Encyclopedia of Gender and Society Jodi O'Brien,2009 Provides timely comparative analysis from internationally known contributors

All That Hollywood Allows Jackie Byars,2000-11-09 All That Hollywood Allows explores the representation of gender in popular Hollywood melodramas of the 1950s the last decade in which film enjoyed a pivotal cultural position Both a work of feminist film criticism and theory and an analysis of popular culture this provocative book examines from a cultural studies perspective the top grossing film melodramas of that decade including A Streetcar Named Desire From Here to Eternity East of Eden Imitation of Life and Picnic Stereotypically viewed as a complacent and idyllic time the 1950s were actually a period of dislocation and great social change as Americans struggled to regain their equilibrium in the wake of World War II Jackie Byars argues that mass media texts of the period especially films provide evidence of society's consuming preoccupation with the domestic sphere the nuclear family and its values The melodramas included in her study appeared in theaters just as women were leaving their homes for the workplace Some films challenged and some reinforced previously sacrosanct gender roles Byars shows how Hollywood melodramas participated in interpreted and extended societal debates concerning family structure sexual divisions of labor and gender roles Byars's readings of these films assess a variety of critical methodologies and approaches to textual analysis some central to feminist film studies and some that previously have been bypassed by scholars in the field She specifically questions the validity of readings grounded solely on the premises of psychoanalysis arguing that the male norm inherent in the psychoanalytic viewpoint may well prevent us from hearing let alone understanding the female voices that make their way into the most patriarchal of films Byars thus critiques earlier approaches to the study of women's films and offers fresh readings emphasizing from several important perspectives the suppressed female voice

Heartland TV Victoria E. Johnson,2008-01-01 Winner of the 2009 Society for Cinema and Media Studies Katherine Singer Kovacs Book Award The Midwest of popular imagination is a Heartland characterized by traditional cultural values and mass market dispositions Whether cast positively as authentic pastoral populist hardworking and all American or negatively as backward narrow minded unsophisticated conservative and out of touch the myth of the Heartland endures Heartland TV examines the centrality of this myth to television s promotion and development programming and marketing appeals and public debates over the medium s and its audience s cultural worth Victoria E Johnson investigates how the square image of the heartland has been ritually recuperated on prime time television from The Lawrence Welk Show in the 1950s to documentary specials in the 1960s to The Mary Tyler Moore Show in the 1970s to Ellen in the 1990s She also examines news specials on the Oklahoma City bombing to reveal how that city has been inscribed as the epitome of a timeless pastoral heartland and concludes with an analysis of network branding practices and appeals to an imagined red state audience Johnson argues that non white queer and urban culture is consistently erased from depictions of the Midwest in order to reinforce its reassuring image as white and straight Through analyses of policy industry discourse and case studies of specific shows Heartland TV exposes the cultural function of the Midwest as a site of national transference and disavowal with regard to race sexuality and citizenship ideals

John Lennon Imagined Janne Mäkelä, 2004 Considered one of the most innovative artists in the history of popular music John Lennon is also a fascinating example of the relationship between rock music and celebrity Through investigation of the cultural and historical background of his stardom in England and the United States this book explores why John Lennon became a much debated celebrity and why he remains so Lennon s career from the 1960s until his tragic death in 1980 and even beyond demonstrates how different expectations articulated by the star the music industry the media and the fans form relations which change in terms of time and place Using a multidisciplinary approach and intriguing case studies this book also examines cultural identity authenticity and gender in popular music stardom

China with a Cut Jeroen de Kloet, 2010 Jeroen de Kloet is assistant professor at the Department of Media Studies of the University of Amsterdam The Netherlands

The Routledge Handbook to Sociology of Music Education Ruth Wright, Geir Johansen, Panagiotis A. Kanellopoulos, Patrick Schmidt, 2021-03-29 The Routledge Handbook to Sociology of Music Education is a comprehensive authoritative and state of the art review of current research in the field The opening introduction orients the reader to the field highlights recent developments and draws together concepts and research methods to be covered The chapters that follow are written by respected experienced experts on key issues in their area of specialisation From separate beginnings in the United States Europe and the United Kingdom in the mid twentieth century the field of the sociology of music education has and continues to experience rapid and global development It could be argued that this Handbook marks its coming of age The Handbook is dedicated to the exclusive and explicit application of sociological constructs and theories to issues such as globalisation immigration post colonialism inter generational musicking socialisation inclusion exclusion hegemony symbolic violence and popular culture Contexts range from formal compulsory schooling to non formal communal environments to informal music making and listening The Handbook is aimed at graduate students researchers and professionals but will also be a useful text for undergraduate students in music education and cultural studies Cultural Studies of Transnationalism Handel Kashope Wright, Meaghan Morris, 2013-09-13 This book asks what transnationalism might mean for Cultural Studies as an intellectual project shaped in vastly differing circumstances across the world With contributions from scholars with experience of cultural life and the work of education in various regions countries and locales from francophone Africa Eastern Europe and the Middle East to Hawaii Jamaica South Korea and Japan Cultural Studies of Transnationalism ranges across literary film dance theatrical and translation studies to explore the socially material and institutional factors that not only shape transnational developments in culture broadly understood but also frame the academic and professional spaces in which we reflect on these This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Cultural Studies Race, Gender, and Sexuality in Post-Apocalyptic TV and Film Barbara Gurr, 2015-10-07 This book offers analyses of the roles of race gender and sexuality in the post apocalyptic visions of early twenty first century film and television shows Contributors examine the production reproduction and re imagination of some of our most deeply held human ideals through sociological anthropological historical and feminist approaches Postmodern Texts and Emotional Audiences Kimberly Chabot Davis, 2007 Analyzes contemporary texts that bond together two seemingly antithetical sensibilities the sentimental and the postmodern This book presents case studies of audience responses to The Piano Kiss of the Spider Woman and Northern Exposure It argues that sentimental postmodernism deepened leftist political engagement

In the Peanut Gallery with Mystery Science Theater 3000 Robert G. Weiner, Shelley E. Barba, 2014-01-10 The award winning television series Mystery Science Theater 3000 1988 1999 has been described as the smartest funniest show in America and forever changed the way we watch movies The series featured a human host and a pair of robotic puppets who while being subjected to some of the worst films ever made provided ongoing hilarious and insightful commentary in a style popularly known as riffing These essays represent the first full length scholarly analysis of Mystery Science Theater 3000 MST3K which blossomed from humble beginnings as a Minnesota public access television show into a cultural phenomenon on two major cable networks The book includes interviews with series creator Joel Hodgson and cast members Kevin Murphy and Trace Beaulieu Women Negotiating Feminism and Science Fiction Fandom Neta Yodovich, 2022-08-03 This book follows the ways in which women negotiate and navigate between their feminist identities and their belonging to science fiction fandoms that at times disregard or dismiss them It explores frictions and discords including those between feminist women fans and other members in their communities and between the fan and the object of her fandom This book examines the intersection of fandom and feminism through the lenses of gender ethnicity and age and provides an in depth and intersectional perspective on fan communities and the layered discrimination and marginalization enfolded in them Based on 40 in depth interviews with women fans of Star Wars and Doctor Who this book highlights the different aspects of a feminist woman fan s identity becoming being belonging representing and reconciling Each chapter in this book unravels the complexity ambivalence and contradictions between feminism and fandom and reveals the tactics women develop to overcome and harmonize them
