Shark Attacks of the Twentieth Century Ralph S. Collier, 2003 This is the single most historically valuable book ever written on the subject of Pacific Coast shark attacks Through bone chilling accounts in victims own words never before published photographs and detailed maps and charts of attack locations this book accurately chronicles every known unprovoked shark attack that occurred along the Pacific Coast of North America during the entire Twentieth Century The author s examination of wound characteristics recurring locations and the curious phenomenon of attacks on inanimate objects afford astonishing insights into why sharks attack These insights form the foundation for his safety recommendations to specific ocean user groups Based on 40 years of research this book will be of inestimable value to scientists researchers and educators as well as anyone that might venture into the waters off the Pacific Coast The understanding gained from this book will temper fears with knowledge and provide the reader with clear and specific information that may easily make the difference between life and death

Great White Sharks Preserved in European Museums Alessandro De Maddalena, 2009-03-26 The Author has condensed virtually everything that is known about the great white sharks that are preserved in European museums in this book Available data of 105 great white sharks from 45 institutions is presented herein Most material consists of taxidermied specimens and jaws Most specimens with known capture locations come from the Mediterranean Sea The majority of specimens are very old The jaws belonging to the Biblioteca Ambrosiana in Milan dated from at least 1640 1660 are the oldest white shark material preserved in Europe The largest specimens of which parts are preserved in any European museum may be those of which skeletal parts are preserved in the Museo di Anatomia Comparata of Rome Italy and the Museo Zoologico La Specola of Florence Italy The cast of a 5.65 m female great white shark preserved in the Mus e cantonal de Zoologie of Lausanne is the world s largest that has been reconstructed directly from a whole specimen The largest skin mounted specimen is a 5.22 m female preserved in the Museo Civico di Storia Naturale of Trieste The 1.50 m female preserved in the Senckenberg Forschungsinstitut und Naturmuseum of Frankfurt is the smallest taxidermied white shark preserved in Europe The publication also includes a concise general account of white shark evolution anatomy physiology reproduction feeding attacks on humans and fishery Up to date literature references are included Extensively researched this encyclopedic account is enhanced by many photographs and drawings that bring to life the extraordinary world of the great white shark The ease of reading of the book and its thoroughness will make it a welcomed addition to any naturalist s library untamed place where humans are neither wanted nor needed Sharks in the Shallows W. Clay Creswell, 2021-06-14 A detailed account of over one hundred shark related incidents on the coast of the Carolinas from a shark bite investigator Powerful and mysterious sharks inspire both fascination and fear Worldwide oceans are home to some five hundred species and of those fifty six are known to reside in or pass through the waters off the coast of both North and South Carolina At any given time waders swimmers and surfers enjoying these waters are frequently within just one hundred feet of a shark While it s unnerving to know that sharks often swim just below the surface in the shallows W Clay Creswell a shark bite investigator for the Shark Research Institute s Global Shark Attack File explains that attacks on humans are extremely rare In 2019 the International Shark Attack File confirmed sixty four unprovoked attacks on humans including three in North Carolina and one in South Carolina While acknowledging that they pose real dangers to humans Creswell believes the fear of sharks is greatly exaggerated During his sixteen year association with the Shark Research Institute he has investigated more than one hundred shark related incidents and has maintained a database of all shark human encounters along the Carolina coastlines back to 1817 Creswell uses this data to expose the truth and history of this often sensationalized topic Beyond the statistics related to attacks in the Carolina waters Sharks in the Shallows offers a history of shark human interactions and an introduction to the world of shark attacks Creswell details the conditions that increase a person s chances of an encounter profiles the three species most often involved in attacks and reveals the months and time of day with the highest probability of an encounter With a better understanding of sharks responses to their environment and what motivates them to attack humans he hopes people will develop a greater appreciation of the invaluable role sharks play in our marine environment
