Theology and Reflective Practice Mark Pryce, 2019-03-13 This groundbreaking study offers an innovative critical analysis of poetry as a resource for reflective practice in the context of continuing professional development In the contemporary drive in all professions for greater rigour in education training and development little attention is paid to the inner shape of learning and meaning making for individuals and groups especially ways in which individuals are formed for the task of their work Building on empirical research into the author s professional practice the book takes the use of poetry in clergy continuing ministerial development as a case study to examine the value of poetry in professional learning Setting out the advantages and limitations of poetry as a stimulant for imaginative critical reflexivity and formation within professional reflective practice the study develops a practical model for group reflection around poetry distilling pedagogical approaches for working effectively with poetry in continuing professional development Drawing together a number of strands of thinking about poetry Practical Theology and reflective practice into a tightly argued study the book is an important methodological resource It makes available a range of primary and secondary sources offering researchers into professional practice a model of ethnographic research in Practical Theology which embraces innovative methods for reflexivity and theological reflection including the value of auto ethnographic poetry

Echoes and Reflections SunHee Kim Gertz, 2021-11-01 This study examines tales from The Metamorphoses by the Roman poet Ovid 43 BC 18 AD and from The Lais by the French poet Marie de France fl mid to late twelfth century to explore a paradox how can a vibrant complex and timeless vision be conveyed in convention informed and time bound language Marie plays against Ovid's tales to probe the dilemma thereby echoing Ovid who does the same to the canonical literary monuments of his day Both poets suggest that poetry can avoid the flattening effect of monumental canonizing not only by the creative use of literary echoes but also by shifting perspectives on the conventional which in turn can encourage readers to see reflections of many stories in any given tale Ovid and Marie suggest and encourage in this manner by presenting literary love's topoi and traditional lovers from a variety of metaliterary perspectives thereby eliciting active readerly memory as well as providing the opportunity to see the conventional afresh activity that allows even canonical texts to become living memorials
