Ivory Vikings Nancy Marie Brown,2025-09-23 A fascinating tale of discovery and mystery The Minneapolis Star Tribune In the early 1800s on a Hebridean beach in Scotland the sea exposed an ancient treasure cache 93 chessmen carved from walrus ivory The Lewis Chessmen are probably the most famous chess pieces in the world Harry played Wizard's Chess with them in Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone Housed at the British Museum they are among its most visited and beloved objects Questions abounded Who carved them Where Nancy Marie Brown's Ivory Vikings explores these mysteries by connecting medieval Icelandic sagas with modern archaeology art history forensics and the history of board games In the process Ivory Vikings presents a vivid history of the 400 years when the Vikings ruled the North Atlantic and the sea road connected countries and islands we think of as far apart and culturally distinct Norway and Scotland Ireland and Iceland and Greenland and North America The story of the Lewis chessmen brings from the shadows an extraordinarily talented woman artist of the twelfth century Margret the Adroit of Iceland

The Bayeux Tapestry Gale R. Owen-Crocker,2023-05-31 This collection of fifteen papers ranges from the author's initial interest in the Tapestry as a source of information on early medieval dress through to her startling recognition of the embroidery's sophisticated narrative structure. Developing the work of previous authors who had identified graphic models for some of the images, she argues that not just the images themselves but the contexts from which they were drawn should be taken in to account in reading the messages of the Tapestry. In further investigating the minds and hands behind this the largest non architectural artefact surviving from the Middle Ages, she ranges over the seams, the embroidery stitches, the language and artistry of the inscription, the potential significance of borders and the gestures of the figures in the main register, always scrutinising detail informatively. She identifies an over-riding conception and house style in the Tapestry but also sees different hands at work in both needlecraft and graphics. Most intriguingly, she recognises a sub-contractor with a Roman source and a clownish wit. The author is Professor of Anglo-Saxon Culture at The University of Manchester, UK, a specialist in Old English poetry, Anglo-Saxon material culture and medieval dress and textiles.
