According to the Australian Bureau of Statistics outdoor soccer was the second most popular organized sport for Australian children after swimming It far outstripped the popularity of the three other football codes that are played in Australia rugby league rugby union and Australian Rules football Yet the soccer participation phenomenon in Australia is matched neither by the media coverage of the game in these countries nor by the academic interest in the game With a few notable exceptions in academic sports history the game of soccer remains understudied in comparison with the other football codes And apart from some interest that is generated by World Cup campaigns the media coverage of soccer is largely marginalized and becomes most emphasized when reporting on aspects of hooligan crowd behaviour This book investigates some of the ways that soccer has been maintained as marginal to Australian identity and why the sport remains vitally important to some marginalized groups within these communities This book was previously published as a special issue of Sport in Society

Indigenous Biography and Autobiography Peter Read, Frances Peters-Little, Anna Haebich, 2008-12-01 In this absorbing collection of papers Aboriginal Maori Dalit and western scholars discuss and analyse the difficulties they have faced in writing Indigenous biographies and autobiographies The issues range from balancing the demands of western and non western scholarship through writing about a family that refuses to acknowledge its identity to considering a community demand not to write anything at all The collection also presents some state of the art issues in teaching Indigenous Studies display at the National Library of Australia from 6 March to 15 June 2008 The Boys from St Francis Ashley Mallett, 2018-09-13 This remarkable true story pays tribute to a band of Aboriginal boys who grew up together in one group home many succeeding spectacularly in later life In 1945 Anglican priest Father Percy Smith brought six boys from their Northern Territory home to an Adelaide beach suburb There they became the first boys of St Francis a place that would house 50 such boys over 11 years Some were sent with the blessing of their mothers to gain an education Others were members of the Stolen Generations In their interviews with Ashley Mallett many of these men recall Father Smith's kindness and care His successors however were often brutal and the boys faced prejudice in a wider world largely built to exclude Indigenous Australians The Boys from St Francis is a multi-layered tale of triumph against the odds using the early building blocks of education and sporting prowess Many of them went on to become fiercely effective advocates for Aboriginal causes achieving significant progress not just for themselves but for Aboriginal people changing their world for the better Activist Charles Perkins the first Indigenous man to receive a university degree commenced his status as a national icon with the 1965 Freedom Rides John Moriarty the first Indigenous man picked for the national soccer team designed the famous Dreaming images for five Qantas planes Harold Thomas created the iconic Aboriginal flag Vince Copley played football for the Port Adelaide Magpies George Kruger worked with Fred Hollows in remote Indigenous communities for nearly 20 years The Boys from St Francis is a sometimes shocking but ultimately hopeful book about black and white Australia told through one constellation of lives sharing one seaside address , Indigenous Peoples and the Second World War R. Scott Sheffield, Noah Riseman, 2019 A transnational history of how Indigenous peoples mobilised en masse to support the war effort on the battlefields and the home fronts Orphaned by the Colour of My Skin Mary Terszak, 2015-07-17 In an invasive paternalistic federal public policy environment for Indigenous communities this book provides an in-depth account of one person's experiences as a Stolen Generation Aboriginal Australian Told from the heart the book speaks in the raw voice of a grandmother reflecting on her life focusing on her childhood experiences subsequent perceptions and life stories The book presents a rare autobiographical journaling of the psychological impact of institutionalisation on an Indigenous woman her search for family community and identity her psychological breakdown and her personal reconstruction through telling her story in a supportive educational environment As an Appendix the author provides us with a critical analysis and autoethnography using her story as a case study that provides deep insights into the personal experience of dealing with forced institutionalisation and social engineering to assimilate Aboriginal people Racial Folly Gordon Briscoe, 2010-02-01 Briscoe's grandmother remembered stories about the first white men coming to the Northern Territory This extraordinary memoir shows us the history of an Aboriginal family who lived under the race laws practices and policies of Australia in the twentieth century It tells the story of a people trapped in ideological folly spawned to solve the half-caste problem It gives life to those generations of Aboriginal people assumed to have no history and whose past labels them only as shadowy figures

Briscoe's enthralling narrative combines his and his contemporaries institutional and family life with a high level career at the heart of the Aboriginal political movement at its most dynamic time. It also documents the road he travelled as a seventeen year old fireman on the South Australia Railways to becoming the first Aboriginal person to achieve a PhD in history.
