Hegel and the Third World Teshale Tibebu, 2011-02-02 Hegel more than any other modern Western philosopher produced the most systematic case for the superiority of Western white Protestant bourgeois modernity He established a racially structured ladder of gradation of the peoples of the world putting Germanic people at the top of the racial pyramid people of Asia in the middle and Africans and Indigenous people of the Americas and Pacific Islands at the bottom In Hegel and the Third World Tibebu guides the reader through Hegel's presentation on universalism to argue that such a classification flows in part from Hegel's philosophy of the development of human consciousness Hegel classified Africans as people arrested at the lowest and most immediate stage of consciousness that of the senses Asians as people with divided consciousness that of the understanding and Europeans as people of reason Tibebu demonstrates that Hegel's views were not his alone but reflected the fundamental beliefs of other major figures of Western thought at the time With detailed analysis and thorough research Hegel and the Third World challenges the central idea of Hegel s philosophy of history progress In addition Tibebe succeeds in providing a fascinating critique of the Western philosopher s rationalization of the gradual decline suffered by the people of the Third World in the context of modern world history Window on Freedom Brenda Gayle Plummer,2003 Demonstrates how US foreign policy has been embedded in social economic and cultural factors of domestic and foreign origin It argues that the campaign to realize full civil rights for racial and ethnic minorities in the US is best understood in the context of competitive international relations African Football, Identity Politics and Global Media Narratives Tendai Chari,Nhamo A.
