Revolution in clay Mary Davis McNaughton, 1997 American Studio Ceramics Martha Drexler Lynn, 2015-01-01 A landmark survey of the formative years of American studio ceramics and the constellation of people institutions and events that propelled it from craft to fine art Fire Craft Erin E. O'Connor, 2025-08-12 Glassblowing by hand might seem like a dying art yet it is thriving Studios and universities offer popular classes and glass art is widely exhibited and sold Amateur and professional glassblowers alike are captivated by the choreography of fire smoke and molten material Why are people drawn to this ancient craft What is distinctive about the social physical and intellectual experience of glassblowing How does the body learn an art In Fire Craft Erin E O Connor interweaves an immersive firsthand account of her experiences learning to blow glass with a sensuous ethnography of embodiment and community among glassblowers Through compelling stories such as her struggle to produce an elegant goblet she shows how a novice becomes hooked by and committed to a craft Reflecting on embodied knowledge O Connor considers how we negotiate mistakes and failures how we strive to develop proficiency in the face of shortcomings and how through making objects we make meaning She also explores the history of glassblowing and how various social environmental and knowledge frameworks shape the valorization of craft From the furnaces of empire to the hot bodies of collaboration and love O Connor reveals the interconnectedness of the body with the elemental world A gripping tale of the social world and experience of glassblowing Fire Craft passionately defends practical labor as intellectual work that changes self and society Live Form Jenni Sorkin, 2016-07-26 Ceramics had a far reaching impact in the second half of the twentieth century as its artists worked through the same ideas regarding abstraction and form as those for other creative mediums Live Form shines new light on the relation of ceramics to the artistic avant garde by looking at the central role of women in the field potters who popularized ceramics as they worked with or taught male counterparts like John Cage Peter Voulkos and Ken Price Sorkin focuses on three Americans who promoted ceramics as an advanced artistic medium Marguerite Wildenhain a Bauhaus trained potter and writer Mary Caroline M C Richards who renounced formalism at Black Mountain College to pursue new performative methods and Susan Peterson best known for her live throwing demonstrations on public television Together these women pioneered a hands on teaching style and led educational and therapeutic activities for war veterans students the elderly and many others Far from being an isolated field ceramics offered a sense of community and social engagement which Sorkin argues crucially set the stage for later participatory forms of art and feminist collectivism Annual Report National Endowment for the Arts, Reports for 1980 19
