Shared Visions In World Religions:

Sourcebook of the World's Religions Joel Beversluis, 2011-02-08 Now in its third edition this is the most comprehensive work available on the rich variety of paths available to today's spiritual seekers More than an academic reference it explores how religions can collaborate to help the world Essays exploring the realm of building an interfaith community add to the book's detailed portraits of the major religious traditions The Sourcebook also contains essays on spiritual practices as diverse as theosophy wicca and indigenous religions This revised edition of the Sourcebook offers an unparalleled look at where spirituality is headed in the coming millennium

Between Eden and Armageddon Marc Gopin, 2002-11-07 Recent years have seen a meteoric rise in the power and importance of organized religion in many parts of the world At the same time there has been a significant increase in violence perpetrated in the name of religion While much has been written on the relationship between violence and religious militancy history shows that religious people have also played a critical role in peacemaking within numerous cultures In the new century will religion bring upon further catastrophes Or will it provide human civilization with methods of care healing and the creation of peaceful and just societies In this groundbreaking book Marc Gopin integrates the study of religion with the study of conflict resolution He argues that religion can play a critical role in constructing a global community of shared moral commitments and vision a community that can limit conflict to its nonviolent constructive variety If we examine religious myths and moral traditions Gopin argues we can understand why and when religious people come to violence and why and when they become staunch peacemakers He shows that it is the conservative expression of most religious traditions that presents the largest challenge in terms of peace and conflict Gopin considers ways to construct traditional paradigms that are committed to peacemaking on a deep level and offers such a paradigm for the case of Judaism Throughout Gopin emphasizes that developing the potential of the world's religions for coping with conflict demands a conscious process on the part of peacemakers and theologians His innovative and carefully argued study also offers a broad set of recommendations for policy planners both inside and outside of government

More than almost anything else globalization and the great world religions are shaping our lives affecting everything from the public policies of political leaders and the economic decisions of industry bosses and employees to university curricula all the way to the inner longings of our hearts Integral to both globalization and religions are compelling overlapping and sometimes competing visions of what it means to live well In this perceptive deeply personal and beautifully written book a leading theologian sheds light on how religions and globalization have historically interacted and argues for what their relationship ought to be Recounting how these twinned forces have intersected in his own life he shows how world religions despite their malfunctions remain one of our most potent sources of moral motivation and contain within them profoundly evocative accounts of human flourishing Globalization should be judged by how well it serves us for living out our authentic humanity as envisioned within these traditions Through renewal and reform religions might in turn shape globalization so that can be about more than bread alone Merriam-Webster's Encyclopedia of World Religions Merriam-Webster, Inc, 1999 Contains 3 500 alphabetically arranged entries that provide information about various aspects of the world's religions features thirty in depth discussions of major religions and includes illustrations and maps Covenant and World

Religions Alon Goshen-Gottstein, 2023-06-06 Finalist for The Rabbi Sacks Book Prize 2023 A new paradigm for relations between religions one of acceptance and collaboration requires not only a willingness to move beyond a tradition of hostility and competition but also significant theological rethinking Within Jewish Orthodoxy there have been very few voices that have advanced and justified a vision of other faiths in this light to this day the reigning paradigm is one of practical collaboration while avoiding theologically based engagement or reflection Two of the most important Orthodox Jewish voices advocating change have been those of Irving Yitz Greenberg and Jonathan Sacks This book presents the theological moral and social views of these two leading rabbis It focuses on the significance of covenant for both and how they adapt this concept to enable the development of a Jewish view of other religions In considering how they may have influenced each other it also studies the limitations and internal contradictions that characterize their work as they attempt to point the way forward in a spirit of dialogue to continuing theological reflection on Judaism's approach to world religions Global Religions and International Relations: A Diplomatic Perspective P. Ferrara, 2015-12-24 With a religious re emergence in international relations this book provides an introduction to the role religions play within the global political arena Culled from theoretical practical and real world experiences Ferrara explains the role religion now plays in global affairs on diplomatic and political levels Shared Learning in a Plural World Gert Rüppell, Peter Schreiner, 2003 Shared Learning in a Plural World takes the reader along to a discourse held between representatives of different world religions religious educators and researchers about How religious education can contribute to good community relations Starting with the issue of pluralism the book leads on to concepts of learning in world religions reflections on inter religious learning in Europe and examples on methodologies of education and community A number of documents related to the Interfaith work of the World Council of Churches are also documented The publication is an outcome of a co operation between the World Council of Churches Education and Ecumenical Formation Inter religious Relations and the Comenius Institut in Munster Germany
