Manifesto for New Social Movements César Augusto Rossatto, 2019-10-01 The world is currently witnessing the emergence of a new context for education labor and transformative social movements Global flows of people capital and energy increasingly define the world we live in The multinational corporation with its pursuit of ever cheaper sources of labor and materials and its disregard for human life is the dominant form of economic organization where capital can cross borders but people can't Affirmative action democracy and human rights are moving in from the margins to challenge capitalist priorities of efficiency i.e. exploitation In some places the representatives of popular movements are actually taking the reins of state power Across the globe new progressive movements are emerging to bridge national identities and boundaries in solidarity with transnational class gender and ethnic struggles At this juncture educators have a key role to play The ideology of market competition has become more entrenched in schools even as opportunities for skilled employment diminish We must rethink the relationship between schooling and labor developing transnational pedagogies that draw upon the myriad social struggles shaping students' lives and communities Critical educators need to connect with other social movements to put a radically democratic agenda based on the principles of equity access and emancipation at the center of educational praxis Many countries in Latin America like in other continents are developing new alternatives for the reconstruction of social projects these emerging sources of hope are the central focus of this book Major historical change always starts with people's social movement Democracy can be one of the best political and social systems in the world but for it to work entails the sustainable participation of citizens Above all it requires that people be informed and critically educated since the quality of democracy depends on quality of education There are 2 kinds of power money and people If people exercise their agency they can be more powerful than money There are some organizing principles of social movements as don't do for others what they should do for themselves Saul Alinsky wrote Rules for Radicals A pragmatic primer for realistic radicals Mary Rogers Cold Anger A story of faith and power politics Michael Gecan Going Public An organizer's guide to citizen action and Ernesto Cortez's Industrial Area Foundation are all great sources for organized activism that do work I put some of these principles to the test and they produced positive results I was a founder and president of a union at my university and I lived my whole life as an activist and learned that we can do more together than alone Now we also have a new digital war with the Cambridge Analytica and Breitbart's fake news manipulation however we also have social justice hacktivism to counteract it as well as other democratic social media venues that critical thinkers and activists use The chapters in this book demonstrate the importance of widening and diversifying social movements at the same time emphasizes the need to build cohesive alliances among all the different fronts What some people think is impossible can become a transformed reality for those who dare attempt changing the world as global citizens

Educated in Whiteness Angelina E. Castagno, 2014-03-01 Educators across the nation are engaged in well meaning efforts to address diversity in schools given the current context of NCLB Race to the Top and the associated pressures of standardization and accountability Through rich ethnographic accounts of teachers in two demographically different secondary schools in the same urban district Angelina E Castagno investigates how whiteness operates in ways that thwart and sometimes co opt even the best intentions and common sense thus resulting in educational policies and practices that reinforce the status quo and protect whiteness rather than working toward greater equity Whereas most discussions of the education of diverse students focus on the students and families themselves Educated in Whiteness highlights the structural and ideological mechanisms of whiteness In schools whiteness remains dominant by strengthening and justifying the status quo while simultaneously preserving a veneer of neutrality equality and compassion Framed by critical race theory and whiteness studies this book employs concepts like interest convergence a critique of liberalism and the possessive investment in whiteness to better understand diversity related educational policy and practice Although in theory most diversity related educational policies and practices are intended to bring about greater equity too often in practice they actually maintain legitimate and so perpetuate whiteness Castagno not only sheds light on this disconnect between the promises and practices of diversity related initiatives but also provides insight into why the disconnect persists

Could It Be Otherwise? Lois André-Bechely, 2013-10-11 Parents who wish to choose schools for their children must have more than a desire for different or better they need detailed knowledge of the processes and practices that will give them access to schools of choice This book vividly contrasts the experiences of a diverse group of urban parents choosing their children s schools with school choice policies from voluntary integration mandates to the No Child Left Behind Act Lois Andr Bechely carefully uncovers the race and class based inequities these policies sustain documenting the way parents themselves become complicit in the historical inequalities of schooling This book exposes how educational institutions are making this so and provokes new thinking about how public school choice could be implemented in more equitable and democratic ways
