Re Orient Change In Asian Societies:

Re Orient Aat Emile Vervoorn, 2002 At the beginning of the new century Asia remains the most dynamic and unpredictable region in the world Recent events have highlighted the need for a better understanding of the diverse peoples of the region their traditions and their responses to the inter related changes that together make up what is called globalisation The first edition of Re Orient Change in Asian Society was praised for its ability to make sense of those changes its accurate and succinct analysis of Asian experience advances understanding of our own as well as Asian societies In this new edition the discussion is as engaging and stimulating as before but has been updated to take into account the rapid course of events in Asia since the late 1990s from the Asian financial crisis to emergence of post Suharto Indonesia from India s population reaching one billion to independence in East Timor Re Orient Aat Emile Vervoorn, 2005 Publisher description

Re Orient Robert H. Vervoorn, Reconfiguring Families in Contemporary Vietnam Danièle Bélanger, Magali Barbieri, 2009-03-18 Reconfiguring Families in Contemporary Vietnam chronicles and analyzes the most significant change for families in Vietnam s recent past the transition to a market economy referred to as Doi Moi in Vietnamese and generally translated as the renovation Two decades have passed since the wide ranging institutional transformations that took place reconfigured the ways families produce and reproduce The downsizing of the socialist welfare system and the return of the household as the unit of production and consumption redefined the boundaries between the public and private This volume is the first to offer a multidisciplinary perspective that sets its gaze exclusively on processes at work in the everyday lives of families and on the implications for gender and intergenerational relations By focusing on families this book shifts the spotlight from macro transformations of the renovation era orchestrated by those in power to micro level transformations experienced daily in households between husbands and wives parents and children grandparents and other family members

Handbook of Globalization and the Environment Khi V. Thai, Dianne Rahm, Jerrell D. Cogburn, 2017-09-25 Proponents of globalization argue that it protects the global environment from degradation and promotes worldwide sustainable economic growth while opponents argue the exact opposite Examining the local national and international impacts of globalization the Handbook of Globalization and the Environment explores strategies and solutions that support healthy economic growth protect the environment and create a more equitable world The book sets the stage with coverage of global environmental issues and policies It explores international sustainable development the evolution of global warming policy transborder air pollution desertification space and the global environment and human right to water Building on this foundation the editors discuss global environmental organizations and institutions with coverage of the UN s role in globalization the trade environment nexus the emergence of NGOs and an analysis of the state of global environmental knowledge and awareness from an international and comparative perspective Emphasizing the effects of increasingly integrated global economy on the environment and society the book examines environmental management and accountability It addresses green procurement provides an overview of U S environmental regulation and the current range of voluntary and mandatory pollution prevention mechanisms in use explores a two pronged approach to establishing a sustainable procurement model and examines a collaborative community based approach to environmental regulatory compliance The book concludes with an analysis of controversial issues such as eco terrorism North South disputes environmental justice the promotion of economic growth through globalization in less developed countries and the ability of scientists to communicate ideas so that policy makers can use science in decision making

Investigating Local Knowledge Paul Sillitoe, 2019-05-23 Originally published in 2004 Local knowledge reflects many generations of experience and problem solving by people around the world increasingly affected by globalizing forces Such knowledge is far more sophisticated than development professionals previously assumed and as such represents an immensely valuable resource A growing number of governments and international development agencies are recognizing that local level knowledge and organizations offer the foundation for new participatory models of development that are both cost effective and sustainable and ecologically and socially sound This book provides a timely overview of new directions and new approaches to investigating the role of rural communities in generating knowledge founded on their sophisticated understandings of their environments devising mechanisms to conserve and sustain their natural resources and establishing community based organizations that serve as forums for identifying problems and dealing with them through local level experimentation innovation and exchange of information with other societies These studies show that development activities that work with and through local knowledge and organizations have several important advantages over projects that operate outside them Local knowledge informs grassroots decision making much of which takes place through indigenous organizations and associations at the community level as people seek to identify and determine solutions to their problems

