A Reader in Modern Literary Arabic. [Magnetic Tapes]. Farhat Jacob Ziadeh, 1966      A Reader in Modern Literary Arabic Farhat Joseph Ziadeh, 1964      A Reader of Modern Arabic Short Stories Sabry Hafez, Catherine Cobham, 2012-01-30 This reader consists of the full Arabic texts of eleven short stories by established Egyptian, Iraqi, Syrian, and Jordanian writers. The earliest story written in 1929 is by the Egyptian Mahmud Tahir Lashin and the most recent written in 1972 is by the Iraqi writer Fu'ad al-Takarli. Each story is supplemented by an introduction with biographical information about the author, placing him in his literary context, a description of the contents, and a brief analysis of the story itself in English. Ideal for students of Arabic language and literature, the aim of this collection is to encourage a literary appreciation of modern Arabic texts and an understanding of some of the cultural conflicts reflected in the writings. Writers included are Ghalib Halasa, Yahya Haqqi, Yusuf Idris, Idwar El Kharrat, and Zakariyya Tamir.

Transformational Grammar Of Modern Literary Arabic M.Z. Kebbe, 2013-01-11 First Published in 2000. This transformational analysis will greatly enrich the field of Arabic linguistics. While the majority of works on the Arabic language have concentrated on regional dialects, the present work fulfills a longfelt need by focusing on modern written or literary Arabic. Although literary Arabic is not used in casual conversation in any of the Arab countries, it is the formal and official form of the language and has great influence on the colloquial dialects particularly those spoken by educated Arabs Arranged in five chapters the work gives particular emphasis to three major types of Arabic sentences the co ordinate the negative and the interrogative and gives a generative account of them The work is largely based on transformational theory as formulated by Chomsky but reference is made to subsequent development in linguistic theory

Pilgrims of Christ on the Muslim Road Paul-Gordon Chandler,2008-11-16 For publicity events and speaking engagements see <http://www.paulgordonchandler.com/schedule.htm> Today s tensions between the Islamic East and Christian West run high Here Paul Gordon Chandler presents fresh thinking in the area of Christian Muslim relations showing how Christ whom Islam reveres as a Prophet and Christianity worships as the divine Messiah can close the gap between the two religions Historically Christians have taken a confrontational or missionary approach toward Islam leading many Muslims to identify Christianity with the cultural prejudices and hegemonic ambitions of Westerners On the individual level Christ followers within Islam have traditionally been encouraged by Christians to break away from their Muslim communities Chandler boldly explores how these two major religions which share much common heritage can not only co exist but also enrich each other He illustrates his perspective with examples from the life of Syrian novelist Mazhar Mallouhi widely read in the Middle East Mallouhi a self identified Sufi Muslim follower of Christ seeks to bridge the chasm of misunderstanding between Muslims and Christians through his novels

Religion, Mysticism and Modern Arabic Literature Reuven Snir,2006 One of the significant phenomena in modern Arabic literature since the 1960s has been the use of mystical concepts figures and motifs for the expression of contemporary experiences philosophies and ideologies The book investigates this phenomenon mainly with regard to the creative poetic process and the use of literary masks It also deals with the complicated relationship between Arabic literature and Islam as well as with the literary activities by religious traditional circles In a welter of publications committed Muslim authors try to prove that there is no inherent contradiction between art and Islam and at the same time to lay the theoretical foundations for an Islamist poetics encompassing the various branches of literary production Within the secular canonical circles however these activities and texts are considered extremely marginal and none of the authors concerned has gained any canonical status The growing number of cases in which attempts at censorship on religious and moral grounds have been challenged prove also that Arabic literature has become more and more secular
