Adoption Reckonings Gonda Van Steen, 2025-08-12 This book presents a new theater play For Three Refrigerators and a Washing Machine along with a thorough introduction that provides historical context and theoretical framing The play with the enigmatic title tells the poignant and forgotten stories of international child adoptions from Greece in the 1950s and the 1960s It offers an in depth exploration of the first postwar mass international adoption movement unveiling the emotional and even existential challenges faced by those involved Based on an authentic playscript the book creates awareness about what has not been said should be said but still cannot be said about the losses involved in the permanent uprooting of children and teenagers It tackles the primal questions of Where do I come from and What happened to the child I relinquished for adoption abroad And why did nobody foresee that adopted children become adopted adults who ask critical questions about origins procedures and aftercare Thus the book boldly reflects on the complexities and profound losses associated with displacing children and perpetuating taboos Also it reveals multiple connections to similar adoption movements worldwide which include countries and histories of origin such as Ireland South Korea Vietnam and several states in Central and South America This thought provoking book poses critical questions about identity and belonging that far exceed the Greek setting and continue to be relevant today

Implementing Climate Change Measures in the EU Merle Grobbel, 2008-12-19 What changed in the United States with Hurricane Katrina was a feeling that we have entered a period of consequences Al Gore On February 05 2007 the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC published the executive summary of its fourth assessment report to be published April 06 2007 In the summary it not only acknowledged that climate change is happening at an accelerated rate but also that its consequences would be dreary changes in precipitation and in wind patterns a rise of the sea levels and desert cation will globally impact the frequency of disasters and impair living standards Whether or not we believe climate change is happening over the past two years we have witnessed a rise of the topic from oblivion to ubiquity and have experienced a growing emphasis on nding measures to prevent climate change There is an unprecedented agreement among environmentalists politicians the public and industry that we have to take effective action Politicians are putting their creative plans to action unusually fast Australia bans the light bulb B gium switches off lamps along lighted highways and the US introduces daylight savings time two weeks earlier than in previous years Industry the most unlikely candidate for support is rallying together in action groups like US Cap or 2 Grad and more and more consumers are offsetting their emissions through websites like myclimate The Proceedings of the Hague Peace Conferences James Brown Scott,1921 Handbook of Reading Research, Volume II Rebecca Barr,Michael L. Kamil,Peter B. Mosenthal,P David Pearson,2016-11-18 A comprehensive overview of important contemporary issues in the field of reading research from the mid 1980s to mid 1990s this well received volume offers readers an examination of literacy through a variety of lenses some permitting microscopic views and others panoramic views A veritable who s who of specialists in the field chapter authors cover current methodology as well as cumulative research based knowledge Because it deals with society and literacy the first section provides the broadest possible view of literacy The second section defines the range of activities culturally determined to be a part of the enterprise known as literacy The third focuses on the processes that individuals engage in when they perform the act of reading The fourth section visits the environment in which the knowledge that comprises literacy is passed on from one generation to the next The last section an epilogue to the whole enterprise of reading research provides apt philosophical reflection Reading in the mobile era West, Mark,Chew Han Ei,2014-04-28 Millions of people do not read for one reason they do not have access to text But mobile phones and cellular networks are transforming a scarce resource into an abundant one Drawing on the analysis of over 4 000 surveys collected in seven developing countries and corresponding qualitative interviews this report paints a detailed picture of who reads books and stories on mobile devices and why The findings illuminate for the first time the habits beliefs and profiles of mobile readers in developing countries This information points to strategies to expand mobile reading and by extension the educational and socio economic benefits associated with increased reading Mobile technology can advance literacy and learning in underserved communities around the world This report shows how Master Adoption Janine Myung Ja, We don t have adoption issues we have an issue with adoption The author offers a rare perspective based on the natural law of identity and equal rights even for adopted people If you believe adopted people should have the same rights as all other humans you will find value in this rare book advocating for equality The author provides an Eastern and Metaphysical view that is aligned with all international human rights treaties and rooted in the Taoist way of nature which appreciates who we are as we are. Nope we're not sinful creatures. We're sacred souls. Overseas adoption is exploitation because the commodification of children violates the natural inherent civil constitutional universal and God-given rights of the child which are inborn and innate and also recognized and enshrined in several state and international conventions and declarations such as at the United Nations in the US Constitution the Bill of Rights and the Declaration of Independence. All humans on earth except for adopted people have access to the truth of their biology and ancestry. In contrast, due to continuously reformed and refined draconian adoption laws spearheaded by evangelical agencies, adopted people are deprived of such equality. No matter how the multi-billion dollar industry is refined and reformed, adoption laws are rooted in the commodification of children and as a consequence deprive individuals of what is innately theirs. Master Adoption Claim Your Authentic Power offers adopted people a rare perspective steeped in solidarity rooted in the truth of who we are.

In a time of pressures, challenges, and threats to public education, teacher preparation, and funding for educational research, the fifth volume of the Handbook of Reading Research takes a hard look at why we undertake reading research, how school structures, contexts, and policies shape students' learning, and most importantly, how we can realize greater impact from the research conducted. A comprehensive volume with a gaps and game changers frame, this handbook not only synthesizes current reading research literature but also informs promising directions for research, pushing readers to address problems and challenges in research design or method. Bringing the field authoritatively and comprehensively up to date since the publication of the Handbook of Reading Research Volume IV, this volume presents multiple perspectives that will facilitate new research development, tackling topics including diverse student populations and sociocultural perspectives on reading development, digital innovation, literacies and platforms, conceptions of teachers reading readers and texts, and the role of affect, cognition, and social-emotional learning in the reading process. New methods for researching reading instruction with attention to equity, inclusion, and education policies, language development, and reading comprehension, instructional practices to promote reading development and comprehension for diverse groups of readers. Each volume of this handbook has come to define the field for the period of time it covers, and this volume is no exception, providing a definitive compilation of current reading research. This is a must-have resource for all students, teachers, reading specialists, and researchers focused on and interested in reading and literacy research and improving both instruction and programs to cultivate strong readers and teachers.
