Steeped in Heritage Sarah Fleming Ives, 2017-10-19

South African rooibos tea is a commodity of contrasts. Renowned for its healing properties, the rooibos plant grows in a region defined by the violence of poverty, dispossession and racism. And while rooibos is hailed as an ecologically indigenous commodity, it is farmed by people who struggle to express authentic belonging to the land. Afrikaners who espouse a white African indigeneity and coloureds who are characterized either as the mixed race progeny of extinct Bushmen or as possessing a false identity indigenous to nowhere. In Steeped in Heritage, Sarah Ives explores how these groups advance alternate claims of indigeneity based on the cultural ownership of an indigenous plant. This heritage-based struggle over rooibos shows how communities negotiate landscapes marked by racial dispossession within an ecosystem imperiled by climate change and precarious social relations in the postapartheid era.
