Reading African Novels:

African Novels in the Classroom Margaret Jean Hay, 2000 Many teachers of African studies have found novels to be effective assignments in courses In this guide teachers describe their favourite African novels drawn from all over the continent and share their experiences of using them in the classroom How to Read African American Literature Aida Levy-Hussen, 2016-12-13 How to Read African American Literature offers a series of provocations to unsettle the predominant assumptions readers make when encountering post Civil Rights black fiction Foregrounding the large body of literature and criticism that grapples with legacies of the slave past Aida Levy Hussen s argument develops on two levels as a textual analysis of black historical fiction and as a critical examination of the reading practices that characterize the scholarship of our time Drawing on psychoanalysis memory studies and feminist and queer theory Levy Hussen examines how works by Toni Morrison David Bradley Octavia Butler Charles Johnson and others represent and mediate social injury and collective grief In the criticism that surrounds these novels she identifies two major interpretive approaches therapeutic reading premised on the assurance that literary confrontations with historical trauma will enable psychic healing in the present and prohibitive reading anchored in the belief that fictions of returning to the past are dangerous and to be avoided Levy Hussen argues that these norms have become overly restrictive standing in the way of a more supple method of interpretation that recognizes and attends to the indirect unexpected inconsistent and opaque workings of historical fantasy and desire Moving beyond the question of whether literature must heal or abandon historical wounds Levy Hussen proposes new ways to read African American literature now

Makokha, 2013 Reading Contemporary African Literature brings together scholarship on critical debates about and examples of reading African literature in all genres poetry fiction and drama including popular culture The anthology offers studies of African literature from interdisciplinary perspectives that employ sociological historical and ethnographic besides literary analysis of the literatures It has assembled critical and researched essays on a range of topics theoretical and empirical by renowned critics and theorists of African literature that evaluate and provide examples of reading African literature that should be of interest to academics researchers and students of African literature culture and history amongst other subjects Some of the essays examine authors that have received little or no attention to date in books on recent African literature These essays provide new insights and scholarship that should broaden and deepen our understanding and appreciation of African literature

The Oxford History of the Novel in English Simon Gikandi, 2016-09-05 Why did the novel take such a long time to emerge in the colonial world And what cultural work did it come to perform in societies where subjects were not free and modes of social organization diverged from the European cultural centers where the novel gained its form and audience Answering these questions and more Volume 11 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 explores the institutions of cultural production that exerted influence in late colonialism from missionary schools and metropolitan publishers to universities and small presses How these structures provoke and respond to the literary trends and social peculiarities of Africa and the Caribbean impacts not only the writing and reading of novels in those regions but also has a transformative effect on the novel as a global phenomenon Together the volume s 32 contributing experts tell a story about the close relationship between the novel and the project of decolonization and explore the multiple ways in which novels enable readers to imagine communities beyond their own and thus made this form of literature a compelling catalyst for cultural transformation The authors show that even as the novel grows in Africa and the Caribbean as a mark of the elites mastery of European form it becomes the essential instrument for critiquing colonialism and for articulating the new horizons of cultural nationalism Within this historical context the volume examines works by authors such as Chinua Achebe Nadine Gordimer George Lamming Jamaica Kincaid V S Naipaul Zoe Wicomb J M Coetzee and many others

Readings in African Popular Fiction Stephanie Newell, 2002 a useful introduction to an important field of African creative writing that has been invisible for the most part in North America and Europe Eileen Julien Readings in African Popular Fiction explores the social political and economic contexts of popular narratives by bringing together new and classic essays by important scholars in African literature and eight primary texts Excerpts from popular magazines cartoons novellas and moral and instructional pamphlets present African popular fiction from all areas of the continent Selections include essays on Hausa creative writing the influence of Indian film in Nigeria Onitsha market literature writing and popular culture in Cameroon Kenyan romances Swahili literature art and cartoons works by South African writers of the 1950s and popular crime thrillers in Malawi Stephanie Newell s introduction engages themes and trends in popular fiction in contemporary Africa Contributors are J C Anorue Misty Bastian Felicitas Becker Richard Bjornson William Burgess Michael Chapman Don Dodson Dorothy Driver Roger Field Bodil Folke Frederiksen Graham Furniss Raoul Granqvist Paul Gready Ime Ikiddeh J Roger Kurtz and Robert M Kurtz Alex La Guma Brian Larkin Bernth Lindfors Charles Mangua Gomolemo Mokae Ben R Mtobwa Njabulo Ndebele Nici Nelson Stephanie Newell Sarah Nuttall Donatus Nwoga Alain Ricard Lindy Stiebel and Balaraba Ramat Yakubu

