Tourism, Landscape, and the Irish Character William Williams, 2012-02-24 Picturesque but poor abject yet sublime in its Gothic melancholy the Ireland perceived by British visitors during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries did not fit their ideas of progress propriety and Protestantism The rituals of Irish Catholicism the lamentations of funeral wakes the Irish language they could not comprehend even the landscapes were all strange to tourists from England Wales and Scotland Overlooking the acute despair in England's own industrial cities these travelers opined in their writings that the poverty bog lands and ill thatched houses of rural Ireland indicated moral failures of the Irish character GeoHibernica Paul Lyle, 2025-08-27 GeoHibernica explores how Ireland's diverse geological foundations have shaped its people culture and heritage over millennia From ancient megaliths to modern artistic interpretations the book examines the deep connections between landscape and identity offering a scholarly yet personal perspective on Ireland's evolving relationship with its natural environment The Archaeology of Early Medieval Ireland Nancy Edwards, 2013-04-15 In the first major work on the subject for over 30 years Nancy Edwards provides a critical survey of the archaeological evidence in Ireland c 400 1200 introducing material from many recently discovered sites as well as reassessing the importance of earlier excavations Beginning with an assessment of Roman influence Dr Edwards then discusses the theme of settlement food and farming craft and technology the church and art concluding with an appraisal of the Viking impact The archaeological evidence for the period is also particularly rich and wide ranging and our knowledge is expanding rapidly in the light of modern techniques of survey and excavation A History of Settlement in Ireland Terry Barry, 2012-11-12 A History of Settlement in Ireland provides a stimulating and thought provoking overview of the settlement history of Ireland from prehistory to the present day Particular attention is paid to the issues of settlement change and distribution within the contexts of environment demography culture The collection goes further by setting the agenda for future research in this rapidly expanding area of academic interest This volume will be essential reading for all those with an interest in the archaeology history and social geography of Ireland Creating Irish Tourism William H. A. Williams, 2011 Based on the accounts of British and Anglo Irish travelers Creating Irish Tourism charts the development of tourism in Ireland from its origins in the mid eighteenth century to the country's emergence as a major European tourist destination a century later The work shows how the Irish tourist experience evolved out of the interactions among travel writers landlords and visitors with the peasants who as guides jarvis venders porters and beggars were as much a part of Irish tourism as the scenery itself Atlas of the Irish Rural Landscape F.
