A Phyllis of the Sierras Bret Harte,1893 Sally Dows and Other Stories Bret Harte,2008-10-01 What had been in the cool gray of that summer morning a dewy country lane marked only by a few wagon tracks that never encroached upon its grassy border and indented only by the faint footprints of a crossing fox or coon was now before high noon already crushed beaten down and trampled out of all semblance of its former graciousness The heavy springless jolt of gun carriage and caisson had cut deeply through the middle track the hoofs of crowding cavalry had struck down and shredded the wayside vines and bushes to bury them under a cloud of following dust and the short plunging double quick of infantry had trodden out this hideous ruin into one dusty level chaos Along that rudely widened highway useless muskets torn accoutrements knapsacks caps and articles of clothing were scattered with here and there the larger wrecks of broken down wagons roughly thrown aside into the ditch to make way for the living current For two hours the greater part of an army corps had passed and repassed that way but coming or going always with faces turned eagerly towards an open slope on the right which ran parallel to the lane Sally Dows Bret Harte,2016-06-21 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy Sally Dows Bret Harte,1887 Sally Dows Bret Harte,2018-01-30 Excerpt from Sally Dows A Phyllis of the Sierras What had been in the cool gray of that summer morning a dewy country lane marked only by a few wagon tracks that never encroached upon its grassy border and indented only by the faint footprints of a crossing fox or coon was now before high noon already crushed beaten down and trampled out of all semblance of its former graciousness The heavy springless jolt of gun carriage and caisson had cut deeply through the middle track the hoofs of crowding cavalry had struck down and shredded the wayside vines and bushes to bury them under a cloud of following dust and the short plunging double quick of in fantry had trodden out this hideous ruin into one dusty level chaos Along that rudely widened highway useless muskets About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Sally Dows Bret Harte,2025-08-15 Reproduction of the original The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints

Sally Dows and Other Stories (Classic Reprint) Bret Harte, 2016-06-19 Excerpt from Sally Dows and Other Stories For two hours the greater part of an army corps had passed and repassed that way but coming or going always with faces turned eagerly towards an open slope on the right which ran parallel to the lane And yet nothing was to be seen there For two hours a gray and bluish cloud rent and shaken with explosion after explosion but always closing and thickening after each discharge was all that had met their eyes Nevertheless into this ominous cloud solid moving masses of men in gray or blue had that morning melted away or emerged from it only as scattered fragments that crept crawled ran or clung together in groups to be followed and overtaken in the rolling vapor But for the last half hour the desolated track had stretched empty and deserted While there was no cessation of the rattling crackling and detonations on the fateful slope beyond it had still been silent About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
