Conservation at the Art Institute of Chicago Art Institute (Chicago, Ill.), 2005 Notable Acquisitions at the Art Institute of Chicago Art Institute of Chicago, James N. Wood, Gale A. Pearson, 2004 The culmination of a two part project this volume takes an extended look at recent important acquisitions by the Art Institute of Chicago's departments of American Arts Architecture Asian Art European Painting and Prints and Drawings Bringing the museum's collecting activities into wide public view it showcases over forty notable works handpicked by Art Institute curators and the museum's director and president James N Wood Together with its companion issue which was published in Fall 2003 this publication explores art works acquired between 1992 and 2003 years that have brought significant additions to every area of the Art Institute's holdings This volume surveys an impressive array of objects including a glittering Empire card table from early nineteenth century New York a fragment of Frank Lloyd Wright's Imperial Hotel Tokyo 1923 and important paintings and works on paper by artists as diverse as Lee Krasner Edvard Munch Ni Zan and Rembrandt van Rijn Illuminated by striking full colour reproductions and a lively accessible text this is an indispensable guide to the newest and finest the Art Institute has to offer

Notable Acquisitions at the Art Institute of Chicago Since 1980 Art Institute of Chicago, 1992 Who Owns Antiquity? James Cuno, 2010-10-18 Whether antiquities should be returned to the countries where they were found is one of the most urgent and controversial issues in the art world today and it has pitted museums private collectors and dealers against source countries archaeologists and academics Maintaining that the acquisition of undocumented antiquities by museums encourages the looting of archaeological sites countries such as Italy Greece Egypt Turkey and China have claimed ancient artifacts as state property called for their return from museums around the world and passed laws against their future export But in Who Owns Antiquity one of the world's leading museum directors vigorously challenges this nationalistic position arguing that it is damaging and often disingenuous Antiquities James Cuno argues are the cultural property of all humankind evidence of the world's ancient past and not that of a particular modern nation They comprise antiquity and antiquity knows no borders Cuno argues that nationalistic retention and reclamation policies impede common access to this common heritage and encourage a dubious and dangerous politicization of antiquities and of culture itself Antiquities need to be protected from looting but also from nationalistic identity politics To do this Cuno calls for measures to broaden rather than restrict international access to antiquities He advocates restoration of the system under which source countries would share newly discovered artifacts in exchange for archaeological help and he argues that museums should again be allowed reasonable ways to acquire undocumented antiquities Cuno explains how partage broadened access to our ancient heritage and helped create national museums in Cairo Baghdad and Kabul The first extended defense of the side of museums in the struggle over antiquities Who Owns Antiquity is sure to be as important as it is controversial Some images inside the book are unavailable due to digital copyright restrictions The Art Institute of Chicago Annual Report Art Institute of

Chicago, 1984 Bulletin of the Art Institute of Chicago, 1922 Notable Acquisitions, 1984-1985 Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1985 Perspective: Selected Essays on Space in Art and Design Sarina Miller, 2023-09-12 Perspective Selected Essays on Space in Art and Design explores the ways in which visual and physical space have been designed and experienced in different cultures This book amplifies the significance of space as a design element by examining its implications in various contexts through a global perspective of art and design Whose Culture? James Cuno, 2012-05-23 The international controversy over who owns antiquities has pitted museums against archaeologists and source countries where ancient artifacts are found In his book Who Owns Antiquity James Cuno argued that antiquities are the cultural property of humankind not of the countries that lay exclusive claim to them Now in Whose Culture Cuno assembles preeminent museum directors curators and scholars to explain for themselves what is at stake in this struggle and why the museums critics couldn't be more wrong Source countries and archaeologists favor tough cultural property laws restricting the export of antiquities have fought for the return of artifacts from museums worldwide and claim the acquisition of undocumented antiquities encourages looting of archaeological sites In Whose Culture leading figures from universities and museums in the United States and Britain argue that modern nation states have at best