Revelation And Reconciliation A Window On Modernity:

Revelation and Reconciliation Stephen N. Williams, 1995 Professor Williams's book addresses the turn against Christianity in the West. The author challenges some contemporary theologians who focus on epistemological objections to revelation and argues for the need to focus instead on anthropological objections to reconciliation. Discussing Locke, Nietzsche, and Barth's characterisation of the eighteenth century as absolutist, Williams demonstrates the sensibility which found repugnant the notion of a divine reconciling action through Christ in history as does the modern Williams. He shows that the driving force behind Nietzsche and Don Cupitt alike is a rejection of the Christian view of humanity and redemption. Revelation and Reconciliation concludes that either we have refuge in Christ or no refuge at all but that we have no refuge in Christ without the crucifixion. Revelation and Reconciliation, 2021-02-25 This substantially revised second edition of Revelation and Reconciliation first published by Cambridge University Press in 1995 gives a fresh account of the intellectual breakdown of Christianity in the West. In contrast to the familiar focus on epistemological questions and the collision between reason and revelation, Stephen Williams argues that underlying this collision is a deeper conflict between belief in human moral self-sufficiency and Christian belief in reconciliation in history. Taking issue with thinkers including the philosopher of science Michael Polanyi and the theologian Colin Gunton, the argument proceeds by examining the contributions of Descartes, Locke, Barth, and Nietzsche before coming to conclusions on the theological reading of intellectual history and the prospects of revitalising a contemporary Christian belief in reconciliation in history. Students of both theology and the history of modern thought will find in Williams' analysis an alternative interpretation of the balance of forces in post-Reformation Western thought with implications for how they should be addressed. Barth's Theology of Interpretation Donald Wood, 2016-04-08 Through his single-minded insistence on the priority of the Bible in the life of the church, Karl Barth (1886-1968) decisively shaped the course of twentieth-century Christian theology. Drawing on both familiar texts and recently published archival material, Barth's Theology of Interpretation sheds new light on Barth's account of just what it is that scripture gives and requires. In tracing the movement of Barth's earlier thinking about scriptural reading, the book also raises important questions about the ways in which Barth can continue to influence contemporary discussions about the theological interpretation of scripture. The Many and the One Yonghua Ge, 2021-05-03 How God relates to the world lies at the heart of the most intense debates in modern theology and philosophy. Movements of Nouvelle Théologie, process theology, radical orthodoxy, modern Trinitarian theology, and postmodern theology (i.e. Jean-Luc Marion) all seek to reconsider God's relation to the world as a corrective of what they perceive as problematic. Of particular significance is the recent revival of the theology of participation as promoted by Radical Orthodoxy in the UK and Hans Boersma in North America. Facing excessive secularism and fragmentation of the modern Western world, Radical Orthodoxy and Boersma resort to the pre-modern theology of participation as the way forward. Relying heavily on Platonism, however, their participatory theology, as critics pointed out, tends to compromise the intrinsic goodness of the creation In this book Ge proposes that a distinctively Christian theology of participation anchored in creatio ex nihilo developed by Augustine and brought to the fore by Aquinas provides a more promising solution which not only secures the unity of things in God but also the goodness of creaturely plurality Since participation in its origin is a solution to the problem of the One and the Many Ge employs Gunton's framework of the one and the many in his discussion of Augustine and Aquinas's theologies of participation By reshaping their concepts of participation in the light of the doctrine of creation Ge argues these thinkers have profoundly transformed the metaphysics of participation making it finally more suitable for describing the unique relationship between God's unity and creaturely plurality This Christian metaphysics of participation is not only an advance on Radical Orthodoxy and Boersma but also superior to competing theories of reality such as pluralism and reductionist physicalism The book will also bring out implications for modern science religion dialogues the core of which concerns how God relates to the world Theology in Missionary Perspective Mark T. B. Laing, Paul Weston, 2012-10-24 Lesslie Newbigin was one of the most significant missionary strategists and theologians of the twentieth century With the breakdown of confidence in some of the central philosophical and theological paradigms that have been shaped and sustained by the culture of modernity Newbigin's approach to a genuinely missionary theology offers fresh insights and approaches providing something of a prophetic model for the global Christian community in new and challenging times In this collection of essays scholars and practitioners from around the world engage with aspects of Newbigin's continuing legacy They explore Newbigin's approach to theological method his theological and philosophical account of Western culture in the light of the gospel and some of the implications of his thought for global mission in the third millennium This collection is essential reading not just for Newbigin enthusiasts but also for all who are concerned to develop a genuinely missionary encounter with contemporary culture Contributors Ian Barns John G Flett Michael W Goheen Kenneth D Gordon Eleanor Jackson Veli Matti Karkkainen David J Kettle J Andrew Kirk Mark Laing Murray Rae Jurgen Schuster Wilbert Shenk Jenny Taylor Geoffrey Wainwright Ng Kam Weng and Paul Weston

