S. Wu, Andrew J. Stark, Bradley Allard, 2022-01-26 Literacy and Reading Programmes for Children and Young People Case Studies from Around the Globe presents interviews with over 40 librarians from around the world who tell of their library programs The volumes are arranged geographically with Volume 1 offering interviews from library professionals from the USA and Europe and with Volume 2 sharing programs from Asia Africa Australia and the Middle East The volumes highlight the diversity of the types of programs catering to the varying needs of children and young adults throughout the world Case studies featured in this book outline the details of programs events and activities provided by over 40 organizations in the context of social capital and social inclusion Each interview chapter discusses the contributions made to literacy development and community building of children and teens With the many variations and examples of best practice librarians and educators can glean new ideas for their own programs The interviews reveal the challenges and issues faced and the work being achieved in vastly different environments in many geographic areas and in diverse economic social and cultural contexts The programs include those of national and state libraries public libraries and mobile libraries carried out by public libraries NGOs and commercial organizations in both developed and developing countries They also feature programs of multicultural libraries libraries for indigenous people and libraries for refugees This publication complements the range of initiatives and activities carried out by IFLA's Libraries for Children and Young Adults Section that supports library services and reading promotion initiatives catering to children and young adults around the world These volumes are rich in variety and will provide much food for thought for creating unique and successful library programs

Adults in Play with Children Niklas Pramling, Ann Farrell, Cecilia Wallerstedt, Malin Nilsen, 2025-09-30 This is an Open access book This work addresses the presence and participation of adults in play with children Rather than discussing this issue on ideological ground the international contributions build on empirical data and report research conducted in many different contexts and settings around the world Responding to the many forms it takes play is defined from different theoretical points of view Amongst the topics addressed in the chapters are the ethics of participation play with refugee children democracy and play multilingualism in play development of play and imagination For knowledge building on children's lives childhoods and early childhood education and care it is important to develop empirically and theoretically what processes come into play when children and adults play together whether in play initiated and framed by adults or play initiated by children and to which adults try to gain entry Primarily intended for researchers interested in play and intergenerational communication the book is also valuable for professionals working with children in different kinds of early childhood settings

Sugar and Spice, and Everything Nice: Exploring Prosocial Development Through Infancy and Early Childhood Chris Moore, Markus Paulus, Amanda Williams, 2015-05-18 Prosocial behaviors such as sharing helping and comforting begin to emerge early in development The presence of these prosocial behaviors is important not only in childhood but throughout one's lifetime as behaving prosocially is important for social functioning and maintaining social relationships For many years researchers have been interested in how and when these behaviors develop as well as how these behaviors are influenced by a variety of factors Recently however exciting new research has shown novel and surprising findings particularly on the early development and ontogenetic origins of prosocial behavior Research in this area is important as by understanding what influences prosocial behavior we may be better able to sustain and support the development of prosociality Further a richer understanding may help us to be better able to mediate factors that impede or negatively influence positive social behaviors as well as negate triggers that may lead to negative social behaviors Many theoretical views guide different streams of developmental research in this field Here we will bring together scholars from various theoretical backgrounds to collectively explore the development of early prosocial behaviors from early infancy to early school aged children Contributors will offer insights using a variety of methodologies from various resource allocation paradigms derived from economist game theorists to looking time paradigms and more Together we seek to broadly explore questions pertaining to prosocial development for example at what age do prosocial behaviors moral understanding or social selectivity emerge Contributors will individually address unique research questions across a spectrum of topics For example how prosocial behaviors are influenced by underlying mechanisms such as moral emotions e g guilt and sympathy will be explored as will how children s expectations may shape their behaviors and how they come to care about others Questions surrounding different contexts will also be investigated For example how does empathy influence prosociality Do children treat partners differently depending on their past behaviors wealth or other characteristics Does whether there is a cost associated with behaving prosocially influence decision making By incorporating the work of numerous researchers in the field of prosocial development who contribute comprehensive reviews of past research unique theoretical perspectives and empirical approaches the proposed research topic endeavors to provide new insights into a breadth of prosocial behaviors In sum the proposed research topic will contribute to our understanding of prosocial development in the early years by highlighting the relevant factors and contexts under which prosocial behavior emerges