An Asian Perspective on Mediation Joel Lee, Hwee Hwee Teh, 2009 The prevailing mediation model and process is drawn primarily from the West For a long time there has been a call for conflict management approaches that are more appropriate for the Asian context This book answers the call by identifying cultural values and norms that affect how conflicts may be perceived through Asian lenses and how conflict management processes and practices should be structured Discourses, Agency and Identity in Malaysia Zawawi Ibrahim, Gareth Richards, Victor T. King, 2021-10-23 This book seeks to break new ground both empirically and conceptually in examining discourses of identity formation and the agency of critical social practices in Malaysia Taking an inclusive cultural studies perspective it questions the ideological narrative of race and ethnicity that dominates explanations of conflicts and cleavages in the Malaysian context The contributions are organised in three broad themes Identities in Contestation Borders Complexities and Hybridities takes a range of empirical studies literary translation religion gender ethnicity indigeneity and sexual orientation to break down preconceived notions of fixed identities This then opens up an examination of Identities and Movements Agency and Alternative Discourses in which contributors deal with counter hegemonic social movements of anti racism young people environmentalism and independent publishing that explicitly seek to open up greater critical democratic space within the Malaysian polity The third section Identities and Narratives Culture and the Media then provides a close textual reading of some exemplars of new cultural and media practices found in oral testimonies popular music film radio programming and storytelling who have consciously created bodies of work that question the dominant national narrative This book is a valuable interdisciplinary work for advanced students and researchers interested in representations of identity and nationhood in Malaysia and for those with wider interests in the fields of critical cultural studies and discourse analysis Here is a fresh startling book to aid the task of unbinding the straitjackets of Malay Chinese and Indian with which colonialism bound Malaysia s plural inheritance and on which the postcolonial state continues to rely In it a panoply of unlikely identities Bajau liminality Kelabit philosophy Islamic feminism refugee hybridity and more finds expression and offers hope for liberation Rachel Leow University of Cambridge This book shakes the foundations of race thinking in Malaysian studies by expanding the range of cases perspectives and outcomes of identity It offers students of Malaysia an examination of identity and agency that is expansive critical and engaging and its interdisciplinary depth brings Malaysian studies into conversation with scholarship across the world Sumit Mandal University of Nottingham Malaysia This is a much needed work that helps us to take apart the colonial inherited categories of race which informed the notion of the plural society the idea of plurality without multiculturalism It complicates the picture of identity by bringing in religion gender indigeneity and sexual orientation and helps us to imagine what a truly multiculturalist Malaysia might look like Syed Farid Alatas National University of Singapore

Reconfiguring Public Relations David McKie, Debashish Munshi, 2007-05-24 This book reconfigures the field of public relations so that it can better engage with the changing world of the 21st century It identifies the virtual absence of contemporary theories that are core in other disciplines and fills the gap by integrating critical postmodern poststructural postcolonial and other relevant theories into public relations Reconfiguring Public Relations reenergises thinking about diversity through equity and in terms of business enterprise and environmental sustainability It makes the case for more equitable diversity strategies in an era of increasing globalisation and establishes their relevance to organisational identity and core values The book clarifies the present by taking a look back at the past and projecting forward to possible futures including scenarios

Regionalism and Globalization in East Asia Mark Beeson, 2017-08-24 This book examines the distinctive evolution of the political and economic relationships of East Asia It does this by placing East Asian development in the unique historical circumstances that have underpinned its rise to power over the last few decades This detailed analysis provides the basis for an assessment of a unified East Asian region

The Unraveling of Island Asia? Bruce Vaughn, 2002-04-30 This edited collection takes a primary focus on security issues in Oceania but here the word security is expanded to include such topics as domestic Indonesian and Philippine instability environmental degradation the work of international crime syndicates the generic problem of post colonial state failure and the always overhanging concern with China in short all of the significant troubles roiling Island Asia today Using this expanded notion of security and stability the volume pulls in new anxieties about global warming which may submerge half of the South Pacific microstates within the next 30 years and pollution which covers Indonesia and Malaysia in thick smoke now visible from space as well as traversing the more traditional security and economic issues Vaughn and his contributors describe a 7 000 mile swath of wobbly island states ranging from the world's fourth most populous country to tiny bogus sovereignties in thrall to globalized criminals through which more than 1 trillion worth of goods move each year An important resource for scholars students researchers and policy makers involved with Oceania and Asian studies as well as contemporary geo political concerns

Sex, Love and Feminism in the Asia Pacific Chilla Bulbeck, 2008-10-27 This book explores feminism the women's movement and gender relations in the Asia Pacific region Through a comparative analysis of ten countries both Asian and Western it examines important issues such as attitudes towards feminism family relations sex and same sex sexual relations abortion rights nudity and pornography

Globalization, Culture and Inequality in Asia Timothy J. Scrase, Todd Joseph Miles Holden, Scott Baum, 2003

Contemplating globalization from a sociological perspective it is without doubt that a major site for social political economic and cultural change in the new millennium lies in the Asian region The chapters in this book seek to describe and analyze a number of key aspects of social and cultural change wrought by globalization in the Asian region The underlying theme in the book is the multi dimensional way in which globalization in the form of ideas practices and technology have introduced social inequalities in specific contexts In particular the book examines how inequality has been reproduced challenged and theorized in Asia by the advent of globalizing culture Written by experienced and established scholars the study provides both theoretical explanation and discussion and analysis of empirical data from a range of social cultural and political economic perspectives and draws on studies from several countries in the region

