Why are Women Redundant? William Rathbone Greg, 1869      Redundant Women Angela Coyle, 1984 Looks at the experiences of women in two clothing factories in Yorkshire after their closure in December 1980      Redundant Women Angela Coyle, 1984 Looks at the experiences of women in two clothing factories in Yorkshire after their closure in December 1980      M. de Tocqueville. Why are women redundant? Truth versus edification. The doom of the negro race. Time. Good people. What is culpable luxury? The special beauty conferred by imperfection and decay. Why skilled workmen don't go to church. Life at high pressure William Rathbone Greg, 1877      The Odd Women George Gissing, 1998-02-23 George Gissing's The Odd Women dramatizes key issues relating to class and gender in late Victorian culture the changing relationship between the sexes the social impact of odd or redundant women the cultural impact of the new woman and the opportunities for and conditions of employment in the expanding service sector of the economy At the heart of these issues as many late Victorians saw them was a problem of the imbalance in the ratio of men to women in the population There were more females than males which meant that more and more women would be left unmarried they would be odd or redundant and would be forced to be independent and to find work to support themselves In the Broadview edition Gissing's text is carefully annotated and accompanied by a range of documents from the period that help to lay out the context in which the book was written In Gissing's story Virginia Madden and her two sisters are confronted upon the death of their father with sudden impoverishment Without training for employment and desperate to maintain middle class respectability they face a daunting struggle In Rhoda Nunn a strong feminist Gissing also presents a strong character who draws attention overtly to the issues behind the novel The Odd Women is one of the most important social novels of the late nineteenth century      Fallenness in Victorian Women's Writing Deborah Anna Logan, 1998 Logan's study is distinguished by its exclusive focus on women writers including Charlotte Bronte George Eliot Elizabeth Gaskell Harriet Martineau Elizabeth Barrett Browning Florence Nightingale Sarah Grand and Mary Prince Logan utilizes primary texts from these Victorian writers as well as contemporary critics such as Catherine Gallagher and Elaine Showalter to provide the background on social factors that contributed to the construction of fallen woman discourse      Odd women? Emma Liggins, 2016-05-16 This genealogy of the odd woman compares representations of spinsters lesbians and widows in British women's fiction and auto biography from the 1850s to the 1930s Women outside heterosexual marriage in this period were seen as abnormal superfluous incomplete and threatening yet were also hailed as women of the future Before 1850 odd women were marginalised minor characters in British women's fiction yet by the 1930s spinsters lesbians and widows had become heroines This book examines how women writers including Charlotte Brontë Elizabeth Gaskell Ella Hepworth Dixon May Sinclair E H Young Radclyffe Hall Winifred Holtby and Virginia Woolf challenged dominant perceptions of singleness and lesbianism in their novels stories and autobiographies Drawing on advice literature medical texts and feminist polemic it demonstrates how these narratives

China's Changing Welfare Mix Beatriz Carrillo, Jane Duckett, 2011-06-10 This book draws attention to two neglected areas in the growing body of research on welfare in China subnational variation and the changing mix of state and non state provision The contributors to this volume demonstrate the diversity of local welfare provision that lies behind broad national policies and programmes Their focus on local diversity is particularly relevant to understanding the welfare system in China because national state programmes are so often organized by local governments in line with the specifics of their economic and social development At the same time that social and economic development is itself independently creating an array of different conditions that shape non state family business and third sector welfare roles Through chapters that draw on original research in eight provinces the book adopts a local perspective to illustrate and explain some of the transformations that are under way and discuss not only local government initiatives and programmes but also the services and support provided by families informal social networks and community or third sector organizations as well as those delivered by private businesses on a commercial for profit basis This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese society social policy and Chinese studies more widely Beatriz Carrillo is Lecturer in Asian Studies at the University of Technology Sydney Australia Jane Duckett is Professor of Chinese and Comparative Politics at the University of Glasgow UK
