The Dream and the Dialogue Alice Templeton,1994 Adrienne Rich s poetry has long engaged critics in questions about the nature of poetic art the character of poetic tradition and the value of poetry as a political and cultural activity At the same time it has attracted many general readers largely because it expresses the personal social and intellectual crises faced by feminists during the last thirty years In this study Alice Templeton looks at the ways in which feminist thinking has influenced Rich s poetics while simultaneously her poetic practice has shaped her feminist conceptions Templeton begins by exploring the tensions between epic eulogistic and lyric claims made in the poems collected in Diving into the Wreck 1973 She then examines the strategies Rich uses in subsequent collections to test and refine her feminist thinking Templeton focuses in particular on the dialogic moments of cultural participation that Rich's poetry provides for the poet and the reader These moments Templeton argues can dispel myths of social determinism even as they implicate readers in an ethically charged communal bond By demonstrating the contributions that Rich has made both to feminist thinking and to our ways of reading poetic tradition The Dream and the Dialogue treats Rich as a poet of ideas and places her work solidly in the context of contemporary literary theory the poetry much of which has received little or no recent critical attention She focuses on the works of a remarkably diverse array of poets including Lucretia Maria Davidson Lydia Sigourney Maria Lowell Frances Ellen Watkins Harper Emily Dickinson Helen Hunt Jackson and Annie Fields Impeccably researched and gracefully written From School to Salon moves the study of nineteenth century women s poetry to a new and momentous level Coming to Light Stanford University.