Living Together Suzanne Majhanovich, Christine Fox, Adila Pasalic Kreso, 2009-04-30 SUZANNE MAJHANOVICH and CHRISTINE FOX Originally published in the journal International Review of Education Volume 54 Nos 3 4 287 297 DOI 10 1007 s11159 008 9097 9 Springer Science Business Media B V 2008 The papers in this collection have been selected from over 800 presentations given at the XIIIth World Congress of Comparative Education Societies held at the University of Sarajevo Bosnia and Herzegovina from 3 to 7 September 2007 The Congress was hosted on behalf of the WCCES by the Mediterranean Society of Comparative Education and in association with the International Association of Intercultural Education For such an international gathering it was appropriate that the theme chosen was Living Together Education and Intercultural Dialogue providing scope for contributions by participating scholars policy makers and practitioners in education from some 70 countries The presenters approached contemporary educational issues with knowledge and insights about a world characterized by the tensions and demands of global and local interests by regional conflicts and post conflict deliberations and by the global diaspora with cultural religious and linguistic diversity within both small and large states Only a very few papers could be included for this collection but they represent some of the key topics under discussion during the Congress The papers were selected from the recommendations of the convenors of the 13 Thematic Groups the keynote addresses and several symposia Popular Culture in Asia Lorna Fitzsimmons, John A. Lent, 2013-05-07 Popular Culture in Asia consists of studies of film music architecture television and computer mediated communication in China Japan South Korea Taiwan the Philippines Malaysia and Singapore addressing three topics urban modernities modernity celebrity and fan culture and memory and modernity

Southeast Asian Affairs 2001 Daljit Singh, Anthony Smith, 2001 Southeast Asian Affairs of which there are now twenty eight in the series is an annual review of significant developments and trends in the region Though the emphasis is on ASEAN countries developments in the broader Asia Pacific region are not ignored Readable and easily understood analyses are offered of major political economic social and strategic developments within Southeast Asia The contributions can be divided into two broad categories There are those which provide an analysis of major developments during 2000 in individual Southeast Asian countries and in the region generally Then there are the theme articles of a more specialized nature which deal with topical problems of concern This volume contains twenty three articles dealing with such major themes as international conflict and co operation political stability and economic growth and development Ethnicity in Asia Colin

Mackerras, 2003-09-02 A comparative introduction to ethnicity in East and Southeast Asia since 1945 Each chapter covers a particular country looking at core issues such as ethnic minorities and groups population language culture and traditional religion Women Writers in Postsocialist China Kay Schaffer, Xianlin Song, 2013-07-31 What does it mean to read from elsewhere Women Writers in Postsocialist China introduces readers to a range and variety of contemporary Chinese women's writing which has seen phenomenal growth in recent years The book addresses the different ways women's issues are understood in China and the West attending to the processes of translation adaptation and the grafting of new ideas with existing Chinese understandings of gender feminism subjectivity consumerism and post modernism By focusing on women's autobiographical biographical fictional and historical writing the book engages in a transcultural flow of ideas between western and indigenous Chinese feminisms Taking account of the accretions of social cultural geographic literary economic and political movements and trends cultural formations and ways of thinking it asks how the texts and the concepts they negotiate might be understood in the social and cultural spaces within China and how they might be interpreted differently elsewhere in the global locations in which they circulate The book argues that women centred writing in China has a direct bearing on global feminist theory and practice This critical study of selected genres and writers highlights the shifts in feminist perspectives within contemporary local and global cultural landscapes Regional Minorities and Development in Asia Huhua Cao, Elizabeth Morrell, 2009-09-10 Asia has undergone strong economic growth since the Second World War However it also experiences growing economic and regional disparities brought about by this unprecedented development

This economic growth cannot be considered sustainable without taking into consideration the social development of minority populations as well as the fundamentals of minority rights. The chapters in this book work from the premise that an environment that favours the emergence of various conditions necessary for the development of minority populations will contribute towards further economic development and prosperity as well as the social cohesion of the entire country. Bringing together perspectives from Economics, Development and Area Studies, Geography, Anthropology and Sociology, the contributors provide local narratives that shed light on some of the different needs, situations and methods of problem solving. This diverse approach gives a nuanced perspective on social, economic and political inequality and the ways in which people are constructing varied responses to the challenges of modernization. Through the comparison of the characteristics and realities of minority region development among countries in East and Southeast Asia, this book provides a better understanding of the development-related challenges faced by minority regions in the current context of modernization and globalization.
