Still Straight Tony Silva, 2021-03-23 Why some straight men have sex with other men Why do some straight men in rural America have sex with other men In Still Straight Tony Silva convincingly argues that these men many of whom enjoy hunting fishing and shooting guns are not gay bisexual or just experimenting As he shows these men can enjoy a range of relationships with other men from hookups to sexual friendships to secretive loving partnerships all while strongly identifying with straight culture Drawing on riveting interviews with straight white men who live in rural America Silva explores the fascinating and unexpected disconnect between sexual behavior and identity Some use sex with men to bond with other men in an acceptably masculine way some are not particularly attracted to men but are wary of emotional attachment with women and others view sex with men as opposed to women as a more acceptable form of extramarital sexual behavior Taking us inside the lives of straight white men who have sex with other men Still Straight shows us that heterosexuality in rural America is not always in fact what it seems Transactions of the Institution of

Form as Compensation for Life Oddvar Holmesland, 1998 Stylistic study of Virginia Woolf's fiction Reading a novel by Virginia Woolf involves an element of double reflexivity first the reader's interaction with Woolf's words and what they describe and second the interaction of these words with the world Woolf perceived and attempted to represent Oddvar Holmesland takes this paradox and shows that it is not the invention of recent critics but something of which Woolf herself is well aware In a number of analyses of Woolf's major works Mrs Dalloway To the Lighthouse The Waves he explores the ambiguity that Woolf's reader must work through in order to reach the insights and rewards that her fiction offers Professor ODDVAR HOLMESLAND is Professor of English at the University of Tromsø Norway
