Cultural Consumption, Classification and Power Alan Warde, 2013-10-18 When social scientists in the 1970s began to identify the positive and constructive role of cultural practices in the operation of power Pierre Bourdieu advanced a highly influential and subsequently controversial account Most notably in Distinction he charted the connections between cultural taste and practice and social classification This book seeks to evaluate develop and transcend the ideas that Bourdieu explored in Distinction Taken together the papers compare and contrast different theoretical and conceptual approaches bring empirical investigations to bear on relevant theoretical issues drawing on different national experiences France UK Canada Central Africa and attend to aspects of the relationship between culture and power with reference to gender and ethnicity as well as class Thus the book contributes to the on going international debates across the social sciences about Bourdieu's legacy and the current role of cultural practice in social reproduction      Unequal Networks Gwen van Eijk, 2010 Delft Centre for Sustainable Urban Areas carries out research in the field of the built environment and is one of the multidisciplinary research centres at TU Delft The Delft Research Centres bundle TU Delft's excellent research and provide integrated solutions for today's and tomorrow's problems in society OTB Research Institute for Housing Urban and Mobility Studies and the Faculties of Architecture Technology Policy and Management and Civil Engineering and Geosciences participate in this Delft Research Centre      Mediating Post-Socialist Femininities Nadia Kaneva, 2017-10-02 Twenty five years after the fall of the Berlin Wall this collection of essays examines the ways in which popular media re-construct ideas and ideals of femininity in the post socialist cultural space The authors explore a comprehensive range of questions including How have post socialist women engaged with media as media producers and consumers as well as objects of media representation What are the consequences of the commodification of femininity in the post socialist context How does the female body serve as a battleground for the enactment and renegotiation of gendered identities and ideologies How can we understand and theorize post socialist women's activist movements In seeking answers to such questions this volume highlights the need to reconsider feminism as a political and theoretical project with many faces It bridges research on the mediation of post socialist femininities with broader concerns about the transnational trajectories of feminism today This book was originally published as a special issue of Feminist Media Studies      Encyclopedia of Case Study Research Albert J. Mills, Gabrielle Durepos, Elden Wiebe, 2010 This is the authoritative reference work in the field An interdisciplinary set it investigates the extensive history design and methods of case study research      On Sociology Second Edition Volume Two John H. Goldthorpe, 2007 see copy for volume one      Tertullian the African David E. Wilhite, 2011-06-24 Who was Tertullian and what can we know about him This work explores his social identities focusing on his North African milieu

Theories from the discipline of social cultural anthropology including kinship class and ethnicity are accommodated and applied to selections of Tertullian's writings. In light of postcolonial concerns this study utilizes the categories of Roman colonizers indigenous Africans and new elites. The third category new elites is actually intended to destabilize the other two denying any essential Roman or African identity. Thereafter samples from Tertullian's writings serve to illustrate comparisons of his own identities and the identities of his rhetorical opponents. The overall study finds Tertullian's identities to be manifold complex and discursive. Additionally his writings are understood to reflect antagonism toward Romans including Christian Romans which is significant for his so called Montanism and Romanized Africans. While Tertullian accommodates much from Graeco Roman literature laws and customs he nevertheless retains a strongly stated non Roman-ness and an African-ity which is highlighted in the present monograph.

Social Stratification Dr Paul Lambert, Ms Roxanne Connelly, Professor Robert M Blackburn, Professor Vernon Gayle, 2013-02-28

Research into social stratification and social divisions has always been a central component of sociological study. This volume brings together a range of thematically organised case studies comprising empirical and methodological analyses addressing the challenges of studying trends and processes in social stratification. This collection has four themes. The first concerns the measurement of social stratification since the problem of relating concepts measurements and operationalizations continues to cause difficulties for sociological analysis. This book clarifies the appropriate deployment of existing measurement options and presents new empirical strategies of measurement and interpretation. The conception of the life course and individual social biography is very popular in modern sociology. The second theme of this volume exploits the contemporary expansion of micro level longitudinal data and the analytical approaches available to researchers to exploit such records. It comprises chapters which exemplify innovative empirical analysis of life course processes in a longitudinal context thus offering an advance on previous sociological accounts concerned with longitudinal trends and processes. The third theme of the book concerns the interrelationship between contemporary demographic institutional and socioeconomic transformations and structures of social inequality. Although the role of wider social changes is rarely neglected in sociological reviews such changes continue to raise analytical challenges for any assessment of empirical differences and trends. The fourth theme of the book discusses selected features of policy and political responses to social stratification. This volume will be of interest to students academics and policy experts working in the field of social stratification.

Inequality in Economics and Sociology Gilberto Antonelli, Boike Rehbein, 2017-07-06 Inequality remains one of the most intensely discussed topics on a global level As well as figuring prominently in economics it is possibly the most central topic of sociology Despite this there has been no book until now that unites approaches from economics and sociology Organized thematically this volume brings international scholars together to offer students and researchers a cutting edge overview of the core topics of inequality research Chapters cover the theoretical traditions in economics and sociology the global and national structures of inequality in the contemporary world the main dimensions of inequality including gender race caste migration education and poverty and research methodology In presenting this overview Inequality in Economics and Sociology seeks to build a bridge between the disciplines and the approaches This book offers an encompassing understanding of an increasingly fragmented and highly specialized field of research It will be invaluable for students and researchers seeking a single repository on the current state of knowledge current debates and relevant literature in this key area

Social Stratification in Central Mexico, 1500-2000 Hugo G. Nutini, Barry L. Isaac, 2010-01-01 In Aztec and colonial Central Mexico every individual was destined for lifelong placement in a legally defined social stratum or estate Social mobility became possible after independence from Spain in 1821 and increased after the 1910 1920 Revolution By 2000 the landed aristocracy that was for long Mexico's ruling class had been replaced by a plutocracy whose wealth derives from manufacturing commerce and finance but rapid growth of the urban lower classes reveals the failure of the Mexican Revolution and subsequent agrarian reform to produce a middle class majority These evolutionary changes in Mexico's class system form the subject of Social Stratification in Central Mexico 1500 2000 the first long term comprehensive overview of social stratification from the eve of the Spanish Conquest to the end of the twentieth century The book is divided into two parts Part One concerns the period from the Spanish Conquest of 1521 to the Revolution of 1910 The authors depict the main features of the estate system that existed both before and after the Spanish Conquest the nature of stratification on the haciendas that dominated the countryside for roughly four centuries and the importance of race and ethnicity in both the estate system and the class structures that accompanied and followed it Part Two portrays the class structure of the post revolutionary period 1920 onward emphasizing the demise of the landed aristocracy the formation of new upper and middle classes the explosive growth of the urban lower classes and the final phase of the Indian mestizo transition in the countryside
