Poetry of Chiyo-ni Patricia Donegan, Yoshie Ishibashi, 2025-09-09 Patricia Donegan and Yoshie Ishibashi are to be deeply thanked for having given us with such articulate care a poetry major in any language and in any place or time. Robert Creeley poet Chiyo ni 1703-1775 also known as Kaga no Chiyo is Japan's most celebrated female haiku poet. A disciple of Basho's students, she flourished in an era when haiku was predominantly a male-dominated art form. As a poet, painter, and Buddhist nun, Chiyo ni lived a vibrant life while composing haiku that embody crystalline clarity and delicate sensuality. This volume brings together over one hundred of her finest seasonal haiku, renku, linked verse, and haibun travel poems. Highlights of the collection include morning glory, the well bucket entangled, I ask for water, a hundred gourds from the heart of one vine, rouged lips, forgotten clear spring water. These luminous, lucid translations immerse the reader in Chiyo ni's unique vision, offering profound moments of stillness and beauty. Each poem encourages us to pause and reflect on the fleeting moments of our lives. This beautifully illustrated volume also includes artwork by Chiyo ni and other artists, as well as insightful essays about her life and art, informative notes, and a glossary of haiku-related terms. A remarkable collection for lovers of Japanese poetry, Chiyo ni's haiku transcend time and culture, providing a timeless invitation to savor the present moment.

The Mountain is Moving Patricia Morley, 1999 In Imperial times in Japan, women were subservient inferiors; in theory, they were liberated by the democratic constitution imposed by the US after World War II, but in real life, Japan's change is glacially slow. Here, that slow-changing reality is juxtaposed with the fast-moving aspirations of Japanese women. The author achieves this through wide-ranging interviews with Japanese women and by using a range of contemporary Japanese literature.

The Columbia Anthology of Modern Japanese Literature: From 1945 to the present J. Thomas Rimer, Van C. Gessel, 2005 This comprehensive anthology collects works of fiction, poetry, drama, and essay writing from a pivotal time in Japanese history. In addition to their literary achievements, the texts reflect the political, social, and intellectual changes that occurred in Japanese society during this period, including exposure to Western ideas and literature, the rise of nationalism, and the complex interaction of traditional and modern forces. The volume offers outstanding, often new translations of classic texts by such celebrated writers as Nagai Kafu, Shimazaki Toson, Natsume Soseki, Kawabata Yasunari, and Yosano Akiko. The editors have also unearthed works from lesser-known women writers, many of which have never been available in English. Organized chronologically and by genre, within each period, the volume reveals the major influences in the development of modern Japanese literature: the Japanese classics themselves, the example of Chinese poetry, and the encounter with Western literature and culture. Modern Japanese writers reread the classics of Japanese literature, infused them with contemporary language, and refashioned them with an increased emphasis on psychological elements. They also reinterpreted older aesthetic concepts in light of twentieth century mentalities While modern ideas captured the imagination of some Japanese writers the example of classical Chinese poetry remained important for others Meiji writers continued to compose poetry in classical Chinese and adhere to a Confucian system of thought Another factor in shaping modern Japanese literature was the example of foreign works which offered new literary inspiration and opportunities for Japanese readers and writers Publisher's description

Under Construction Christine Farris, Chris M. Anson, 1998 Few composition scholars two decades ago would have imagined the rate at which their field is now developing expanding beyond its boundaries creating new alliances and locating new sites for research and generation of knowledge In their introduction to this volume Farris and Anson argue that faced with a welter of competing models compositionists too quickly dichotomize and dismiss The contributors to Under Construction therefore address themselves to the need for commerce among competing visions of the field They represent diverse settings and distinct points
