The Companion to Southern Literature Joseph M. Flora, Lucinda Hardwick MacKethan, 2001-11-01 Selected as an Outstanding Academic Title by Choice Selected as an Outstanding Reference Source by the Reference and User Services Association of the American Library Association There are many anthologies of southern literature but this is the first companion Neither a survey of masterpieces nor a biographical sourcebook The Companion to Southern Literature treats every conceivable topic found in southern writing from the pre Columbian era to the present referencing specific works of all periods and genres Top scholars in their fields offer original definitions and examples of the concepts they know best identifying the themes burning issues historical personalities beloved icons and common or uncommon stereotypes that have shaped the most significant regional literature in memory Read the copious offerings straight through in alphabetical order Ancestor Worship Blue Collar Literature Caves or skip randomly at whim Guilt The Grotesque William Jefferson Clinton Whatever approach you take The Companion's authority scope and variety in tone and interpretation will prove a boon and a delight Explored here are literary embodiments of the Old South New South Solid South Savage South Lazy South and Sahara of the Bozart As up to date as grit lit K Mart fiction and postmodernism and as old fashioned as Puritanism mules and the tall tale these five hundred entries span a reach from Lady to Lesbian Literature The volume includes an overview of every southern state's belletristic heritage while making it clear that the southern mind extends beyond geographical boundaries to form an essential component of the American psyche The South's lavishly rich literature provides the best means of understanding the region's deepest nature and The Companion to Southern Literature will be an invaluable tool for those who take on that exciting challenge. Description of Contents 500 lively succinct articles on topics ranging from Abolition to Yoknapatawpha 250 contributors including scholars writers and poets 2 tables of contents alphabetical and subject and a complete index A separate bibliography for most entries

The Garden Squares of Boston Phebe S. Goodman, 2003 Of the many types of historic landscapes that have become treasured open spaces in North America's dense urban fabric the garden or residential square largely has been overlooked Yet the garden square played an important role in the planning of Philadelphia Savannah Boston and New York several of America's major early cities Boston's garden squares most closely resemble the squares of London in purpose and appearance Intended as speculative real estate ventures the London garden squares were distinguished by row houses and ornamental iron fences enclosing gardens planted with trees and grass The gardens served as welcome patches of greenery for affluent residents who chose to live in relatively cramped quarters within the city As such gardens were the raison d'être for this early form of urban design Although garden squares pre-date well documented municipal parks the historical significance of these squares is not fully understood In this remarkable book Goodman tells the story of Boston's garden squares and offers her readers a fascinating glimpse of early urban planning Goodman traces Charles Bulfinch's connection with these historic landscapes and compares them to their London prototypes While Bostonians and others are familiar with Boston's iconic Louisburg Square on Beacon Hill few people know that Boston's South End neighborhood boasts a group of eight garden squares After discussing London squares and their effect on urban planning in several eastern seaboard cities Goodman turns to Boston's three privately developed garden squares all of which were located close to the original center of the city She pays special attention to Louisburg Square the only one that has survived Focusing on the characteristic landscape features that define the gardens Goodman also showcases the five of the eight publicly developed garden squares of the South End Blackstone Square Franklin Square Chester Square Union Park and Worcester Square Concluding with a chapter on the evolution and preservation of the garden squares of the South End Goodman discusses private versus public ownership and access maintenance and preservation treatments issues that provide practical information helpful in the management of historical as well as contemporary landscapes She urges a combined effort of neighborhood groups and the public sector to maintain these squares Otherwise she warns the future of these historic garden squares will be in jeopardy

The Georgia Catalog, Historic American Buildings Survey John Linley, 1982 From the elegant townhouses of Savannah to the towering hotel and office complexes of Atlanta the state of Georgia has a distinguished architectural tradition No other work documents this rich heritage as comprehensively as The Georgia Catalog Prepared under the auspices of the Historic American Buildings Survey this carefully researched and beautifully illustrated volume will be an invaluable resource for architects preservationists historians and those who own the historic houses or who simply are interested in Georgia's architectural legacy The book is in two parts The first is a history of and guide to the architecture of the state John Linley begins his survey with the remains of prehistoric civilization and the architecture of the first European settlers He traces the development of a native architecture in the state the flowering of the Greek Revival style the functional architecture of commerce and industry and the energy and imagination of urban architecture in the late twentieth century The text reflects the author's interest in the rationale and logic that produced the architecture and in the lessons that the past has for the present and the future He also emphasizes the influence of climate ecology landscape and city planning on both historic and contemporary architecture The second section of The Georgia Catalog is a complete updated listing of nearly four hundred sites in the Historic American Buildings Survey Each entry gives the precise location of the site a brief description of the structure the date of construction and the name of the architect if known changes in name structure or location of the building its present condition any facts of historical significance and the number and dates of drawings photographs and data sheets in the HABS collection at the Library of Congress To add to its value as a guide the volume also includes a glossary of architectural terms and a list of Georgia properties that are included in the National Register of Historic Places have been designated National Landmarks or are part of the Historic American Engineering Record

The Pedestrian and the City Carmen Hass-Klau, 2014-11-27 The Pedestrian and the City provides an overview and insight into the development politics and policies on walking and pedestrians it includes the evolution of pedestrian friendly housing estates in the 19th century up to the present day Key issues addressed include the struggle of pedestrianization in town centers the attempts to create independent pedestrian footpaths and the popularity of traffic calming as a powerful policy for reducing pedestrian accidents Hass Klau also covers the wider aspects of urban and transport planning especially public transport essential for promoting a pedestrian friendly environment The book includes pedestrian friendly policies and guidelines from a number of European countries and includes case studies from the UK Germany Britain France Spain Italy the Netherlands Denmark the US and Canada with further examples from ten additional countries It also contains a unique collection of original photographs including before and after photos of newly introduced pedestrian friendly transport policies As the pedestrian environment has become ever more crucial for the future of our cities the book will be invaluable to students and practicing planners geographers transport engineers and local government officers
