Ridgefield Chronicles Jack Sanders, 2014-10-21 Purchased from the Ramapoo Indians in 1708 Ridgefield welcomed immigrants to its bustling community from the start The peaceful Connecticut town later served as a retreat for wealthy New Yorkers With its long history and cast of local characters Ridgefield has many fascinating stories to tell In the early 1900s Typhoid Mary was known to cook for a Ridgefield family On Olmstead Lane the landmark that most locals think is a broken fountain is actually a watering trough For more than forty years newspaper editor Jack Sanders has covered the captivating history of Ridgefield In a uniquely selected collection of articles the town s history comes to life with tales of Pulitzer Prize winners like Eugene O Neill and disasters such as the 1905 train wreck These and other glimpses of the past celebrate Ridgefield s rich history

Redding Al M. Rocca, 2004 Pierson B Reading settled on a large land grant in Shasta County in the 1840s planting CaliforniaA a s first cotton and northern CaliforniaA a s first grapevines on his Rancho Buena Ventura which included the current town of Redding Although first nicknamed Poverty Flats by the early settlers the Southern Pacific Railroad chose this spot for its turnaround roundhouse in 1872 ignoring the neighboring mining boomtown of Shasta To honor a powerful Sacramento politician who acted as their general land agent the railroad named the new town Redding

Redding and Easton Daniel Cruson, 2000 This spectacular photographic history traces the parallel development of two two contiguous towns in southern Connecticut Redding and Easton Both towns were originally part of the Colonial town of Fairfield and developed as marginal farming communities Both towns experienced an incipient industrial revolution which never matured and both later became retreats for summer visitors and prominent literary figures In the years after World War II the two towns evolved into suburban communities Today they share not only a common history but also a regional high school Redding and Easton highlights each period in the development of the two towns The book emphasizes Georgetown which continued to be an industrial enclave long after other industry in the town died out It devotes a chapter to literary figures such as Mark Twain Edna Ferber and Ida Tarbell who migrated to these rural towns at the end of the nineteenth century and gave them the image of a rural literary retreat Redding and Easton recognizes the prominent citizens who created a summer colony that attracted the rich and famous from all over the Northeast The book also stresses the everyday events and special occasions that marked the nature of these towns in the twentieth century

Simcox,Douglas L. Heath,2011-04-04 Lake Quannapowitt is named for James Quonopohit a member of the Pawtucket tribe of Nipmuc Indians and signer of the 1686 deed selling land to European colonists A town called Redding now Wakefield developed on the shore of the lake that provided colonists with a bounty of fish including salmon and alewives until mills stopped their passage upstream The town remained rural until the Boston and Maine Railroad arrived in 1845 Overnight new markets became accessible and Lake Quannapowitt ice was exported to destinations worldwide Icehouses dominated the shoreline and stood side by side with boathouses and bathhouses Some in Wakefield remember the last days of ice harvesting although barely a trace of its existence remains More residents remember Hills Boathouse and Dance Hall where many a romance began For recent arrivals who walk and jog its idyllic 5 kilometer shore the lakes industrial and complex past will come as a surprise

Old Shasta ,2005 Shasta grew rapidly to be the Queen City of the Northern Mines after news of a second California gold strike reached the ears of fevered and footloose forty niners Miners swarmed into what became Shasta County stopping to rest at Reading Springs soon to be renamed Shasta A few more practical fortune seekers gained their wealth by supplying the gold hungry miners with the necessities of life Stages and wagons rumbled back and forth to Red Bluff on deeply rutted trails bringing supplies Frequent fires devastated early Shasta and fireproof brick structures rose from the ashes some of which still stand today Shasta was a thriving community in 1872 until the Central Pacific Railroad chose to bypass Shasta and build its terminus on a nearby site to be renamed Redding Shasta slowly dwindled to a ghost town its buildings vacant and crumbling by the 1920s With the help of descendants of pioneer families who teamed up with state officials to preserve the remaining structures Shasta State Historic Park opened to the public in 1950 Society for German-American Studies Newsletter ,2006 The Publisher ,1906 Images of America North Ogden Historical Museum,2010
