Racial Study Of The West Nakanai:

A Racial Study of the West Nakanai Daris Ray Swindler, 1959 A Racial Study of the West Nakanai of New Britain Daris Ray Swindler, 1959 After the Cult Holger Jebens, 2010 In many parts of the world the white man is perceived to be an instigator of globalization and an embodiment of modernity However so far anthropologists have paid little attention to the actual heterogeneity and complexity of whiteness in specific ethnographic contexts This study examines cultural perceptions of other and self as expressed in cargo cults and masked dances in Papua New Guinea Indigenous terms images and concepts are being contrasted with their western counterparts the latter partly deriving from the publications and field notes of Charles Valentine After having done his first fieldwork more than fifty years ago this anthropological ancestor has now become part of the local tradition and has thus turned into a kind of mythical figure Based on anthropological fieldwork as well as on archival studies this book addresses the relation between western and indigenous perceptions of self and other between tradition and modernity and between anthropological ancestors and descendants In this way the work contributes to the study of whiteness cargo cults and masked dances in Papua New Guinea New Britain Diary, 1954 Daris R. Swindler, 2007 An excellent glimpse into what anthropology was like in the not too far distant past Daris Swindler's six month daily journal written while on expedition to Melanesia from the University of Pennsylvania with Dr Ward Goodenough and Dr Ann Chowning fifty three years ago is human and captivating and shows us yet another time that is gone forever Generously illustrated with photos from the trip the account takes us through unexpected adventures and routine data collection all with a touch that is accessible and entertaining and introduces us to a generous independent people living in a natural setting and learning to adapt to modern life A great book for budding anthropologists seasoned scholars and armchair travelers alike and a valuable text to accompany college level courses Bulletin - Philadelphia Anthropological Society Philadelphia Anthropological Society, 1959 Yengema Cave Report Carlton S. Gressitt, 2012-12-06 J L Gressitt New Guinea is a fantastic island unique and fascinating It is an area of incredible variety of geomorphology biota peoples languages history traditions and cultures

Diversity is its prime characteristic whatever the subject of interest To a biogeographer it is tantalizing as well as confusing or frustrating when trying to determine the history of its biota To an ecologist and to all biologists it is a happy hunting ground of endless surprises and unanswered questions To a conservationist it is like a dream come true a flash back of a few centuries as well as a challenge for the future New Guinea is so special that it is hard to compare it with other islands or tropical areas It is something apart with its very complicated history chapters I 2 4 II 1 4 III I VI I 2 It is partly old but to a great extent very young yet extremely rich and complex It has biota of different sources to such a degree that it is still disputed in this volume as to what Realm it belongs to the Paleotropical or Notogaeian Australian or what Region Oriental Oceanic Papuan or Australian The terms Papuanian Indo Australian and Australasian also have been applied to the area