The Rise of the African Novel Mukoma Wa Ngugi, 2018-03-27 The Rise of the African Novel is the first book to situate South African and African language literature of the late 1880s through the early 1940s in relation to the literature of decolonization that spanned the 1950s through the 1980s and the contemporary generation of established and emerging continental and diaspora African writers of international renown Calling it a major crisis in African literary criticism Mukoma Wa Ngugi considers key questions around the misreading of African literature Why did Chinua Achebe s generation privilege African literature in English despite the early South African example What are the costs of locating the start of Africa s literary tradition in the wrong literary and historical period What does it mean for the current generation of writers and scholars of African literature not to have an imaginative consciousness of their literary past While acknowledging the importance of Achebe s generation in the African literary tradition Mukoma Wa Ngugi challenges that narrowing of the identities and languages of the African novel and writer In restoring the missing foundational literary period to the African literary tradition he shows how early South African literature in both aesthetics and politics is in conversation with the literature of the African independence era and contemporary rooted transnational literatures This book will become a foundational text in African literary studies as it raises questions about the very nature of African literature and criticism It will be essential reading for scholars of African literary studies as well as general readers seeking a greater understanding of African literary history and the ways in which critical consensus can be manufactured and rewarded at the expense of a larger and historical literary tradition The Critical Imagination in African Literature Maik Nwosu,Obiwu,2015-06-09 In African studies the Echeruoan ideal is understood as an intervention or intellectual engagement characterized by a broadness of vision as well as a depth of analysis The essays gathered in this volume celebrate that ideal and honor Echeruo's contribution to the African intellectual tradition Editors Nwosu and Obiwu explore the driving forces in the literature of Africa and the African diaspora Contributors examine such themes as migration and exile trauma and repression violence and rebellion and gender and human rights Showcasing a rich diversity of cultural and academic backgrounds this volume inaugurates a new paradigm for further examination of African literature as world literature and for analysis of African literature through the lens of psychoanalytic semiotics While varied in modes of inquiry the essays are unified in their ambition to explore new theoretical directions reinvigorating the conversation around how African literature is read and studied Contemporary African Literature in English M. Krishnan,2014-03-20 Contemporary African Literature in English explores the contours of representation in contemporary Anglophone African literature drawing on a wide range of authors including Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Aminatta Forna Brian Chikwava Ngug wa Thiong'o Nuruddin Farah and Chris Abani

Ethics and Human Rights in Anglophone African Women's Literature Chielozone Eze, 2016-12-14 This book proposes feminist empathy as a model of interpretation in the works of contemporary Anglophone African women writers The African woman's body is often portrayed as having been disabled by the patriarchal and sexist structures of society Returning to their bodies as a point of reference rather than the postcolonial ideology of empire contemporary African women writers demand fairness and equality By showing how this literature deploys imaginative shifts in perspective with women experiencing unfairness injustice or oppression because of their gender Chielozone Eze argues that by considering feminist empathy discussions open up about how this literature directly addresses the systems that put them in disadvantaged positions This book therefore engages a new ethical and human rights awareness in African literary and cultural discourses highlighting the openness to reality that is compatible with African multi ethnic multi racial and increasingly cosmopolitan communities

The South African Bookman, 1909 The African Novel and the Modernist Tradition David I. Ker, 1998

The African Novel and the Modernist Tradition challenges from a literary perspective the general thinking that what is European and American is uniquely different from what is African The book examines key African novels side by side with British and American modernist novels Through this comparative study it demonstrates the manner in which several African novelists have taken full advantage of the experimentation that modernism offers to tackle their own crisis of culture This study shows that African novelists clearly understand what modernism is and employ to advantage its consciousness of disorder despair and anarchy The African Novel and the Modernist Tradition is thus able to conclude that the African novel is part of a larger fictional universe
