The Risk of Reading Robert P. Waxler, 2014-09-25 The Risk of Reading is a defense of the idea that deep and close readings of literature can help us to understand ourselves and the world around us It explores some of the meaning and implications of modern life through the deep reading of significant books Waxler argues that we need fiction to give our so called real life meaning and that reading narrative fiction remains crucial to the making of a humane and democratic society Beginning by exploring the implications of thinking about the importance of story in terms of real life The Risk of Reading focuses on the importance of human language especially language shaped into narrative and how that language is central to the human quest for identity Waxler argues that we are linguistic beings and that reading literary narrative is a significant way to enrich and preserve the traditional sense of human identity and knowledge This is especially true in the midst of a culture which too often celebrates visual images spectacle electronic devices and celebrity Reading narrative in other words should be considered a counter cultural activity crucial on the quest to know thyself Reading literature is one of the best opportunities we have today to maintain a coherent human identity and remain self reflective individuals in a world that seems particularly chaotic and confusing Each chapter takes up a well known work of nineteenth or twentieth century literature in order to discuss more fully these issues exploring in particular the notion of life as a journey or quest and the crucial relationship between language and our contingent everyday existence Of particular interest along the way is the question of what literary narrative can teach us about our mortality and how stories offer opportunities to reflect on the ambivalent and profound meaning of mortal knowledge

Sidiropoulou, 2005 Papers presented at the Choice and difference in translation international conference organized by the Faculty of English Studies University of Athens December 3-6 2003 Pref and acknowledgements School, 1902 The Matrix and the Alice Books Voicu Mihnea Simandan, 2010-01-25 The book presents aspects of intertextuality in the motion picture The Matrix and the books Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and Through the Looking Glass by Lewis Carroll. It makes use of a literary construction developed from Gérard Genette's structuralist theory of transtextuality as a framework to present how a web of intertextual relationships is clearly formed between the Alice books and The Matrix Wheeler's Graded Literary Readers William Iler Crane, 1919 Wheeler's Graded Literary Readers, with Interpretations William Iler Crane, William Henry Wheeler, 1919 Alice In Wonderland: Based on the Original Story by Lewis Carroll Maria Robins, 2019-10-11 Join Alice as she tumbles down a rabbit hole into a strange and wonderful land filled with talking animals, strange encounters and nothing quite as it seems. Based on the original story by Lewis Carroll, this book retells the story in a simplified way for younger readers aged 5-8 years The Rhetoric of Affirmative Resistance Julian Wolfreys, 1997-09-12 In this wide-ranging, challenging theoretical study, Julian Wolfreys offers close readings of films, novels and poetry in order to draw attention to the ways in which texts resist acts of reading by performing their own idiomatic, wayward identities. Looking at the construction of identity in Lewis Carroll, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, James Joyce, Maya Deren, Sylvie Germain, Jacques Derrida, Michel Deguy and George Eliot, Wolfreys asks the reader to reassess the textual performance of identity by attending to a rhetoric which is simultaneously both resistant to mastery and affirmative of dissonance.
