The Ethnological Imagination Fuyuki Kurasawa,2004 Fuyuki Kurasawa unearths what he terms the ethnological imagination a substantial countercurrent of thought that interprets and contests Western modernity s existing social order through comparison and contrast to a non Western other Kurasawa traces and critiques the writings of some of the key architects of this way of thinking Jean Jacques Rousseau Karl Marx Max Weber

Emile Durkheim Claude Levi Strauss and Michel Foucault In the work of these thinkers Kurasawa finds little justification for two of the most prevalent claims about social theory the wholesale postmodern dismissal of the social theoretical enterprise because of its supposedly intractable ethnocentrism and imperialism or on the other hand the traditionalist and historicist revival of a canon stripped of its intercultural foundations Kurasawa's book defends a cultural perspective that eschews both the false universalism of end of history scenarios and the radical particularism embodied in the vision of the clash of civilizations It contends that the ethnological imagination can invigorate critical social theory by informing its response to an increasingly multicultural world a response that calls for a reconsideration of the identity and boundaries of the West
