

become a major showcase of modern Islamic architecture. The annual festival of Data Ganj Bakhsh in Lahore, celebrated on his death-anniversary with the support of Pakistan's Ministry of Charitable Trusts, attracts hundreds of thousands of devotees. Politicians, understanding the popular appeal of the saint, have been eager to associate themselves with him; for instance, when Benazir Bhutto returned to Pakistan from exile in 1986, her cavalcade headed directly from the airport to Data Durbar, the "court" where this spiritual ruler of Pakistan presides.

Our interest in Shaykh Hujwiri, or Data Sahib, is principally in his book on Sufism. Kashf al-mahjub was the first comprehensive text written in Persian about Sufism, at a time when Arabic was still the dominant language for the expression of Islamic religious thought. Prior to Shaykh Hujwiri, masters such as Abu Nasr al-Sarraj and Abu Talib al-Makki had written famous Arabic treatises on Sufi thought and practice in terms of the standard religious sciences. But Shaykh Hujwiri, who was also known for his Persian poetry, effectively used the elegant and courtly Persian of the Samanid style to convey his message. Kashf al-mahjub was a model for the great Sufi biographer Farid al-Din 'Attar (d. ca. 1220) when he wrote his Memorial of the Saints. The Mughal prince Dara Shikuh wrote in the seventeenth century that none could challenge the fame and greatness of Kashf al-mahjub, for it was written from the perspective of the perfect teacher, and it had no equal on the subject of Sufism in the Persian language. 'Ali Qawim, the editor of the edition published by the Iran-Pakistan Center for Persian Studies in 1978, observed that this book is unparalleled in the beauty of its learned composition, in its attractive literary style, and in its avoidance of unpleasant and jarring expressions. It is worth mentioning that the superb library of the Iran-Pakistan Center for Persian Studies in Islamabad, which contains over 15,000 Persian manuscripts, was named the Ganj Bakhsh Library in honor of Shaykh Hujwiri.

Written at the request of a fellow Sufi from his hometown of Hujwir, Kashf al-mahjub is not simply a literary production. It

Comparative Mysticism Steven T. Katz, 2013 This collection of primary texts introduces readers to the mystical literature of the world's great religious traditions Beginning with an introduction by Steven T Katz a leading scholar of mysticism the anthology comprises poetry prayer narrative and other writings from Jewish Christian Muslim Hindu Buddhist Taoist Confucianist and Native American traditions This collection provides readers not only with the primary mystical texts from each religious tradition but with an explanation of the context of the source and tradition Comparative Mysticism shows how the great mystical traditions of the world are deeply rooted in the religious traditions from which they originated The contextual methodological approach taken throughout the anthology also addresses the critical question of what these mystical traditions at their highest level have in common Despite the prevailing view that mystical traditions throughout the world are essentially similar the presentation of the sources in this volume suggests that in fact the various traditions have distinct teachings and different metaphysical goals The writings collected in Comparative Mysticism address the most fundamental and important methodological epistemological and hermeneutical questions regarding the study and interpretation of mysticism and mystical sources across cultures This anthology will be an invaluable resource to students and scholars of mystic tradition for years to come

The Mystery of Christ in the Revelation Ted Byler, 2006-01-01 A verse by verse commentary on the book of Revelation that is especially useful for group study and personal devotionals Book of Revelation - A Mystery Solved Gerry Fox, 2019-03-18 I have told you these things before they happen so that when they do happen you will believe John 14:29 One of the glorious things about the Bible is how it provides a foreknowledge of future events This is especially the case with the birth and life of our Lord and Savior Christ Jesus He is without question the Messiah that was promised to us and though at his coming He did not set up an earthly kingdom at that time He nevertheless promised that day would arrive In relation to this He left us with many events to be on the lookout for which would herald this arrival His apostles Matthew Mark Luke and John thankfully passed down to us those words of warning No words or book fully encompasses everything that we need to know than his own Revelation which He passed to His most beloved apostle and friend St John on the island of Patmos Of course it goes without saying that such a book remained mostly hidden from mankind s understanding but again a promise was given that the time would arrive when it would be unsealed and explained What you are therefore holding in your hands could very well be it Come along with the writer on a journey of discovery that will leave you amazed at a prophecy that not only explains the present but more so our future More importantly you will learn about the Kingdom of God as foretold by the Lord and Savior Christ Jesus The promise of the ages may be about to arrive See for yourself