a dubious connection with the ancient cultures they claim to represent and that archaeology has been misused by nationalistic identity politics They explain why exhibition is essential to responsible acquisitions why our shared art heritage trumps nationalist agendas why restrictive cultural property laws put antiquities at risk from unstable governments and more Defending the principles of art as the legacy of all humankind and museums as instruments of inquiry and tolerance Whose Culture brings reasoned argument to an issue that for too long has been distorted by politics and emotionalism In addition to the editor the contributors are Kwame Anthony Appiah Sir John Boardman Michael F Brown Derek Gillman Neil MacGregor John Henry Merryman Philippe de Montebello David I Owen and James C Y Watt Making Marvels Wolfram Koeppe, Noam Andrews, Florian Thaddäus Bayer, Jens Ludwig Burk, Wolfram Dölz, Ana Matisse Donefer-Hickie, Karsten Gaulke, Michael Korey, Lothar Lambacher, Peter Plassmeyer, Paulus Rainer, Antje Scherner, Konrad Schlegel, Pamela H. Smith, Dirk Syndram, 2019-11-25 Featuring more than 150 treasures from several of the world's most prestigious collections Making Marvels explores the vital intersection of art technology and political power at the courts of early modern Europe It was there from the sixteenth through eighteenth centuries that a remarkable outpouring of creativity and learning gave rise to exquisite objects that were at once beautiful works of art and technological wonders By amassing vast glittering collections of these ingeniously crafted objects princes flaunted their wealth and competed for mastery over the known world More than mere status symbols however many of these marvels ushered in significant advancements that have had a lasting influence on astronomy engineering and even international politics Incisive texts by leading scholars situate these works within the rich complex symbolism of life at court where science and splendor were pursued with equal vigor and together contributed to a culture of magnificence Museum Studies Art Institute of Chicago,1993 Africa and Byzantium Andrea Myers Achi,2023-11-13 Medieval art history has long emphasized the glories of the Byzantine Empire but less known are the profound artistic contributions of Nubia Egypt Ethiopia and other powerful African kingdoms whose pivotal interactions with Byzantium had an indelible impact on the medieval Mediterranean world Bringing together more than 170 masterworks in a range of media and techniques from mosaic sculpture pottery and metalwork to luxury objects panel paintings and religious manuscripts Africa and Byzantium recounts Africa's centrality in transcontinental networks of trade and cultural exchange With incisive scholarship and new photography of works rarely or never before seen in public this long overdue publication sheds new light on the staggering artistic achievements of late antique Africa It reconsiders northern and eastern Africa's contributions to the development of the premodern world and offers a more complete history of the region as a vibrant multiethnic society of diverse languages and faiths that played a crucial role in the artistic economic and cultural life of Byzantium and beyond The Medici: Portraits and Politics 1512-1570 Keith Christiansen,Carlo Falciani,Andrea Bayer,Elizabeth Cropper, Davide Gasparotto,Sefy Hendler,Antonella Fenech Kroke,Tommaso Mozzati,Elizabeth Pilliod,Julia Siemon,Linda Wolk-Simon,2021-04-19 Between 1512 and 1570 Florence underwent dramatic political transformations As citizens jockeyed for prominence portraits became an essential means not only of recording a likeness but also of conveying a sitter's character social position and cultural ambitions This fascinating book explores the ways that painters including Jacopo Pontormo Agnolo Bronzino and Francesco Salviati sculptors such as Benvenuto Cellini and artists in other media endowed their works with an erudite and self consciously stylish character that made Florentine portraiture distinctive The Medici family had ruled Florence without interruption between 1434 and 1494 Following their return to power in 1512 Cosimo I de Medici who became the second Duke of Florence in 1537 demonstrated a particularly shrewd ability to wield culture as a political tool in order to transform Florence into a dynastic duchy and give Florentine art the central position it has held ever since Featuring more than ninety remarkable paintings sculptures works on paper and medals this volume is written by a team of leading international authors and presents a sweeping penetrating exploration of a crucial and vibrant period in Italian art Ebony ,1997-02 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Moving Rooms John Harris,2007-01-01 Since at least Tudor times there have been architectural salvages panelling chimney pieces doorways or any fixtures and fittings might be removed from an old interior to be replaced by more fashionable ones