counseling History of Multicultural Education Volume 5 Carl A.

Kalervo N. Gulson, P. Taylor Webb, 2017-07-26 The empirical focus of this book is on the twenty year struggle by parents and members of the Black community in Toronto to introduce an Africentric Alternative School AAS with Black focused curricula. It brings together a seemingly disparate series of events that emerged from equity and multicultural narratives about the establishment of the school violence anti racism and race based statistics policy entrepreneurs and the re birth of alternative schools in Toronto to illustrate how these events ostensibly functioned through neoliberal choice mechanisms and practices. Interculturality in Schools Robyn Moloney, Maria Lobytsyna, John De Nobile, 2022-07-26 This book provides a comprehensive study of professional learning courses in intercultural settings exploring how this impacts teachers and brings about change in classrooms culture across schools as a whole and children's lives. The authors argue that teachers and schools must raise the stakes globally in an intercultural practice grounded in educational equity and anti racism. Identifying the attributes that make a difference in teacher intercultural learning and change through analysis of both quantitative and qualitative data the study throws up marked tensions and contradictions between the desire to explore both an abstract personal concept and achieve practical outcomes in schools. As case studies of two primary schools dig deep into teachers' lives the book proposes a model of personal teacher interculturality which is constructed from the inside out. The potential of neglected spaces in schools for intercultural identity is also highlighted by images of new practice. This book is a supportive resource for schools or educational institutions in any global context that are seeking a fresh approach to intercultural education and holistic change.
