Reflections From A Western Window:

Reflections from a Western Window Gladys Worden Crum, 1994-08-01 Radiance and Reflection Jane Hayward, Walter Cahn, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1982 Reflection on the Death of a Porcupine D. H. Lawrence, 2019-02-20 This collection of essays by the author of Lady Chatterley's Lover presents his musings on literature, politics, and philosophy in a newly restored text. Though D. H. Lawrence was one of the great writers of the twentieth century, his works were severely corrupted by the stringent house styling of printers and the intrusive editing of timid publishers. A team of scholars at Cambridge University Press has worked for more than thirty years to restore the definitive texts of D. H. Lawrence in The Cambridge Editions. Between 1915 and 1925 D. H. Lawrence wrote a series of philosophical essays covering topics ranging from politics to nature and from religion to education. Varying in tone from lighthearted humor to spiritual meditation, they all share the underlying themes of Lawrence's mature work. Be thyself. As far as possible, the editors of the Cambridge Editions series have restored these essays to their original form as Lawrence wrote them. A discussion of the history of each essay is provided, and several incomplete and unpublished essays are reproduced in an appendix. Dark Places, Other Spaces Robert J. Scholes, 2002-07-21 Robert J. Scholes explores the spiritual side of life from the dark places of the minds of murderers to the wonders of the mystical experiences of common folk. Baltimore and Ohio Employees Magazine, 1919 Baltimore and Ohio Employees Magazine, 1919 The Astronomical Register, 1879 Revoked Vengeance J. E. Heard, 1884 The Architectural Review, 1900 Bojidar Spassov's Musical Creation as a Reflection of the Eastern and Western European Traditions Maria Kostakeva, 2024-07-11 Irony, a major aesthetic attitude in 20th century music, ceases to be irony if seriously discussed. I play with the myth, inventing it myself and using it only as an object of interpretation. This thought of the German-Bulgarian composer Bojidar Spassov sounds like a proclamation of the idea of postmodern irony that pervades all his work. Old and new times, cultural and national traditions, and archaic and modern sensibilities emerge like carnival masks through the ironic prism of his multifaceted music. The present book is the first monograph on this artist, a paradoxical multinational and multicultural phenomenon who developed in three geographical areas and three national cultures: Bulgarian where he grew up, Russian where his professional personality was formed, and Western European where he found his own way among the countless aesthetic and compositional trends. This is also the first attempt to shed some light on a culture that is little known to the English reader: the contemporary music of Bulgaria. Vision, Reflection, and Desire in Western Painting David Summers, 2015-12-01 Spanning more than 2,500 years in the history of art, Vision, Reflection, and Desire in Western Painting demonstrates how the rise and diffusion of the science of optics in ancient Greece and the Mediterranean world correlated to pictorial illusion in the development of Western painting from Hellenistic Greece to the present. Using examples from the late Middle Ages and the Renaissance, David Summers argues that scene painting, architectural backdrops, and shadow painting in which forms are modeled or shown as if in relation to a source of light not only evolved in close association with geometric optics toward the end of the fifth century B C E but also contributed substantially to the foundations of the new science The spread of understanding of how light is transmitted reflected and refracted is evident in the works of artists such as Brunelleschi van Eyck Alberti and Leonardo The interplay between optics and painting that influenced the course of Western art Summers says persisted as a framework for the realism of Caravaggio Rembrandt and Goya and continues today in modern photography and film Ralph's Possession. A Simple Record of how it was Given Him, and what He Did with it George HOPKINS (Author of "Ralph's Possession."),1873