Redeeming Nietzsche Giles Fraser, 2013-02-01 Best known for having declared the death of God Nietzsche was a thinker thoroughly absorbed in the Christian tradition in which he was born and raised Yet while the atheist Nietzsche is well known the pious Nietzsche is seldom recognized and rarely understood Redeeming Nietzsche examines the residual theologian in the most vociferous of atheists Giles Fraser demonstrates that although Nietzsche rejected God he remained obsessed with the question of human salvation Examining his accounts of art truth morality and eternity Nietzsche's thought is revealed to be Colin Gunton and the Failure of Augustine Bradley G Green, 2012-01-26 The British systematic theologian Colin Gunton argued that Augustine bequeathed to the West a theological tradition with serious deficiencies According to Gunton Augustine's particular construal of the doctrine of God led to fundamental errors and problems in grasping the relationship between creation and redemption and in rightfully construing a truly Christian ontology In Colin Gunton and the Failure of Augustine Bradley G Green's close reading of Augustine challenges Gunton's understanding. Gunton argued that Augustine's supposed emphasis of the one over the many severed any meaningful link between creation and redemption contra the theological insights of Irenaeus and furthermore that because of Augustine's supposed emphasis on the timeless essence of God at the expense of the three real persons he failed to forge a truly Christian ontology effectively losing the insights of the Cappadocian Fathers. For all of Gunton's many insights Green argues that on the contrary Augustine did not sever the link between creation and redemption but rather affirmed that the created order is a means of genuine knowledge of God that the created order is indeed the only means by which redemption is accomplished that the cross of Christ is the only means by which we can see God and that the created order is fundamentally oriented toward a telos redemption. Concerning ontology Augustine's teaching on the imago Dei and the prominent role that relationship plays in Augustine's doctrines of man and God provides the kind of relational Christian ontology that Gunton sought. In short Green argues Augustine could have provided Gunton key theological resources in countering the modernity he so rightfully challenged.

Christian Apologetics as Cross-Cultural Dialogue Benno van den Toren, 2011-10-27 A call for a new understanding of apologetics moving away from appeals to trans-cultural rationality arguing for a new form of cross-cultural dialogue.

Heidegger's Phenomenology of Religion Benjamin D. Crowe, 2007-11-21 Throughout his long and controversial career Martin Heidegger developed a substantial contribution to the phenomenology of religion. In Heidegger's Phenomenology of Religion Benjamin D. Crowe examines the key concepts and developmental phases that characterized Heidegger's work. Crowe shows that Heidegger's account of the meaning and structure of religious life belongs to his larger project of exposing and criticizing the fundamental assumptions of late modern culture. He reveals Heidegger as a realist through careful readings of his views on religious attitudes and activities. Crowe challenges interpretations of Heidegger's early efforts in the phenomenology of religion and later writings on religion including discussions of Greek religion and Hölderlin's poetry. This book is sure to spark discussion and debate as Heidegger's work in religion and the philosophy of religion becomes increasingly important to scholars and beyond.

Critical Essays on Edward Schillebeeckx's Theology Cornelius C. Simut, 2010-02-18 This book presents the main teachings of Edward Schillebeeckx widely considered one of the most important Catholic thinkers of the twentieth century. Schillebeeckx is known for his radical departure from traditional theology which he saw as no longer relevant to the modern world. Because today's world has been shaped by a process of secularization heavily based on reason and progress in science technology economics urbanism etc modern people seek relevant answers to their deep existential questions that can be explained rationally. In his quest to foster relevant and meaningful answers for today's world Schillebeeckx changed the traditional metaphysical content of Christian theology into explanations that radically reinterpret traditional Christian doctrines. Primarily the supernatural essence of Christianity is given up as irrelevant and is replaced by a natural perspective on the world. In Schillebeeckx's thoroughly historical and truly immanent theology God is man's terrestrial future Christ the symbol of universal human values and the Church is identified with the world as those communities which share these universal human values Schillebeeckx is convinced that these explanations emptied of metaphysical content can help today's people understand their existence in a new relevant and meaningful way
