Sailors Folk Art Under Glass A Story Of Ships In Bottles:

Sailors' Folk Art Under Glass Louis A. Norton, 1995 Ships and whimsies in bottles the skillful and fanciful representations of untrained sailor craftsmen many of whom sailed from our New England shores have been growing in popularity among folk art collectors and maritime museum attendees The recognition of the works of marine folk artists has sprung from an appreciation for individualism and the artistic depiction of basic idealism The common lack of technical mastery found compensation in freedom of expression simplicity honesty and inventiveness The sailor artisan used the technical skills needed to perform or survive at sea into works of beauty within a naive design This has been preserved as finely crafted folk art and in some ways a form of industrial art This form of sailors folk art is a collection of extraordinary pieces which often leave the viewer with the vexing question How did they do such work many times under the grueling conditions of a voyage at sea It is the intent of the author to acquaint the reader with the beauty and breadth of these works as well as to their history and references in literature

Captains Contentious Louis A. Norton, 2009 Norton surveys the lives and military accomplishments of five captains in the nascent Continental Navy investigating how their personality flaws both hindered their careers and enhanced their heroics in Revolutionary War combat from publisher description Sea History, 1994

Burning the Box of Beautiful Things Alex Seago, 1995 Alex Seago's book has been inspired by his desire to understand and discover the origins of postmodern culture in Britain One of the main points of his study is that it was art and design students who were among the first to be aware of and to articulate social implications of postmodern culture Arguing that postwar art schools provided a vital crucible for the development of a particularly English cultural sensibility he focuses on cultural change at the Royal College of Art London during the 1950s and 1960s The students attack on the English box of beautiful things a term used by a former student to describe the neo Romantic neo Victorian highly decorated tastes of some RCA tutors took several forms which eventually resulted in the Pop Art produced by the 1959 62 generation Boshier Phillips Jones Hockney et al Alex Seago traces the emergence of English postmodernism through the pages of ARK The Journal of the Royal College of Art interviewing ARK's editors art editors and contributors including Len Deighton novelist and art editor of ARK 10 Clifford Hatts student at the RCA 1946 8 and later head of the Design Group BBC Peter Blake RCA Painting School 1953 6 Robyn Denny RCA Painting School 1954 7 ARK's object of enquiry remained the elusive but necessary relationships between the arts and the social context throughout its twenty five year history making it a valuable archive for the cultural historian in its most memorable issues ARK's layouts complemented the contents to produce distillations of the energy and enthusiasm of the period under review