Not surprisingly a trade developed and architects builders masons and sculptors sought out these salvages By 1820 there was a growing profession of brokers and dealers in London and a century later antique shops were commonplace throughout England This fascinating book documents the break up sale and re use of salvages in Britain and America where the fashion for so called Period Rooms became a mainstay of the transatlantic trade Much appreciated by museum visitors period rooms have become something of a scholarly embarrassment as research reveals that many were assembled from a variety of sources One American embraced the trade as no other the larger than life William Randolph Hearst who purchased tens of thousands of architectural salvages between 1900 and 1935 The Art Review ,1906 A Deadly Art: European Crossbows, 1250-1850 Breiding, Dirk H.,2013 The advent of the crossbow more than 2 500 years ago effected dramatic changes for hunters and warriors For centuries it was among the most powerful and widely used handheld weapons and its popularity endures to this day A Deadly Art presents a lively accessible survey of the crossbow s golden age along with detailed descriptions of twenty four remarkable examples Beginning in the middle ages the European aristocracy s enthusiasm for the crossbow heralded shooting competitions and pageants that featured elaborately decorated weapons bearing elegant embellishments of rare materials and prized artistry In addition to being highly functional these weapons were magnificent works of art A Deadly Art includes fascinating descriptions of crossbows used by Margaret of Savoy and Holy Roman Emperors Maximilian I and Charles V among others Publisher s description World-Changing Women Paul Chrystal,2025-03-31 Highlights 150 influential women from pre classical civilizations ancient Egypt and Israel reshaping history by defying patriarchal norms Countless books have been written about prominent women in Greece and Rome so we know all about Medea Sappho Lucretia Boudica and Cleopatra and their significant actions and achievements This book extends the invaluable story of women in early history to pre classical civilizations ancient Egypt and Israel to include prominent women in those civilizations as well thus introducing them and their roles and places in their respective societies and social histories to a wide audience The aim of this book is to demonstrate how 150 women most little known significantly influenced informed and changed the worlds in which they lived We show how a small disparate body of women in each of these periods united by their determination and strength of mind were able to break free from the norms and values of the patriarchal societies which confined and restricted them to make a valuable difference to their individual societies cultures politics and foreign policies in so doing they have changed perceptions of women and the role women were subsequently allowed to play Some of the women are well known others less so The book reinforces the reputations of those who have endured popularity over the centuries and where necessary realigns those reputations after years of prejudice and the vicissitudes of sexism misogyny Hollywood and sensationalist literature For those who have been written out of mainstream history and relegated to footnotes at best this is a chance to re introduce them and the impact they have made on their and our world Their relative anonymity does not mean that they are less important on the contrary they are equally significant and the more we know about them the better if we want a rounded picture of the civilizations to which they contributed so much Each chapter is followed by suggestions for further reading to encourage further research European Sculpture, 1400-1900, in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.),Ian Wardropper,2011 This beautiful book features masterpieces of sculpture in the collection of the Metropolitan Museum dating from the Renaissance through the nineteenth century Celebrated works by the great European sculptors including Luca and Andrea della Robbia Juan Martinez Montañés Gianlorenzo Bernini Jean Antoine Houdon Bertel Thorvaldsen Antoine Louis Barye Jean Baptiste Carpeaux Edgar Degas and Auguste Rodin are joined by striking new additions to the collection notably Franz Xaver Messerschmidt's remarkable bust of a troubled and introspective man The ninety-two selected examples are diverse in media marble bronze wood terracotta and ivory and size ranging from a tiny oil lamp fantastically conceived and decorated by the Renaissance bronze sculptor Riccio to Antonio Canova's eight-foot high Perseus with the Head of Medusa executed in the heroic Neoclassical style Incorporating information from the latest scholarly research and recent conservation studies sculpture specialist Ian Wardropper discusses the history and significance of the highlighted works each of which is reproduced with glorious new photography
