Digination Robert C. MacDougall, 2012 The shift from orality to literacy that began with the invention of the phonetic alphabet and which went into high gear with Gutenberg's printing press more than 500 years ago helped make the modern world Some commentators have argued that this shift from orality to literacy marked a much broader cultural shift of cataclysmic proportions Today with everything from e mail to blogs iPods and podcasts through Google Yahoo eBay and with cutting edge smart phones we find ourselves developing relationships with these newest communication tools that aren't simply allowing us to communicate faster farther and with more ease than ever before We aren't just moving around ideas data and information at unimaginable speed and scale Our interminglings and fusions with digital communication technologies are also altering both individual and group consciousness in fundamental ways how we form and sustain relationships how we think and perceive what it means to see and to feel We are remaking human identity once more and manufacturing a new kind of culture along the way The processes bound up in our digination may well be consequential to the trajectory of human evolution That time honored trope the notion that technology is not the problem rather it's how people use technology that's the problem is shown to be wanting Highlighting Marshall McLuhan's tetrads or laws of media as a primary tool of analysis R C MacDougall argues in line with other media ecologists that it's not so much how we use certain tools that matters it's that we use them More than any other technological form perhaps communication technologies play particularly powerful and systemic roles in our culture or any culture for that matter Late adopters and even abstainers are not exempt from the psychological social and cultural effects and side effects of modern digital communication technology While there are certainly varying degrees of immersion that is to say while some of us live in the high rise downtown district some at the city limits and still others out in the proverbial woods we all live in Digination today

Footpath My Ass! Terry Croteau, 2009-10-02 When Terry Croteau was twelve years old tromping around the woods on family outings looking under leaves for frogs and salamanders and relieving herself behind trees she had no idea she d end up spending over half year doing the same thing from Georgia to Maine in her fifties What causes a midlife baby boomer to leave her job sell the house farm out the furniture and cram all the leftovers in a ten by ten foot storage unit and carry thirty five plus pounds on her back over 2174 miles Well your guess is as good as mine but that s what she did Join Terry trail name Bluebird as she prepares then walks crawls trips and falls her way up the Appalachian Trail AT from Springer Mountain GA to Baxter Park s

Katahdin in ME Allow yourself the experience of hiking the AT by living vicariously through Bluebird's journal entries and reflections Experience the routine and the totally unexpected in the life of a long distance thru hiker Learn where a good sense of humor sweat tears and a Don't give up attitude might take you Realize how success can be measured more keenly by your attitude than by your accomplishments that believing in you is half the battle the other half is putting one foot in front of the other According to the Appalachian Trail Conservancy approximately 1 150 northbound thru hikers began their trek in 2006 GA to ME of the 1 150 hikers 659 individuals a little over half made it to Harpers Ferry W Va Bluebird was number 501 Maine's Katahdin greeted 30% of the original 1 150 hikers with a total of 349 completions in 2006 You will connect with some of those people in Terry's journal It doesn't matter if you're young old male or female you will appreciate what you find between the cover pages of this book The author reminds us that Life isn't over till your six foot under and if you're on this side of the dirt and breathing you're alive So for God sake and your own live

Picturing the Family Silke Arnold-de Simine, Joanne Leal, 2020-08-04 Whether pasted into an album framed or shared on social media the family photograph simultaneously offers a private and public insight into the identity and past of its subject Long considered a model for understanding individual identity the idea of the family has increasingly formed the basis for exploring collective pasts and cultural memory Picturing the Family investigates how visual representations of the family reveal both personal and shared histories evaluating the testimonial and social value of photography and film Combining academic and creative practice based approaches this collection of essays introduces a dialogue between scholars and artists working at the intersection between family memory and visual media Many of the authors are both researchers and practitioners whose chapters engage with their own work and that of others informed by critical frameworks From the act of revisiting old personal photographs to the sale of family albums through internet auction the twelve chapters each present a different collection of photographs or artwork as case studies for understanding how these visual representations of the family perform memory and identity Building on extensive research into family photographs and memory the book considers the implications of new cultural forms for how the family is perceived and how we relate to the past While focusing on the forms of visual representation above all photographs the authors also reflect on the contextualization and remediation of photography in albums films museums and online
