reasons behind their resistance to desegregation The alumni now near retirement age discuss their lives since Central High and their present insecurities and resentments The stories tell of the shaping of white identities in the latter half of the twentieth century of dissatisfaction even anger that still lingers after forty years Our country has not moved beyond matters of race we have not left intolerance behind To do so Roy believes we must stop demonizing people whose actions historical or current we do not fully understand This elegantly written treatment of the Central High crisis is unique among studies done to date It will help readers to better comprehend the complexity of racism not only as it was evidenced at Central High in 1957 but as it continues to impact our lives today Teaching Storytelling in Classrooms and Communities Maru
